Abolishes Chamber of Deputies.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

ROME, March 23.—Sweeping constitutional, economic, and social reforms in "preparation for an inevitable war" were announced today—the seventeenth anniversary of Fascism—by Premier Mussolini in a speech delivered to a general meeting of the twenty-two corporations of the Fascist state. The reforms include:

1. Suppression of the chamber of deputies and its replacement by a national "chamber of Fascists and corporations."
2. Nationalization of large private industries.
3. Measures to attain the greatest possible degree of economic independence.
4. The disciplining of every branch of national activity.
5. Inauguration of a régime of "higher social justice" based on the idea that workers be considered as collaborators of capital with equal rights and duties.

Aims at War Profits.

All these reforms, Mussolini said, are necessary to prepare the Italian economy to face the supreme test of war, which is surely coming—"nobody can say when or how, but the wheel of destiny turns fast. . . . How else could one explain the policy of formidable armaments inaugurated by all nations?"

Medium and small private industries were left untouched, but Il Duce said "We are going toward the period" in which large private industries organized as "key industries" will have to labor exclusively, or almost so, for the armed forces of the nation." He explained it was inconceivable that profits should be permitted to be made from the manufacture of war materials.

Condemns Sanctions.

Concerning sanctions, being applied by the league of nations as punishment for Italy's war in Ethiopia, Mussolini said:

"The siege, now in its fifth month, will never bend Italy. Sanctions will remain a mark of infamy in the history of Europe, just as furnishing material and moral aid to Ethiopia will remain as a page of dishonor. The date of Nov. 18 marks the beginning of a new phase in Italian history, dominated by this postulate—to bring about autonomy in the economic life of the nation as rapidly as possible.

"The most important section of this economy is that of national defense, without which any possibility of defense is compromised and the invisible war started against Italy at Geneva would end by vanquishing even a people of heroes."

Deputies' End Expected.

From the world point of view, Mussolini's most interesting point is that he regards a European conflict as inevitable and imminent. He is determined that when it breaks out Italy will be ready to make her weight felt in the balance.

From the constitutional point of view, Mussolini's announcement created neither surprise nor excitement. He declared Nov. 14, 1933, that his aim was to abolish the lower house and replace it with a legislative body representing what is vaguely referred to as "the nation's productive forces."

The aim is to weaken politics by removing legislative functions from the hands of a body representing sectional interests of voters and transferring them to those of a body representing the industrial, agricultural, commercial, cultural and other similar interests of the nation as a whole.

Rules by Fascist Council.

The Fascist grand council will adopt rules for the new council of guilds, Il Duce explained, and "this assembly will be political, because economic problems are seldom solved without political aid. Matters not economic will be assigned to certain technical corporations or institutions of the Fascist party."

From an economic point of view Mussolini's speech marks the beginning of a great effort by Italy to attain the economic self-sufficiency she has always lacked to a more pronounced degree than any other great power.

"Every nation seeks to liberate itself as much as possible from foreign servitude," he said. He cited a long list of raw materials which Italy

JUDGE DECIDES AGAINST DOCTOR IN CHILD FIGHT

But Boy's Custody Is Still Issue.

Sonny Boy got a mother last night—a legal one. She is Mrs. Margaret Mann Fletcher, the young woman who until ten days ago was Miss Margaret Mann, but who for six weeks of court hearings has steadfastly maintained that the 3 year old Sonny Boy [she named him Reginald Arthur Mann] was born to her out of wedlock in 1932.

The decision that Mrs. Fletcher is the youngster's mother was given by Judge Rudolph Desort of the Superior court at the end of a night session which climaxed a long series of hearings. It knocked out the claim of Dr. Gordon E. Mordoff, physician, of 1721 Highland avenue, Wilmette, that he was the father of Sonny Boy [the Mordoffs named him Gordon Mordoff III.] and that his late wife, Madge, was the mother.

Reserves Ruling on Custody.

Judge Desort reserved ruling, however, on the custody of the child. He said he would first have to determine the fitness of the rival claimants, Mrs. Fletcher and Dr. Mordoff. The attorneys in the case are to meet today in an effort to settle this question of custody. If they reach an agreement Judge Desort indicated that he would give his final decision. If they do not, further court hearings will be necessary.

It was a dramatic scene in the crowded county building courtroom as Judge Desort announced his decision that Mrs. Fletcher was Sonny Boy's mother. The young woman and Dr. Mordoff strained forward in their chairs at the counsel table to catch each word the judge uttered. Mrs. Fletcher rested one hand on the shoulder of her new husband, Ray Alfred Fletcher, who sat in front of her.

Judge Reviews Evidence.

The judge reviewed the evidence in the case. He recalled the testimony of Dr. Mordoff and his witnesses that Sonny Boy was born to Mrs. Mordoff in her parents' home at Minneapolis on Sept. 2, 1932. He referred to the testimony of Mrs. Fletcher and the witnesses who supported her story that the youngster was born to her at St. Vincent's orphanage on May 19, 1932, and a few weeks later was sent to board with Mrs. Mordoff at $5 a week because the mother of Mrs. Fletcher — then Miss Mann — would not permit her to bring the love child home.

"The testimony is conflicting," concluded Judge Desort. "The only convincing testimony is the documentary evidence, the hospital records and pictures. We have a picture of Margaret Mann with the child. Why should a strange woman have her picture taken with the child? I am going to enter a finding that Margaret Mann is the mother."

Applause Sweeps Courtroom.

A murmur of applause swept over the courtroom. Judge Desort raised a hand to silence the crowd.

"However," he went on, "there is another question here—the question of this child's custody. What will be best for the baby? Dr. Mordoff has had the child for more than three years and appears to love him very much. Any one who has supported a child for three years has rights and is entitled to consideration.

"On the other hand, Mrs. Fletcher has shown her own love for the child and her devotion to him. She is undoubtedly the child's mother, but I must determine what will be best for the boy."

Women Kiss Girl.

As the attorneys crowded around the bench to discuss today's conference with the judge the courtroom crowd burst into cheers and applause. Several women spectators dashed to Mrs. Fletcher's side, threw their arms about her and kissed her. Chairs were overturned in their rush.

The young mother, smiling through tears, cried: "O, I'm so happy. I'm tickled to death."

She grasped her husband's arm and drew him along with her as she hurried to intercept Judge Desort before he reached his chambers. "Thank you, judge. Thank you so very much," she said.

Fletcher grinned his gratitude, but did not speak. He is a chromium

$100,000 AND NEW JOB WAIT FOR MISSING VETERAN

A fortune and a new job await John W. Seltzer, war veteran, engineer, and lumberman, if he can be found. This word was brought to Chicago yesterday by William C. King, Pittsburgh lumberman. Seltzer and King served overseas as engineer captains, he told United States Marshal William H. McDonnell, to whom he appealed for aid. In 1927 King said he and Seltzer and seven other friends purchased a large tract of timber land near Ranelle, W. Va., as an investment. A buyer for the land has been found, King informed Marshal McDonnell. Seltzer's share will be $100,000 and the buyer wants to hire him to direct the survey and cutting of the timber.

Tommy Touhy Found Guilty in Mail Robbery

Minneapolis, Minn., March 23.—[Special.]—"Trembling" Tommy Touhy, once active member of the "Terrible Touhy" gang of Chicago, sat in a wheelchair in United States District court here tonight and heard a jury declare him guilty of the Milwaukee railroad station mail robbery on Jan. 3, 1933, when $78,000 in cash and securities were taken.

The indictment against Touhy contained ten counts—nine of mail robbery and one of conspiracy—and the jury found him guilty on all ten counts. He will be sentenced tomorrow, Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye announced.

Tears welled into the eyes of Touhy's two daughters—Eleanor, 21 years old and blonde, and Mrs. Edward Ryan, 22 year old brunette. Both live in Chicago.

Only Two Ballots Taken.

Touhy was found guilty on the mail robbery counts on the first ballot. Two ballots were taken by the jurors before a guilty verdict was reached on the conspiracy charge.

The case was given to the jury at 5:25 p. m. and a verdict was reached at 8:55, although it was not reported to the court until an hour later.

Touhy sat slumped in his wheelchair for nearly an hour, waiting for the jury to be brought into the courtroom. As the foreman began reading the verdict Touhy straightened suddenly, then sank back again when the word "guilty" was read.

Mrs. Touhy was not in the courtroom when the verdict was read. She is ill in a hotel room, suffering from heart disease. She collapsed last Wednesday outside the courtroom.

After Judge Nordbye had congratulated the jurors on their verdict and dismissed them Touhy was trundled out of the room by deputy United States marshals and taken back to the county jail in St. Paul.

Faces Forty-Seven Years in Prison.

Touhy faces a maximum sentence of forty-seven years in the penitentiary and a fine of $50,000.

With Touhy's conviction, all of the eight men who engineered the bloodless looting of the mails here three years ago have been apprehended. Two of them, Leon Epmeier and William Barry, star government witnesses in the Touhy trial, will be sentenced later. Both have pleaded guilty to similar charges.

Others in the robber gang, "Gloomy" Gus Schaefer, Albert [Poly Nose] Kator, Frank McKee, and "Silent Jim" Ryan are serving terms in penitentiaries. Schaefer and Kator are serving long sentences in Joliet prison in Illinois for the John Factor kidnaping. The other two are in Alcatraz serving twenty year terms.

Branded "Brains" of Gang.

Willie Sharkey, the eighth man in the crime, hanged himself in a St. Paul jail after being acquitted of the William Hamm kidnaping in the fall of 1933.

George Sullivan, federal district attorney, in his argument to the jury, declared Touhy directed the movements of the gang, and charged that Tommy and Roger Touhy "furnished the guns and finances for this job."

"Touhy was the 'brains' of this mob," said Sullivan.

No witness, other than those related to Touhy, produced any evidence to disprove the government's claim he was physically able to handle a machine gun during the robbery, Sullivan concluded.

FRENCHMAN SHUTS UP HITLER; FIRES SHOTGUN INTO HIS LOUD SPEAKER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

METZ, France, March 23.—There is at least one Frenchman out of 40 million who is not afraid of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and appropriately enough he is an inhabitant of Barr, in reconquered Alsace. The name of this sturdy citizen is Georges. The local newspaper, Le Messin, published the original manner in which the patriot vindicated French honor. This is how it came about:

Georges has a radio, and like many other Alsatian radio fans cannot turn on his favorite instrument these nights without picking up a campaign speech by the fuehrer broadcast from some German station. Last Thursday night it happened again.

"Shut up, you dirty boche!" Georges shouted into the loudspeaker.

There was no answer and Georges shouted louder and louder, but could not drown out Hitler's roars. There was only one thing to do. Georges got his trusty shotgun and fired at the infernal loudspeaker with both barrels.

That silenced Hitler, but brought gendarmes running. Georges, in view of his patriotic motive, was found not guilty of disturbing the peace.

Two No. 12 Feet Turn Up Suspect Hiding Under Bed

John Aukscunas, 18 years old, 61 East 100th street, who is six feet three inches tall and wears size 12 shoes, was arrested by police yesterday when they saw his feet sticking out as he tried to hide under a bed in his home. Police said he is wanted in Sault Ste. Marie on charges of burglary.

Hagood Kept from His Post by Roosevelt

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 23.—[Special.]—Shortly after Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood left President Roosevelt's special train here today announcement was made that "Gen. Hagood will take a three months' leave of absence and his future assignment will be determined in the meantime."

Gen. Hagood recently was relieved of command of the Eighth corps area when Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, complained to War Secretary George Dern about statements Hagood made when testifying before a house committee in Washington. Hagood had been informed before he appeared that he was free to speak his mind and when he did so, criticizing the New Deal and terming WPA funds "stage money," Hopkins became angry.

Has Year to Serve.

Gen. Hagood talked with President Roosevelt for two hours today. The meeting had been arranged by congressional friends who hoped that the officer would be restored to command. He has a year to serve before reaching compulsory retirement age.

When the general left the presidential special he was in a black mood and barked at newspaper men that he was leaving for Chicago and going on "private business." Asked what his next post would be he growled: "No statement to make."

After Hopkins' demand that Hagood be reprimanded for criticism of the WPA the general was ordered from his headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., and told to go to his home to await orders.

Parker Gets Command.

Several hours before announcement of the "leave of absence" for Gen. Hagood announcement was made by the war department at Washington that Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, commander of the 1st infantry division at Fort Hamilton, N. Y., had been assigned to command the 8th corps area and the 3d field army, which includes the 4th corps at Atlanta, Ga.

Gen. Parker served in and commanded the 1st division, A. E. F. Two months ago he returned from command of the Philippine department.

Gen. Parker commanded the 6th corps area, with headquarters in Chicago, for several years prior to his service in the Philippines.

FIFER ORDERS SHERMAN G. A. R. POST DISBANDED

Bloomington, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—The William T. Sherman post of the Grand Army of the Republic is no more. "Private" Joseph W. Fifer, 95, former governor of Illinois, was the only member able to attend the meeting here today. He read a resolution surrendering the post charter and declared it passed by a vote of 1 to 0.

PRESIDENT HITS STATE RIGHTS IN FLORIDA TALK

Gets Degree on Way to Fishing Trip.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

(Picture on Back Page.)

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., March 23.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt put to sea tonight aboard the destroyer Monahan for the fishing waters of the Caribbean. For the next two weeks he will ply the waters of the gulf stream with rod and reel to lure game fish from deep sea haunts.

The Monahan, escorted by the destroyer Dale, carried Mr. Roosevelt to an Atlantic rendezvous where he will meet and board the presidential yacht, Potomac, tomorrow morning. The yacht, the former department of commerce cutter Electra, was commissioned recently for the President's pleasure at a cost of $160,000.

This item alone made the President's vacation more costly than any that may be taken by the wealthiest of the citizenry. The operation of the vessel for the two weeks and the destroyer convoy, including the round trip of the men of war from their California base, will bring the cost of the fishing cruise to over $300,000.

Gets Degree at Rollins.

Before boarding the Monahan the President paused at Winter Park, where, in receiving the honorary degree of doctor of literature from Rollins college, he repudiated the Democratic principle of state rights. In a brief speech he urged subordination of individual and sectional interests to the national welfare.

His address was the climax of a colorful academic ceremony in the college chapel which included the awarding of the Algernon Sydney Sullivan medallion, a reward of the institution for humanitarian achievement, to Mrs. Roosevelt. The presidents of the state's seven colleges and universities participated in the exercises.

With a broad grin Mr. Roosevelt termed the occasion "a red letter day." First because, he said, it was the first time "I've had the privilege of seeing my better half in cap and gown," and secondly because, "and this may make the press here squirm, I have attained a life long ambition—at last my literary qualities have been recognized." Mr. Roosevelt recalled he was editor of his college paper and that he has written a book—"On Our Way."

Against Group Domination.

In a sharp shift to the serious the President launched into his hamstringing of state rights. He declared the keynote of the New Deal to be the development of "national understanding as opposed to a purely individual or local group domination." He insisted that democracy and a republican government can succeed only in this way.

The submerging of state rights was traced by the President as a logical development of his pet philosophy, that of the "good neighbor." He said this policy extends from the family to the neighborhood, city, county, and state.

National Understanding.

"The development of national understanding as opposed to purely individual or local group domination is growing by leaps and bounds throughout our nation," he said. "It is the logical development of broader and better education and it is the logical development of the extension of what I sometimes call the policy of the good neighbor.

"The good neighbor is not just the man who lives next door to you. The objective includes the relationship of your family to his; it extends to all the people who live in the same block; it spreads to all the people who live in the same city, the same county, and the same state; and, most important of all for the future of our nation, it must and shall extend to all your neighbors, to your fellow citizens in all the states and in all the regions which make up the nation.

"First of all your duty and mine is to the nation. If we perform that duty well—you and I—the policy of the good neighbor will in the long run assert itself so strongly, so victoriously, that it will spread to other peoples and nations throughout the world. The ideal is there—developed to a greater or less extent among the masses of the people in every nation. We of the western hemisphere are working together to prove the practical value of this great ideal of peace and justice among men and among nations."

Thrusts at Critics.

The President injected into the academic ceremony a thrust at his critics in commenting on the changes in education which he said were bearing fruit at Rollins. Part of the fruit, not mentioned by Mr. Roosevelt, has been the placing of the institution on the proscribed list of the National Association of College Professors for unfairness to professors.

"Yet growth and progress invariably and inevitably are opposed—bitterly, falsely, and blindly opposed," he said, biting the words in emphasis.

He said he had recently seen a remarkable film on the life of Louis Pasteur. He recalled that in the film the great English chemist, Lister, said to Pasteur when the latter was being denounced as a charlatan by French doctors; "My dear Pasteur, every great benefit to the human race in every field of its activity has been bitterly fought in every stage up to its final acceptance."

New Approach to Old Problems.

"What has taken place at Rollins approaches to old problems," the President said. "If you abolish lectures and recitations and substitute the conference plan of study you do not abandon the old ideals of culture. An amazing increase in the very number of things which an educated man must know today calls not only for mere facts but calls also for what might be called a third dimension in education—the tying together of all the subjects and all the facts into the relationship of their whole with modern life.

"Just as you and, indeed, the faculty and the students in any college reach conclusions individually and collectively, so do the masses of our people individually and collectively approach governmental problems. All of us are greatly influenced by group association. The family group is the oldest, the smallest, and yet through all change and all time the most important. Yet there are groups with some of which almost all have some form of association—the church, the social circle, the lodge, the labor organization, the political party, the neighboring farmers. Business and commerce are almost wholly made up of groups.

Group Thinking a Problem.

"The fact of this group existence and resulting group thinking brings forward one of the great problems of orderly government functioning.

"It is the problem of government to harmonize the interests of these groups, which are often divergent and opposing, in order to guarantee security and good for as many of their individual members as may be possible. The science of politics, indeed, may properly be said to be in large part the science of the adjustment of conflicting group interests.

"In the community local government must adjust small groups for community good. In states larger groups must be coördinated for the greater good of all the people wthin the state. In the federal government the problem is to adjust still greater groups in the interest of the largest group of all—one hundred and twenty-five million people in whom reposes the sovereignty of the United States of America."

Defending the New Deal Mr. Roosevelt said it holds fast to the old ideals "and all we change is our method of approach to the attainment of the ideals." The President followed with an illustration of the type of idealism the country needs in his opinion.

He told of visits by two nationally known men on the same day in the White House. The first caller, he said, opposed the new tax program, "because it would cost me thousands of dollars." The second ruefully acknowledged he would be hard hit but, according to Mr. Roosevelt, favored the new taxes because he believed they would be "fair and equitable for the people of the country as a whole."

BLACK DEMANDS SECRECY ABOUT WIRE SNOOPING

Seizes Telegrams Sent by Kansas Paper.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Senator Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], chief New Deal inquisitor, has cracked down on another newspaper, it was learned today, and also on the telegraph companies for tipping off customers that their telegrams were under espionage.

The newspaper is the Wichita [Kas.] Beacon. Senator Black subpenaed from the telegraph companies the telegrams sent to and from the Beacon and its owners, officers and editors during 1935.

According to one version of the story, the subpena called for all telegrams except press messages. The telegraph companies segregated the press from the nonpress messages and sent the latter to the Black committee. After reading the telegrams Senator Black returned them to the telegraph companies and demanded the press messages without a subpena.

Delivery Is Refused.

The Postal Telegraph company admitted that it had been served with the subpena, but denied that it had delivered any of the Beacon messages to the committee to date. The Western Union surrendered the nonpress messages and received them back from the committee, but declined to state whether the press messages would be delivered. Senator Black refused any information.

Much mystery attaches to the crack down on the Beacon, which has been critical of the New Deal at times but not conspicuously so. The paper is actively supporting Gov. Landon for president.

The inquisitors have seized the telegrams of many newspapers, but only a few of the seizures have leaked out. Other victims of the dragnet are the Hearst papers, the Cowles Publications of Spokane, Wash., and the Wichita Falls [Texas] Time Publishing company. The Hearst papers are conspicuous foes of the Roosevelt administration.

Hanson Denounces Action.

Elisha Hanson, general counsel of the American Newspaper Publishers association, denounced the crack down on the Beacon.

"Information that the Black committee has seized the telegrams of still another newspaper,—the Wichita, Kas., Beacon,—is further evidence of the abuse of power by this committee," he said. "The question is how long are the newspapers so affected going to stand for such abuse.

"The American Newspaper Publishers association, through its board of directors, has condemned the Black committee's action in setting up a surveillance of the press. It has offered to assist any of its members whose business is interfered with by the committee. One of its members, W. R. Hearst, already has brought a proceeding to put an end to the pernicious activities of the committee, in so far as his papers are concerned.

Liberty Includes Free Press.

"Some years ago, Mr. Justice Harlan of our Supreme court, said that it was impossible for him to conceive of liberty as guaranteed against hostile action by a legislature which did not embrace the right of the people to have a free press.

"Freedom of the press is a liberty which belongs to all of the people and not particularly to those engaged in the business of publishing newspapers or magazines. Publishers are merely trustees of this great right and it is their obligation to defend it whenever it is challenged, irrespective of by what source it is challenged."

The Black committee has been prevented by an injunction from obtaining the telegrams of Winston, Strawn & Shaw and is a defendant in the Hearst injunction suit. These proceedings were made possible by the warning the victims of the espionage received from the telegraph companies that their messages had been subpenaed.

Black Demands Secrecy.

This so angered Senator Black that he admonished the telegraph companies to preserve secrecy regarding the seizure of telegrams. The Black committee letter to the companies said:

"Under rules and precedents of long standing, the activities of senate committee investigating subject matters covered under senate resolutions are deemed to be of a high confidential nature until such time as evidence gathered by these committees is presented in open hearing.

"The coöperation of local managers of telegraph companies in conforming with this long-established rule will materially assist this committee in the furtherance of its investigation."

Another victim of the inquisition is John Henry Kirby, a Texas Democrat who is fighting the New Deal through the southern committee to Uphold the Constitution of which he is chairman. Senator Black subpenaed all of Mr. Kirby's telegrams. Mr. Kirby wired the chief inquisitor today an emphatic warning not to read his family and private business telegrams. He is welcome to the others, said Mr. Kirby. The telegram to Senator Black follows:

"My information is that the committee of which you are chairman by your order and by process authorized by you has seized all telegrams sent or received by me between Feb. 1 and Dec. 31, 1935. Some of the messages are to and from my wife and some are to and from my grandchildren, all relating to private affairs of my family. Other telegrams seized by you relate to the private affairs of the receiver of the Kirby Lumber company of which I am an employe.

"Even though I as a Democrat am opposed to the renomination of President Roosevelt because of his apostasy to the cardinal doctrins of the Democratic party and because of his lack of respect for the constitution, I am sure that you recognize the simple truth that I am still a citizen of the United States and as such am entitled to the protection of its constitution and laws including the bill of rights.

Forbids Exhibit of Message.

"I urgently and emphatically forbid you to exhibit to the eyes of any man or woman on earth any telegram which relates solely to my family affairs, and I urge that you do not read any such telegrams yourself, because I do not want you or any other person to know what you are not entitled to know under the law and the constitution about the sacred private affairs of my family.

"You can probe into the public activities of those of us who wish to uphold the constitution of the United States as much as you please. We are confident of the rectitude and patriotism of our course, but I insist that I have the right to halt you at the threshold of my home which in all contemplation of English civilization is still my castle. I do not want you or your committee to enter, and under article IV. of the bills of rights, I forbid you and your committee to enter."

WPA MEN IDLE 53% OF FEBRUARY TIME, BUT THEY GET PAID

Federal Works Progress administration toilers in Illinois received more than $6,000,000 in wages for approximately 12,593,345 hours of work which they did not do during the subzero wave in February, according to disclosures yesterday. The winter weather loss of WPA workers in this state now totals 21,745,901 hours, representing at least $10,000,000 paid out for services not performed because of weather.

WPA pay rolls for February showed that the loss of work hours in Illinois was 53.2 per cent, the highest of any month. Under the WPA system, workers are paid by the month and are not docked for time lost because of factors beyond their control.

The great increase in time lost occurred despite the efforts on the part of WPA officials to eliminate "mollycoddling" of the workers. Although workers were excused in the early part of the winter when temperatures dropped to 15 degrees above zero, it was decided later that the workers should remain on the jobs in temperatures down to 10 degrees below zero.

KILLED IN FALL OFF PORCH.

Joseph Burns, 64 years old, was killed yesterday when he leaped or fell off the second floor porch of a rooming house at 5023 Cottage Grove avenue, where he lived.

PRESIDENT DROPS PLAN TO REDUCE CCC MEMBERSHIP

Revolt in House Brings a Quick "About Face."

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—A threatened revolt among house Democrats over proposed reduction of CCC camps was quieted today by President Roosevelt's order for maintenance of existing camps through most of the next fiscal year.

The President's plan to close 700 of the 2,158 camps was met with circulation by Representative Nichols [Dem., Okla.] of a petition protesting the reduction. The petition bore 285 signatures when word came the President had changed his plans.

Present Number to Be Maintained.

In a letter from Mr. Roosevelt to Robert Fechner, emergency conservation work director, made public today, the President said he further had determined the total number of CCC enrollees should be held at about 350,000 through March 31, 1937.

"Additional funds not to exceed $6,825,000 will be allotted to you as and when needed from the appropriation contained in the emergency relief appropriation act of 1935 for the balance of the fiscal year and steps will be taken to secure the necessary funds for the fiscal year 1937," he wrote Fechner.

The President issued an executive order, effective April 1, which would have closed about one-third of the 2,158 camps. Further reductions were contemplated the first of May.

Effect at Polls Feared.

The order immediately produced adverse house sentiment. Members protested that elimination of CCC camps in their districts, particularly in areas in which conservation projects are only partly completed, would injure the administration and provide ready made campaign ammunition for Republican opponents.

Nichols read the President's letter to Fechner in the house today, declaring the objective of the CCC bloc had been realized and there would be no further move for a caucus on the question.

Cincinnati, O., March 23.—Greater Cincinnati's first flood fatality was recorded tonight, as a pacified Ohio river climbed slowly toward a crest of 59 feet.

Paul Kearney, 18, of Newport, Ky., Xavier High school athlete, drowned when the kayak he was sailing with Jack Wubbolding, 16, upset in the river. A passing motorist rescued Wubbolding.

Kearney's death was the second in the lower Ohio valley, and Ohio's fifth due to the flood.

Set Damage at 200 Millions.

Dr. Charles E. Holzer of Gallipolis, president of the Ohio Valley Water Conservation and Flood Control congress, estimated 200 million dollars damage was caused between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati by floods of the last six days and called a meeting for tomorrow at Gallipolis to take steps toward securing congressional approval of the congress' 237 million dollar flood control program.

In Cincinnati, Slack Barrett, president, said the Ohio Valley Improvement association would urge congress to enact legislation to carry out a plan developed by army engineers for eliminating or effectively controlling floods.

Although invading hundreds of additional homes in the lower valley, the flood waters caused little interruption to the normal routine.

The water reached a height of 57.5 feet at Cincinnati late today and was rising one-twentieth of a foot an hour. Meteorologist W. C. Devereaux predicted the crest of slightly over 59 feet would be reached tomorrow.

A similar crest passed Portsmouth today eight-tenths of a foot below the top of a million dollar flood wall protecting the city's 43,000 inhabitants.

Warns of Disease Dangers.

Dr. Walter Hartung, Ohio director of health, warned of the danger of influenza and pneumonia lurking in the flood dampened homes being reoccupied in the upper valley.

Red Cross officials reported a few of the 2,000 homeless in the greater Cincinnati area suffering from scarlet fever, mumps and other contagious diseases contracted before they were moved to hospitals.

In the upper valley, from East Liverpool to Marietta, the river had crept back within its banks.

At Greenup, Ky., no suffering was reported, despite a stage of 61.8 feet, 26 inches above the 1933 flood level. Much of the town was under water.

Cincinnati, viewing its 30th flood in 53 years, found itself with relief preparations far exceeding the demand.

River Cities Unafraid.

Centralia, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—The rampaging Ohio river will have lost most of its fury when the crest reaches southeastern Illinois this week, a survey indicated today.

While thousands of acres of rich farm lands are expected to be inundated, at no place along the river has any alarm been expressed and at no place is special emergency preparation being made.

Rains Raise Illinois Fear.

Mount Carmel, Ill., March 23.—(AP)—Rolling down to Cairo, the flood-swollen Ohio began to cause some apprehension in this section today as heavy rains fell along the lower Wabash and Ohio rivers.

At Shawneetown the Ohio rose to 34.5 feet, with a crest of 42 feet indicated by Thursday.

SEEK CONGRESSIONAL STUDY OF FLOOD TO PLAN CONTROL WORK

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—Members of congress from fifteen states voted today to seek the appointment of a joint senate and house committee to study flood conditions throughout the nation and recommend a comprehensive control program at this session.

They acted a short time before Harry L. Hopkins and six other Works Progress administration officials hurriedly packed their bags to leave tonight to direct federal relief and rehabilitation activities in flood-swept eastern states.

Hopkins, leaving for Hartford, Conn., said the "first hand inspections" would be made in an effort to determine the actual damage and "the most expeditious manner in which the resources of the WPA can be brought to bear on the task of rehabilitation."

President Roosevelt set aside $43,000,000 last Saturday for flood relief. Of this $25,000,000 will be used to restore bridges, highways, public buildings, and utilities. The remainder will be devoted to fighting disease.

CHICAGO GIFTS TO FLOOD FUND REACH $32,000

Contributions of Chicagoans to the $3,000,000 fund sought by the national Red Cross for relief of eastern flood victims reached $32,586 yesterday. James T. Nicholson, manager of the Chicago chapter, reported. This included the first corporate donation received, that of the Household Finance corporation for $2,500. The $32,586 does not include large donations from Swift & Co. and the International Harvester company because their gifts will be apportioned by their branches to other cities also.

The Association of Commerce yesterday circularized its members with an appeal to join in the Chicago Red Cross relief effort and word has been received that numerous business houses are preparing donations.

"We have just been informed that Red Cross workers in 77 counties of 14 states in the flood area have provided relief for 320,719 persons," said Nicholson. "Some people are disposed to send their donations direct to the communities in the flood area, and although their donations reach the same fund it does not give Chicago credit for responding to the needs of the sister cities.

Elgin, with a total of $1,100, has oversubscribed its flood relief quota, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. T. J. Schmitz, Red Cross chapter secretary.

Boston, March 23.—(AP)—New England today began a tedious onslaught on mud, incipient disease, pollution, hunger, and distress—the offspring of its worst flood.

The death toll remained at 24; the damage to property, land, transportation, communication systems, and highways may reach 250 million dollars.

With National Guardsmen maintaining constant vigil in all states but Rhode Island, governmental agencies began emergency activity by insisting on the destruction of all exposed food and the inoculation of many of the territory's 100,000 refugees.

Typhoid Only Specter.

No serious outbreaks were reported as the result of polluted water. Supplies were being chlorinated; residents requested to boil water before drinking and every medical means adopted to avoid the specter of typhoid.

Middletown, Conn., refugees will be inoculated, however, as the water supply of one outlying section was contaminated. Serum was dispatched by plane from Philadelphia.

Isolated cases of scarlet fever, ptomaine, and other ailments were being kept under control.

Food stations, under the aegis of the Red Cross, were set up in all stricken areas in schools, churches and clubs. Supplies of clothing rolled into all cities in huge trucks and vans.

Face Another Idle Week.

Idle industry, with more than 250,000 employés, faced another week before anywhere near normal operations could be resumed.

Railroads had emergency crews working day and night trying to untangle the mass of twisted steel that once was trackage.

WPA and CCC workers stepped into the breach and began the removal of mud, silt, and slime before a bright spring time sun caked it on roads and buildings.

No refugees were allowed to return home until sanitary, building, and wire inspections had been made and the returning occupants inoculated.

SPRING PAYS CITY A 72 DEGREE VISIT, BUT NOT FOR LONG

Warm southerly breezes gave Chicagoans a touch of spring fever yesterday as the city enjoyed its warmest day since last October. At 4 p. m. and at 6 p. m. yesterday the reading was 72 degrees, 31 degrees higher than the normal maximum temperature for this time.

Forecaster J. R. Lloyd said the southerly wind would shift to the northwest this afternoon, depressing the temperature considerably toward evening. He predicted thundershowers today, but fair tomorrow, with normally cool weather.

Three Dead, Score Hurt, Fifty Homeless in Ozark Tornado

Springfield, Mo., March 23.—(AP)—A woman, a girl, and two men were killed, more than a score of persons were injured, and fifty were made homeless by a southwestern Missouri tornado late today.

Striking first at Niangua, 32 miles northeast of Springfield, the terrific wind wrought destruction in or near more than half a dozen communities before blowing itself out over the lake of the Ozarks.

Mrs. Jess Elmore, 70 years old, a widow, was killed while seeking shelter in a storm cellar at Niangua.

Bert Snell, 21, was hurled to his death there while at work on the roof of a house which collapsed in the path of the storm.

Miss Reba Keesling, 18, died of injuries suffered in the hamlet of Rader, which virtually was wiped out. Six of its eight houses were flattened.

Teacher Saves 30 Children.

Henry Elmore, who was not related to the woman victim, was injured fatally when his home collapsed near Oakland. He was carried for several yards by the wind.

Near there, 30 country school children were saved by a quick-witted teacher, Miss Pauline Rader, 21. Upon seeing the dark cloud, she led the children from the building and ordered them to lie flat on the ground. They watched the storm carry the schoolhouse away.

Many were saved by taking to storm cellars. Others fled to open hillsides. There were miraculous escapes.

"Seven persons were in the general mercantile store when the building felt the storm," related Mrs. Herman Pierce in describing its approach at Rader. "No one was hurt, but the structure was badly wrecked."

Red Cross Sends Aid.

Red Cross headquarters at St. Louis dispatched John Wilson, trained worker, to the storm area.

Eight injured were in a hospital at Lebanon, Mo., brought there from Morgan and Oakland. A tentative checkup of the injured list showed at least twenty-eight.

The parents of Miss Keesling were among the more seriously hurt.

Other towns in or near which property was wrecked included Camdenton, Linn Creek, Osage Beech, and Drynob.

Dust Storm Hits Southwest.

Guymon, Okla., March 23.—(AP)—The worst dust storm of the year blew across central Oklahoma from the panhandle late today while beneficial snows and rains fell in other sections of the "dust bowl."

Thick clouds of silt swirled in Oklahoma City. At Guymon visibility dropped to zero as residents donned dust masks and goggles, unused since the "black blizzards" of last spring. Schools were closed at Forgan, Okla.

Automobiles were stranded on highways in the Oklahoma panhandle and wheat blew away in clouds of dust.

New Mexico, Texas and parts of southern Kansas were in the path of the "duster." A 50 mile wind whipped at Clovis and Tucumcari, N. M.

Static Halts Motor Trafic.

Static, generated by today's dust storm, halted motor cars, disrupted electric power service and handicapped communication in eastern New Mexico.

The weather bureau reported zero visibility at Amarillo, Tex. Rains and snows, in some places nearing blizzard proportions, fell in parts of Colorado, Texas and Kansas.

A snowstorm that visited Utah yesterday moved eastward across Wyoming today, leaving from an inch and a half to ten inches of snow on the ground.

Termed "Life Saver" for Crops.

"It's a life saver," said A. J. Hamman, Prowers county agent. The storm reached Lamar shortly before noon and soon the entire southeastern Colorado "blow lands" were covered.

Dodge City, Kas., had the worst dust storm of the year and heavy clouds of silt blew into Hugoton, Kas., for the third successive day. The flying dust reached as far east as Wichita, Kas., and Kansas City.

Light rains washed dust from the air at Goodland, Kas. They were followed by a heavy snowstorm. There was snow at Tribune, Kas.

BETWEEN FLOOD AND WIFE'S MAMA HE WANTS PASS

Concord, N. H., March 23.—(AP)—Deputy Police Chief J. Edward Silva tells this one:

A Concord man requested a gasoline order to take his mother-in-law to her home in Manchester.

"She's been at my house two weeks now," he explained, "and between the flood and her I'm slowly going crazy."

Silva offered his sympathy but no permit. He explained gasoline in the Granite state was being conserved for the use of relief workers, supply trucks, and physicians.

A pair of Canadian gray wolves and two long horned antelopes of a variety once nearly extinct arrived at the Lincoln Park zoo from Calgary yesterday. Director Floyd S. Young said the antelopes are only one year old and will not grow horns until next year.

ITALY PREPARES FOR WAR; SEIZES BIG INDUSTRIES

has developed in recent years, including the product from coal and iron mines, adding that Italy now has enough iron for either peace or war needs.

"It will no longer be possible to speak of Italy as poor in raw materials. Italy must be spoken of now as poor in some raw materials, but rich in many others."

Country Walled In.

The economic effort is expected to unlock the vast stores of wealth that have always existed in Italy, but have not hitherto been exploited. It will emphasize, however, the tendency rampant in the world, to organize countries into separate watertight compartments so that each may produce the greatest possible proportion of everything it consumes even if this entails a rise in the cost of living. One immediate effect of this policy almost certainly will be the raising of tarifs.

From a social point of view the pith of Mussolini's program is in his statement that workers must become the collaborators of the men who provide capital and are responsible for the technical development of industry. Work in all degrees is to become only a yardstick for measuring the social and national usefulness of groups and individuals.

Frightens Business.

Industrialists are frightened by the thought that Mussolini's intention may be to give workers some voice in the management of industry which, they say, would be a form of bolshevism. The general impression, however, is that Il Duce does not mean to go so far.

"Government intervention may be, in certain branches, direct management; in others, indirect management; and in still others, efficient control. One thus may have mixed management by government and capital," he said.

"Fascism never dreamed of transforming the nation's whole economy into a government monopoly. The economy is disciplined by the corporations and recapitulated by the government only in the section which affects its defense; that is to say, the existence and security of the country."

Many persons believe that the present step is only the thin end of the wedge. When it is remembered that foreign trade is already in a virtual state of monopoly; that all banking institutions are under direct state control, and that now a part of industry also is to be run by the state, the trend toward some form or other of state socialism is unmistakable. Everything leads to the belief that nationalization of industry has come to stay.

Parades Everywhere.

Mussolini spoke first to the expiring chamber of deputies, then, in the shadow of a statue of Julius Cæsar in the capitol building on Capitoline hill, to the assembly of corporations. Afterward he went to his headquarters at Palazzo Venezia and from a balcony spoke to cheering thousands packed in the piazza. He traced the history of Fascism and said his dreams had been "realized, at least as far as Italy is concerned." He asserted Fascism is so firmly entrenched it can meet any contingency.

Black shirted Fascists paraded, waved flags, cheered, and celebrated throughout the nation. The tri-color waved from streets and buildings and tonight public buildings were illuminated.

At provincial ceremonials Fascists heard a proclamation of the names of their companions who have died in the Ethiopian war.

JAPAN RELIEVES NINE GENERALS OF POSTS FOR PART IN REVOLT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, March 23.—Nine generals of the Japanese army were today relieved of their posts for responsibility in the rebellion of army forces in February. More than thirty ranking officers were demoted or shifted in one of the most sweeping personnel changes in the army's history.

The principal generals who were placed on the retired list were Shigeru Honjo, the emperor's chief aide-de-camp and hero of the Manchurian conflict; Toranosuke Hashimoto, commander of the imperial guards and former commander of the interior division; and Takeo Hori, commander of the First division.

The men being placed in key positions include: Lieut. Gen. Okiya Usami as vice chief of the general staf, and Maj. Gen. Rensuke Isogai, military attaché of the Japanese embassy in China, as chief of the military affairs bureau of the war office.

Prince Kohohito Kanin, chief of the army general staf, is understood to have signified a wish to resign also, but was persuaded to remain. From the list of new names it can be stated the army's policy will be firm and sound. Most of the new leaders are regarded as brilliant and experienced. Further shifts of men in lower ranks will be made during the month.

LEAGUE MAKES NEW PLEA TO END WAR IN AFRICA

Subject of Sanctions Is Not Taken Up.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 23.—The league of nations committee of 13—which is the league council without Italy—skated carefully around the subject of sanctions when it met today to consider the replies of Ethiopia and Italy to the appeals for peace sent out three weeks ago at Geneva.

The committee did nothing except order Joseph A. C. Avenol, secretery general of the league, and Salvador de Madariaga of Spain, president of the committee, to make contact with the two combatants and warn them to be ready for a "prompt cessation of hostilities when the negotiations start." No one knows when that will be.

Forwards Emperor's Protest.

It forwarded also to Premier Mussolini the protest of Emperor Haile Selassie against the Italian's use of poison gas. Madariaga will confer tomorrow with Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador in London. The committee of 13 adjourned until Madariaga "thinks its mediations would be useful."

The committee of 13 announced the following resolution was adapted after a private session of almost three hours:

"The committee of 13 takes note of the replies of the two parties to the conflict to the appeal which was sent them March 3.

"It entrusts the president of the committee, aided by the secretary-general, with the task of getting in touch with the two parties and taking all useful measures so that the committee of 13 may, as soon as possible, bring the two parties closer together to obtain within the framework of the league of nations and within the spirit of the covenant a prompt cessation of hostilities and a definite reëstablishment of peace."

Bomb Jigjiga Again.

Dispatches from Addis Ababa disclosed that Italian planes bombed the town of Jigjiga, 50 miles northeast of Harrar, for the second time in as many days. There were no details of today's bombardment. Twenty-seven planes dropped hundreds of bombs on the town yesterday. The number of killed and wounded was said to have been "considerable."

Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander of Italy's armies in Africa, in a communique to Rome said chieftains of 53 villages in the Tzellemti zone beyond the Takazze river in the north have deserted to the Italian side. His communique, cabled here from Rome, said:

"On March 21 one of our planes sighted an Ethiopian Fokker [plane] on the field at Dubat and attacked and destroyed it. In four days, therefore, four enemy planes have been destroyed.

"On March 22 our planes bombarded and destroyed two sheds at Dubat used for the storage of munitions.

"The systemization of roads in the occupied territory proceeds; for instance, a bridge has been built across the Takazze.

"The chieftains, notables, and clergy of 53 villages in the Tzellemti beyond the Takazee have submitted to our authority. On the Somaliland front our aviation effected a mass bombardment of Jigjiga. Road building plants, warehouses, and dumps were destroyed."

ITALIAN MILITARY COURT BUSY TRYING FOES OF MUSSOLINI

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 23.—Premier Mussolini's secret military tribunal which tries persons arrested on political charges by the Italian O. V. R. A. [secret police], has been ceaselessly active in recent weeks, but its sessions are behind closed doors and the sentences are not now being published, according to information just reaching here.

The tribunal has just sentenced a group of intellectuals in northern Italy on charges of belonging to the Liberty and Justice movement. The group included Prof. Michele Guia of the Polytechnique school at Turin, Vittoria Foa, a lawyer, Augusto Monti, a writer, Dr. Massimo Mila, Dr. Perelli and Attorney Zanetti and others. Guia, against whom the Fascists had a special grudge because he refused to swear fidelity to the Fascist régime four years ago, and had to resign his chair, got a 15 year prison sentence.

These men were arrested last May. One of the reasons for the expulsion of the correspondent of THE TRIBUNE from Italy last June was that he referred to this and other affairs as "mass arrests." According to information reaching here the Italian public does not know anything about this sentence, or that of Prof. Pesenti of Sassari university, who got 24 years.

SENATE PASSES 611 MILLION WAR DEPT. MEASURE

Appropriation Bill Largest in Peace Time History.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—After rejecting efforts to reconsider a vote refusing to appropriate 12 million dollars for the 200 million dollar Florida canal, the senate today passed a 611 million dollar war department appropriation bill. The vote was 53 to 12.

The war department bill, which now goes to conference with the house of representatives, is the largest in peace time history. An appropriation of $384,699,619 for the military activities of the war department is the largest since 1921. The bill carries $226,662,985 for the nonmilitary activities of the war department.

Refusal Is Surprise.

Failure of a motion to reconsider the question of appropriating 12 million dollars for the Florida canal, which President Roosevelt started with 5 million dollars from relief funds, came as a surprise to Senator Fletcher [Dem., Fla.] and other administration leaders. Saturday proponents of the scheme took a poll and obtained enough promises to put over a vote to reconsider, but the motion failed, 36 to 35.

Fletcher and others attributed this to the absence of so many senators—twenty-five in number. Senator Bennett C. Clark [Dem., Mo.], who had voted against the canal, switched his vote today. Senator Harry S. Truman, another Missouri Democrat, who was absent on the previous vote, made the motion to reconsider today.

Clark Explains Switch.

Senator Clark justified his switch on the ground that there was no consistency in approving three reservoir and dam projects in New Mexico, Mississippi, and West Virginia, with a total appropriation of 8 million dollars, and then rejecting the Florida canal. Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.], who supported the Florida canal last week and in return received support for his Mississippi dam, was not present today but was paired in favor of the motion to reconsider.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis [Dem., Ill.] voted for the canal, but Senator William H. Dieterich [Dem., Ill.] was absent.

Last week the 39 senators who voted against the canal received cases of celery from producers in southern Florida, who are violently opposed to it, while the 34 who voted for it received invitations to be guests of a northern Florida hotel chain.

Disclosure Embarrasses Senators.

Disclosure of these gifts and propositions in newspaper stories over the week-end proved embarrassing for the senators, many of whom were returning the celery or sending it to hospitals. Senator Charles L. McNary [Rep., Ore.] told his wife not to sign for it, and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] sent his two cases to a hospital.

Failure of the senate to include an appropriation for his canal, which the house likewise had rejected, was a shocking blow to the 77 year old Senator Fletcher. His constituents in the southern part of the state were bitterly opposed to it, but he heeded the wishes of the northern residents, as well as the Roosevelt administration, and lost.

Scheme May Be Abandoned.

The scheme now must be abandoned or else carried on with the stringless relief funds congress turns over to the President.

The senate bill differs from that passed by the house in that 8 million dollars is added for the pay of sufficient men in the army to bring the total strength up to 165,000. The house bill had provided for a total strength of 147,000. The bill carries an appropriation of 4 million dollars for the purchase of 567 military planes.

While you are well build good general resistance

They are called common "winter" ills, but they may prove just as troublesome these early spring months. It's natural they should. After a strenuous winter of hard work and too little exercise your general resistance is likely to be low. Your reserve forces are likely to be exhausted.

The sensible thing to do, then, is not to wait until seasonal ills affect you, but to begin building good general resistance.

Adex offers you an easy, pleasant means. It provides the vitamin which contributes more than any other to good general resistance — Vitamin A. Every capsule contains not less than 6,600 units.

Adex also furnishes an abundance of Vitamin D—1,320 units with each capsule. At this season, you probably do not get enough Vitamin D from sunshine and will benefit by this extra amount. Another advantage in Adex is that only natural vitamins go into the capsules and tablets.

Start with Adex today and keep it up regularly. To get best results, you should take Adex every single day. Now at any reliable drug store. Prepared by E. R. Squibb & Sons, manufacturing chemists since 1858.

Hitler's Answer Contains Counter-Proposals.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 23.—Joachim von Ribbentrop, personal envoy of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, will leave for London tomorrow carrying Hitler's reply to the proposals of the Locarno powers for a settlement of the Rhineland dispute. The reply, supposed to be a rejection, contains counterproposals which will "leave a small door open for negotiations to please England."

Hitler and Von Ribbentrop agreed on the contents of the reply. They called in Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath to help frame the answer in formal diplomatic language.

The sympathy expressed in the British press for the German viewpoint considerably stiffened the attitude of the Nazi statesmen. It encouraged them to reject the demands of the Locarno powers more energetically than at first was planned.

Oppose Rhineland Police Force.

Hitler's counterproposals were framed to impress especially the Anglo-American groups which do not share the distrust of France and the other neighbors of Germany in the sincerity of the fuehrer's proposals for a series of nonaggression pacts.

It is regarded as almost certain that the German reply rejects the demand of the Locarno powers of Great Britain, France, Italy, and Belgium for an international police force in a 12 mile zone along Germany's Rhineland frontier. It was proposed to station such a force in the Rhineland pending negotiations on Hitler's peace proposals as a substitute for the Locarno treaty which he scrapped.

The decision to embody counterproposals in the fuehrer's note was made at the request of Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador to Berlin, who called on Foreign Minister Von Neurath.

League on Pins and Needles.

LONDON, March 23.—(AP)—With apprehension the league of nations council tonight awaited Adolf Hitler's all-important answer to the proposals of the four Locarno powers for a settlement of the Rhineland crisis.

It was stated in informed circles that on the question of Germany's return to the European family of nations Great Britain will even consider the possibilities of a colonial deal with Germany. Colonial and economic counter proposals from Hitler would be welcomed by Britain just as much as political ones, it was stated.

Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, replying to questions in the house of commons, reiterated that the Locarno memorandum to Germany is in "the nature of proposals" and is not an ultimatum.

He added that he told Joachim von Ribbentrop, Hitler's personal envoy, that Britain "hoped the German government would be in a position to accept them, but in any event his majesty's government felt the German government should assist them in their task by making some constructive contribution to improve the situation."

French Angry at London.

PARIS, March 23.—(AP)—French reaction to a British declaration that the Locarno powers' accord is only in the nature of a suggestion threatened tonight to reopen a breach between the two nations over Germany's violation of the treaty. Annoyance was expressed with Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, who told the house of commons that he had assured Germany the program was not an ultimatum.

Officials here said France considers the document submitted to Adolf Hitler a "take it or leave it" matter and that France will refuse to entertain any German counter proposition, as suggested by Eden.

Stressing that Hitler must take "all or nothing," officials said Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin will refuse to go to London while the British "hold such an attitude."

German Planes Stir French.

STRASBOURG, France, March 23.—(AP)—Two German military planes flew over the outskirts of this French frontier city today at a low altitude, military authorities reported. A third plane was sighted over the village of Windhof. Officials said Reichswehr [regular Germany army] numbers were easily visible on the planes, which they believed had been photographing fortifications.

NAZIS OF FOREIGN BIRTH TO OBTAIN REICHSTAG SEATS

Pan-German Assembly Is Hitler's Goal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 23.—A Pan-German reichstag, including Austrian and Bohemian Nazis, is to be approved by the Germans in the "elections" next Sunday. By including foreign born sympathizers in parliament, Nazi Germany is preparing to fulfill the first point of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's original twenty-five point program calling for a "union of all Germans into a greater Germany."

The Austrian candidates for the German parliament include Alfred Frauenfeld, the former leader of the Viennese Nazis; Herr Reschny, chief of the Austrian Storm Troopers, and Franz Hofer, Tyrolese Nazi chief who escaped from an Austrian prison with the help of a Nazi masquerading as a prison guard.

Exiles Are Candidates.

Two former members of the Czechoslovakian parliament, Hans Krebs and Rudolf Jung, also are on the list of candidates. Krebs obtained the post of press chief of the ministry of interior after he came here in 1933, while Jung is a newcomer. Both men were under the surveillance of Czech authorities as Nazi agitators. They fled into Germany.

The leader of the Association of Germans Living Abroad, Ernst Wilhelm Bohle, also is on the list of reichstag candidates.

Membership in the reichstag provides those persons selected by the minister of interior with a free railroad pass for the whole country and a salary of $240 a month.

[The names of 1,035 candidates have been selected by the Nazi party. Close to seven hundred are expected to obtain seats in the reichstag. One member will be selected by the minister of interior for each 60,000 votes cast.]

Must Give Pay to Party.

However, most of the members must promise to turn over their salary to the Nazi party. Only those whose incomes are less than $400 a month will be allowed to draw full reichstag pay.

The interest in Germans abroad also was shown in the German press today which indignantly reported the arrest of thirty-two Germans in Riga by Latvian political police on charges of being Nazi agitators.

BRITAIN, FRANCE AND U. S. REVISE NEW NAVY PACT

Add "Escape" Clauses; Sign Treaty Tomorrow.

LONDON, March 23.—(AP)—Naval conference delegates sat today in a final technical session revising the new treaty to be signed by three powers at St. James's palace Wednesday.

With the aid of their technical advisers they substituted 65 minor provisions for those in the final, fourteenth draft of the agreement. The United States delegates proposed 24 of the last revisions.

More than one-fifth of the final draft is devoted to "escape" clauses—through which the signatory nations may "escape" from the general provisions of the treaty in event of unforeseen developments in political and naval situations.

Sign Treaty Tomorrow.

Either Anthony Eden, British foreign minister, or Viscount Monsell, first lord of the British admiralty, is expected to make the principal address at the plenary session Wednesday afternoon at which the agreement will be signed.

Replies are expected from Norman H. Davis, chief of the American delegation, and the French representatives.

The general tenor of the meeting, it was reported, will look forward to further naval armament limitation and the possibility for a new conference in 1940.

The treaty—which Great Britain, the United States and France have approved—is to be sent to the league of nations offices at Geneva where other nations may join in the provisions later if they desire.

Japan Shows an Interest.

Japan, who bolted the conference when her demands for equality were denied, has indicated at least an interest in the document. Italy, irritated by East African war sanctions, declined flatly to consider affixing her signature while the aggression penalties continued. The Irish Free State stayed clear of the pact so as not to compromise her future position in regard to naval activities.

The treaty, in general, limits battleships to a maximum of 35,000 tons, and divides ships into two classifications: those of between 17,500 tons and 35,000 tons and those of 8,000 tons down to 100 tons. It also sets the size of guns at 14 inches, provisionally for the main battleships. The five signatories of the Washington treaty must all agree on 14 inch guns by Jan. 1, 1937, or the present maximum size of 16 inches will remain effective.

An important feature of the new treaty is the general provision allowing any power to build as many ships of any type as it wishes. The United States qualified this provision, however, by an "escape" clause which abrogates the treaty if the British construct more than 70 cruisers.

The signatory powers also agree to a free exchange of information of naval building programs and progress reports.

FRENCH SEIZE PLANE OF AMERICAN; CHARGE HE FLEW OVER FORTS

STRASBOURG, France, March 23.—(AP)—The private airplane of Henry J. White, American, was under guard today in Strasbourg airport while military authorities investigated charges that he had flown over French frontier fortifications.

White, who is European aviation manager for the Socony-Vacuum company, flew his British plane from Strasbourg to Vienna, returning to Strasbourg Saturday, where military police met him at the airport.

The American was released on "provisional liberty" while authorities investigated charges that White had flown too close to France's frontier "pill boxes" instead of taking the usual "flying corridor" across Germany into Austria.

ASSASSINS FIRE UPON FRENCH FASCIST CHIEF IN MIDNIGHT AMBUSH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 23.—A mysterious attempt on the life of Col. Francois de la Rocque, chief of the Fascist Croix de Feu [Cross of Fire], in which he narrowly escaped being shot in the back while riding in an automobile to preside at a secret gathering of his followers, was revealed today by one of the Fascist leader's henchmen.

The attack was not mentioned in the Paris newspapers. It occurred at midnight several days ago on a lonely part of the highway between Paris and Pontoise.

De la Rocque was riding in an automobile driven by a prominent Paris sportsman. Suddenly shots rang out. One bullet narrowly missed the Fascist leader.

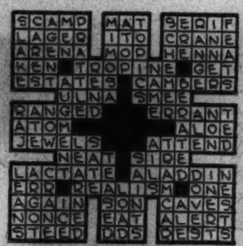
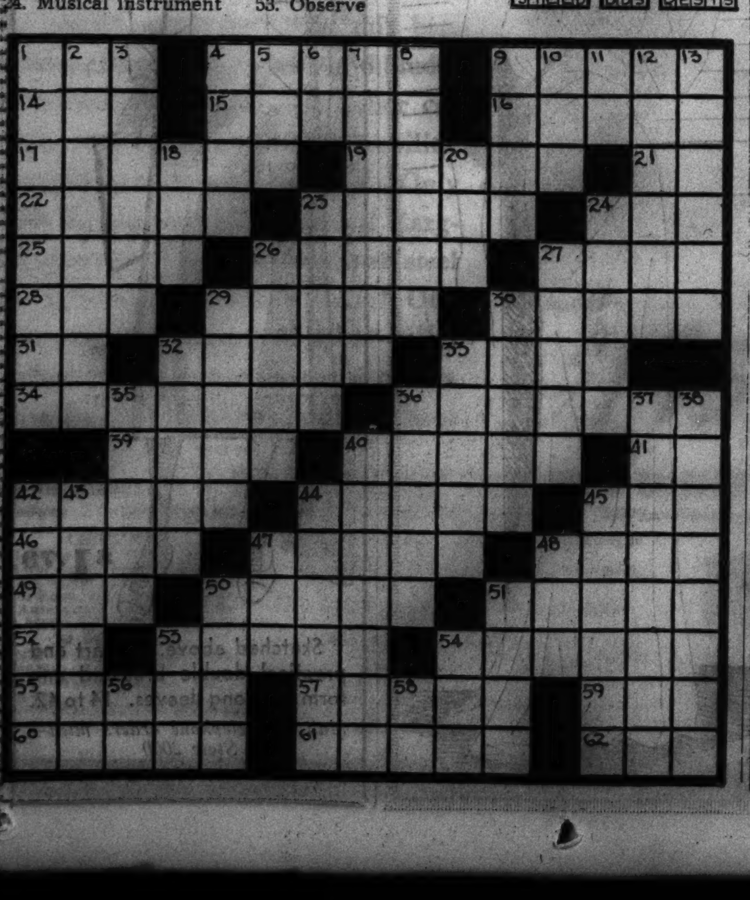
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





AGREE TO 90 PCT. LEVY ON UNPAID PROCESSING TAX

Plan to Avoid Excises in Present Revenue Bill.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—Definite agreements on all major phases of a proposed new corporation tax and a "windfall" levy on income resulting from nonpayment or refunding of AAA processing taxes were announced early tonight by a house ways and means subcommittee.

Chairman Samuel B. Hill [Dem., Wash.] smilingly told reporters: "We are pretty well to the point where we can formulate a report."

He added that he expected the report, on which the full ways and means committee will start hearings next Monday, would be ready "late in the week."

Still in question was a controversial proposal for new processing taxes. Most subcommitteemen are opposed to them. It is hoped also to avoid the imposition of excise taxes at this session. Some said there was a possibility the processing tax suggestion would not be acted upon now.

Six Point Plan Agreed Upon.

The subcommittee agreed to recommend to the full committee:

1. A 90 per cent "windfall" tax on income resulting from nonpayment or refunds of AAA processing taxes, with a yield of $100,000,000 and upward.

2. Continuation of the capital stock tax through June 30, with the rate cut from $1.40 to 70 cents per $1,000 of capital stock and repeal of this tax on July 1.

3. Continuation of the excess profits tax during the present taxable year, which varies for individual corporations, and repeal at the end of the year.

4. That dividends declared by a corporation in excess of net income in any one year be allowed to be credited in the next two successive years to distribution of income.

5. That normal taxes and surtaxes on incomes apply to dividends declared out of funds accumulated by corporations prior to March 1, 1913.

6. That sections of the present revenue law providing surtaxes on personal holding companies and on corporations formed to permit stockholders to evade surtaxes on their incomes be repealed as unnecessary.

Replace Corporate Levies.

The subcommittee previously had agreed on a schedule of taxes on net statutory income of corporations, with rates keyed to the amount of net income diverted to reserves. These would replace present corporate income levies.

President Roosevelt has suggested to congress that 620 million dollars additional government income be produced from taxes on dividends and undistributed earnings of corporations and 517 million dollars over two or three years from the windfall levy and processing taxes on agricultural commodities.

Hill said the subcommittee's revision of the corporate tax proposal would lower the anticipated yield by 29 million dollars, but that the decision to maintain the excess profits and capital stock levies temporarily would bring in 83 million dollars not previously counted on.

18 Millions Short of Goal.

Some congressmen, speculating privately on the chances for avoiding taxes on products that go on the voters' dinner tables, figured that 591 million dollars from the new corporation tax, 100 millions from the windfall, and 83 millions from capital stock and excess profits taxes would add up to 774 million dollars.

That is only 18 millions short of the 792 million dollars sought annually for the next three years in the Roosevelt revenue program.

Hill emphasized, however, that there had been no decision as to whether processing taxes should be in or out of prospective legislation.

DIVORCE TO WIFE, 79, TERMINATES 32 YEARS OF SEPARATE SUPPORT

Judge Joseph Sabath in Superior court yesterday terminated the separate maintenance decree awarded Mrs. Charlotte M. Weightman, 79 years old, 843 Roscoe street, in 1904 from her husband, Charles, 76 years old, owner of a book store at 1204 East 55th street, and granted her a divorce.

The court acted under the recently enacted divorce statute which provides that either husband or wife after two years of separate maintenance may sue for divorce on grounds of desertion. Weightman, who has been paying $7 a week in alimony to his estranged wife, had filed for the divorce, but the decree was granted to Mrs. Weightman on her cross bill.

Mrs. Weightman testified they were married in 1892 and separated Oct. 10, 1903. "During our married life I made him five suits and two overcoats," she testified, "but he said I was not a good wife." She received an insurance policy worth $1,000 in lieu of alimony.

$13,000 Verdict Returned Against Ex-Envoy's Kin

A $13,000 verdict was returned yesterday by a jury in the Superior court of Judge Martin Gridley in a personal injury suit against Roy Hochmuth, 528 Oakdale avenue, a son-in-law of the late Charles Vopicka, former ambassador to Poland and head of the Atlas Brewing company. Albert Eycleshymer, 32 years old, an insurance salesman who resides at 201 Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park, received $12,000, and Miss Virginia Bentley, 28, 10 West Elm street, was awarded $1,000. Both were injured when riding in a car driven by Hochmuth the night of May 20, 1934.

NEW DEAL STRIKE BOARD STEPS IN SHIP LABOR ROW

Orders a Poll to Decide Unions' Strength.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—The labor relations board entered the international mercantile marine labor dispute today with an order for an election among the company's engineers.

These troubles, an outgrowth of the struggle between conservatives and left-wingers for control of the maritime unions, in the last week have brought conflict of opinion in President Roosevelt's cabinet and forced the cancelation or delay of several steamer sailings.

Labor department officials expressed hope today that peace would be restored on the New York water front within a few days and threatened strikes averted.

Order an Early Vote.

The labor board ordered those engineers employed between last Nov. 7 and March 21 to vote, upon return from their voyage out of New York, whether they wanted to be represented by the International Union of Operating Engineers, the United Licensed Officers of the U. S. A., or the National Marine Engineers Beneficial association.

The International Union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, asked for the election, claiming a membership of 85 among the 120 engineers employed by the International Mercantile Marine and its subsidiaries; the American Merchant Line, the Panama Pacific Line, and the United States Lines.

At a hearing on the election petition the United claimed a majority of the engineers and the Beneficial association 82 per cent.

Will Bargain with Either.

"Throughout the hearing and in its briefs the company emphasized its willingness to bargain with any organization which could demonstrate that it represented its employés," the board said.

The company asked that engineers who wanted to represent themselves individually be given an opportunity to express their preference on the ballot. It also sought division of the engineers into various grades for representation purposes. The board overruled both requests.

Seamen aboard the Panama Pacific liner California recently walked off at San Pedro, Cal., with a demand for higher pay. Secretary Perkins induced them, three days later, to take the ship to New York. Before the vessel landed Secretary Roper asked the justice department, over Miss Perkins' protest, to arrest the strike leaders on charges of mutiny.

ACTOR SNATCHES BARBER'S RAZOR, SLASHES THROAT

Boston, Mass., March 23.—[Special.]—Paul J. McCullough, 52, of Brookline, member of the musical comedy team of Clark and McCullough, was in a serious condition in Medford tonight after slashing his throat with a razor he had wrested from a barber who was about to shave him. McCullough had been a patient at the New England sanitarium for a month and was discharged from the institution today. He was met by Frank T. Ford of Boston, who was to take him to his home. The actor asked Ford to stop the car for ten minutes while he went to be shaved. The barber had finished lathering McCullough's face when the actor leaped from the chair, snatched the razor from his hand, and slashed his throat.

Dear Mr. Porter:

During my 30 years experience in the Havana tobacco business I have never heard of any one else using top grades of Havana tobacco for nickel cigars. These grades, as you know, have been used only in cigars selling for 10¢ and upward. Therefore I know that this new 5¢ LA PALINA is bound to be a wonderful cigar.

Following your instructions, I bought only the best tobacco that money could buy, and I am so sure that I have done a good job for you that I assume all the moral and material responsibility of your purchases. You know that I have not depended upon my personal judgment alone, but have been aided by the knowledge and experience of the entire organization of Menendez and Company, who have specialized in this kind of tobacco for a great many years.

With best regards to you all, I am,

NEW DEAL COST GOES ABOVE 20 BILLION DOLLARS

Spend 28½ Million Per Day in Last Week.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—The expenditures of President Roosevelt and the New Deal today crossed the 20 billion dollar mark.

The tempo of New Deal spending increased to $28,600,000 a day, or $200,000 per minute, during the last week as compared with 12½ million a day for the week previous. Approximately two dollars are spent for every one taken into the treasury.

This increasing outlay for both the ordinary departments of government and alphabetical agencies that spring into being over night has raised the public debt, as carried in the daily treasury statement, to an all time record peak of 31 billion 441 million dollars. When Mr. Roosevelt took office March 4, 1933, the debt amounted to 20 billion 936 millions.

The treasury statement fails to record 4 billion 620 millions in obligations guaranteed by the United States government. These are the bonds issued by the Federal Farm Mortgage, Home Owners' Loan, and Reconstruction Finance corporations.

Since these obligations must some day be redeemed just as the treasury bonds, notes, and bills must be paid, the total public debt burden the nation is now carrying is 36 billion 61 millions.

The public debt will continue to skyrocket during the remainder of the year under the impact of periodic heavy borrowings for 23 departments, and agencies have authorizations from congress to spend an additional 5 billion 901 millions over and above their expenditures to date.

Exclusive of Routine Costs.

This sum of nearly 6 billion dollars is exclusive of specific appropriations for ordinary costs of running the government and represents the huge sums asked by President Roosevelt and granted by congress for the far-flung experiments of the New Deal.

Despite this huge spending reservoir the President has asked congress for an additional 1½ billions to spend on "recovery and relief" during the next fiscal year.

A major portion of the unspent billions represents the balance of the 4 billion 880 million dollar appropriation granted by congress last year to President Roosevelt to spend as he saw fit.

Under this "world's largest appropriation" the biggest spender to date has been the Works Progress administration, headed by Harry L. Hopkins. WPA has consumed $657,510,306 since last summer and still has $710,840,587 to spend.

Deficit Now 10½ Billions.

The accumulated deficit under Roosevelt and the New Deal has now reached the staggering total of $10,405,200,000 for the three years and two weeks of the régime. By way of comparison, Hoover's accumulated deficit was $3,491,800,000 for his full four year term.

Under Hoover the total receipts from taxes and all other forms of revenue amounted to 12 billion 473½ millions, while expenditures were $15,965,300,000.

Under Roosevelt to date the receipts have amounted to $10,650,800,000 and expenditures $20,024,700,000.

$13,138,000 of $17,100,000 Estate Will Go for Taxes

Riverhead, N. Y., March 23.—[Special.]—The combined federal and New York state inheritance and transfer taxes on the individual estate of the late Col. Henry H. Rogers will total $13,138,000, according to a brief filed in Surrogate's court by attorneys for Miss Millicent Rogers Balcom, Col. Rogers' daughter. Rogers' will disposes of his individual estate, the estimated value of which is $17,100,000.

PLACE BAN ON WPA ENTERTAINMENT AT POLITICAL RALLIES

Ralph Burke, deputy administrator of the Works Progress administration in Illinois, announced last night that WPA actors and musicians would not supply entertainment at political rallies and meetings.

His announcement came after Mrs. Kate F. O'Connor, chairman of a Winnebago county women's organization, backing Gov. Horner, had objected to the use of a 40 piece WPA band at a Bundesen meeting in Rockford.

"Since we cannot furnish enough talent to meet all requests," Burke said, "and since talent to any one group would identify the WPA with that organization, there will be no entertainment provided for political meetings at federal expense."

Surveyors Electrocuted as Tape Hits High Line

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—[Special.]—Charles Fox, 26, and Wendel R. Nesbitt, 29, surveyors, were electrocuted today when they sought to stretch their 500 foot steel tapeline across a deep ravine in the Baldwin hills and the tape came in contact with an electric high tension line.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER.

The body of Orville Burrison, 54 years old, of Midland, Ontario, was taken from the Calumet river at East 94th street yesterday. A card in a pocket identified him as the caretaker of the grain steamer Osler.

WPA OFFICIAL IS FORCED TO QUIT ANTI-RED GROUP

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Under pressure from officials of the WPA Federal theater project, Maj. William L. Ball, finance officer of the project, has been forced to resign the presidency of the Federal Theater Veterans league, the anti-communist organization which has been protesting to Washington the use of relief funds for the presentation of "Red" propaganda.

Maj. Ball has been expecting dismissal daily since his organization came out openly in its anti-communist fight despite the plea of Victor F. Ridder, WPA administrator here, for patriotic relief workers to band together to combat the efforts of radical groups to interfere with relief work.

His fears seemed to have materialized on Saturday when he received notice that he was to be transferred from the theater project to the highway department as an accountant.

Members of the Veterans league, which has aroused considerable criticism of the theater project by its protests over the appearance of a character representing Earl Browder, American communist party secretary, on the stage in the production, "Triple A Plowed Under," condemning the Supreme court, and for the proposed production of the "Class of '29," a play with emphasis on communism, charge that officials of the project, who have defended these plays, would like to see their organization made impotent.

JUDGE DECIDES GIRL IS MOTHER OF SONNY BOY

But Ruling on Custody of Child Is Delayed.

plater, who is 33 years old and lives with his bride at 4438 North Racine avenue. His marriage to Margaret Mann in Valparaiso, Ind., on March 14 was a secret until last Thursday when the young woman was compelled to reveal it under cross-examination on the witness stand. She has never disclosed, however, the name of Sonny Boy's father, although she has declared it is not Fletcher.

Dr. Mordoff did not smile at Judge Desort's decision. He left the courtroom quickly.

Sonny Boy was not in court. He was sound asleep in Dr. Mordoff's home, where he has lived almost all his life. Judge Desort said that the youngster is to remain with the doctor until a final decision on custody is reached. This has been Sonny Boy's status throughout the litigation, although Mrs. Fletcher has been permitted to visit her son on Wednesdays and Sundays.

Attorneys Confer Today.

The conference of the attorneys on the custody question will be held at 11:30 this morning in the office of Attorney Benjamin Davis, who has acted as friend of the court during the hearings. Proposals are to be submitted by Attorney Edwin Robson, representing Mrs. Fletcher, and by Attorney Harry X. Cole, counsel for Dr. Mordoff. The lawyers will report to Judge Desort at 12:30 p. m.

This case came before the judge last Feb. 13, three days after the death of Mrs. Mordoff. Two days after her death Mrs. Fletcher—still Miss Mann—swore out a warant in Wilmette for the doctor's arrest on a charge that he had kidnaped Sonny Boy. Then, for the first time, she revealed her claim to the child.

It developed also that before Mrs. Mordoff's death she had filed a suit for separate maintenance against the doctor. This case was set for hearing before Judge Desort. When the dispute arose over Sonny Boy's parentage and custody the judge made the child a ward of his court and took charge of the hearings.

Closing Testimony of Case.

Testimony in the case was concluded in afternoon and evening sessions yesterday. The principal witnesses were Dr. Mordoff's son, Gordon II., 21 years old, and the doctor's foster-daughter, Mary Margaret, 17 years old, who testified in behalf of their father, and Mrs. Mary Fairchild, 503 Chestnut street, Winnetka, a sister of the late Mrs. Mordoff, who was a witness for Mrs. Fletcher.

Young Mordoff appeared nervous as he took the stand. Attorney Davis asked him if he were sure he was a son of the doctor. Gordon said he knew he was a Mordoff because his father had told him so. Mrs. Fairchild was then called to the stand.

"What do you know about Gordon's parentage?" asked Attorney Davis.

"My sister came to my home when I lived in Chicago 22 years ago," Mrs. Fairchild related. "She told me she had lost a baby in Minneapolis, that she was heartbroken, and that she could not return home without a child. The Mordoffs were then living in Hettinger, N. D.

Go to Foundling Home.

"She asked me to go with her to a foundling home on the west side. My sister wanted a boy with brown eyes. The head of the home brought in a 2 day old boy, Gordon Mordoff. My sister was delighted. She took the baby and stayed at my home for two weeks after telegraphing her husband and telling him a baby had been born to her. Then she took the child home."

Never Told, Doctor Says.

It was her impression, Mrs. Fairchild added, that Dr. Mordoff was never told that Gordon was not his own son.

"Of course I was never told," Dr. Mordoff said to friends at the end of his sister-in-law's testimony. "The whole thing is a fabrication, made out of whole cloth. It is absurdly ridiculous."

When Mrs. Fairchild began testifying Dr. Mordoff's daughter, Mary Margaret, started weeping. She testified on Saturday that she had learned from Dr. Mordoff two years ago that she was a foster child.

Mary Margaret's sobbing became hysterical when court recessed at the conclusion of her aunt's testimony. She buried her face in her hands. As women spectators pushed close around her she cried:

"O, please leave me alone. Leave me alone. Mommy, mommy, I want you. Make them leave me alone."

Girl Called to Testify.

When the evening session opened Attorney Davis called Mary Margaret to the stand. He asked her why she had wept during her aunt's testimony.

"Because my aunt always said she loved my mother," replied Mary Margaret, tears again forming in her eyes. "Now that mother is dead, my aunt is bringing up all this stuff and dragging mother's name in the mire."

Q.—Do you know who your real parents are? A.—No.

Q.—Would you like to know? A.—Yes, I would.

Q.—Do you know any one who knows? A.—I believe my father does.

Attorney Davis then asked Judge Desort to compel Dr. Mordoff to divulge the names of his foster daughter's parents.

Attorney Cole objected. At Judge Desort's suggestion this line of questioning was dropped and Mary Margaret was dismissed.

TWO BABIES "GIVEN AWAY" ARE AWARDED TO FATHER BY COURT

Redwood City, Cal., March 23.—(AP)—Two babies given away recently in a San Francisco park were put in temporary care of their father, Edward Marion Jones, of San Bruno, by Superior court today.

Jones filed suit for divorce from his 22 year old wife, Linda, charging she deserted him and he was unable to find her until he read of her "notorious acts" in giving the children away.

The case came to official attention when it was reported neighbors of the young mother had gone to a park and inquired of women on benches there if any one wanted a baby.

Today the young mother was in court, and held one baby tightly in her arms during proceedings. At the San Francisco hearing she readily admitted her interest in another man she hopes to marry "if we can ever get money for divorces."

JIMMY WALKER CHANGES MIND; ADOPTS A BABY

James J. Walker, ex-mayor of New York, and his wife, the former Betty Compton of the stage, appeared unexpectedly yesterday before County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki and obtained a final order for the adoption of a baby girl, 6 weeks old, from the Cradle in Evanston.

The adoption came as a surprise. Both Walker and his wife had announced last Thursday the proceedings would be dropped when a preliminary hearing which they tried to keep secret was made public. At that time the dapper ex-mayor made wrathful comments on the publicity and declared flatly there would be no adoption.

Change Their Minds.

Yesterday, however, the Walkers explained they had changed their minds and decided they wanted the baby—publicity or no.

"We decided the best thing was to go through with the adoption and obtain the baby to complete our happiness," Walker told reporters yesterday.

The Walkers arrived in Chicago in the morning and went directly to Judge Jarecki's court. After a brief hearing in which Walker reaffirmed his desire for the baby and his ability to provide support, Judge Jarecki initialed the adoption order and said he would sign the decree Saturday. The child was not present during the hearing.

Judge Impounds Records.

At the request of Walker, Judge Jarkecki impounded the adoption records so that the identity of the baby will remain a secret. Walker refused to give reporters a description of the baby except to say it has blue eyes. It will be named Mary Patricia Walker, he said.

"The life of this baby will begin with its adoption," Walker said. "Her care will be entirely up to Mrs. Walker. It is a great responsibility and she is ready to give her all."

Mrs. Walker, attired in a brown ensemble, was nibbling a piece of licorice candy while reporters questioned her husband. She had little to say. "I am thrilled, of course," she said. "We have everything in readiness for Mary Patricia and we will do everything we can to make her life happy."

Walker and his wife left later in the day for New York without the baby. Officials of the Cradle said they had not visited the home. The former mayor said they would leave the baby at the Cradle for several days. "We want this baby to start life anew," he said. "We will permit no pictures to be taken either now or ever."

As they left the court Walker hinted other adoptions might follow. "I'm sure Betty will be so happy with Mary Patricia that we may make other moves in this direction," he declared.

RED CHARGED WITH IMMIGRATION LIE IS FREED BY U. S. COURT

Charles Sotis, 33 years old, 10701 Stephenson avenue, a machinist charged with perjury in obtaining his naturalization papers, was freed yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly on a directed verdict of not guilty, on the ground evidence against him was obtained by the police illegally.

Sotis, a Pole, entered the United States in 1923 from Canada. He obtained citizenship papers Aug. 7, 1930, swearing he was well disposed toward the government and not affiliated with any organization opposed to the government.

He was arrested when he applied for a police permit for a communist parade July 30, 1931, and the police searched his home, finding literature and documents showing Sotis to be a member of the communist party. His attorney, D. J. Bentall, made a successful motion for a not guilty verdict on the ground the police Sotis' home without a warant in his absence.

Mrs. Getschow Recovering from Overdose of Potion

Mrs. Beulah Getschow, 41 years old, divorcée and former dancer, was recovering last night in the American hospital from an overdose of sleeping potion. Physicians at the hospital said the drug had been prescribed and that Mrs. Getschow apparently took an overdose. She was found early yesterday unconscious in her apartment in the Edgewater hotel, 5452 Broadway, where she registered three days ago as Mrs. M. Quiry. Mrs. Getschow was awarded a divorce in 1928 from Roy M. Getschow, secretary of the Phillips-Getschow company, heating contractors.

CONDUCTOR DIES SUDDENLY.

Carl Larson, 45 years old, 6061 Ridge avenue, a street car conductor, died yesterday, supposedly of a heart attack after he collapsed at Ridge and Peterson avenues.

5 ON PLANE DOWN AT SEA TAXI IN TO CUBA HAVEN

Miami, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Five men, who spent a dangerous night at sea aboard the disabled coast guard amphibian plane Arcturus, reported to the air base here that they had arrived safely at Neuvitas, Cuba, this afternoon.

Buffeted by rough seas and with a damaged aileron which prevented it from flying, the plane taxied into Neuvitas harbor today when the water became calmer.

The Arcturus, taking a physician to a sick girl aboard the freighter Tillie Lykes, alighted at sea late yesterday off point Maternillo, Cuba, but high seas prevented transfer of the doctor or a take-off.

By air, sea, and land two governments had moved swiftly to the rescue. United States planes and a cutter sped to her assistance and the Cuban government mobilized shore forces.

CLUE TO AL CAPONE'S INCOME KEPT FOR U. S. BY MEREST CHANCE

A loose leaf ledger seized by police in 1926 in a raid on the Hawthorne Smoke shop in Cicero provided by accident in 1929 the original clues in the federal investigation of Al Capone's income, according to Dwight H. Green, former United States District attorney, who spoke yesterday at a luncheon of the Junior Association of Commerce at the Morrison hotel.

Police made the raid shortly after the slaying of Assistant State's Attorney William McSwiggin, Green said, and the ledger was turned over to federal agents investigating prohibition cases.

Three years later, the former district attorney declared, the ledger which was being used as a paper weight on the desk of Agent Frank Wilson, was found to contain the first accurate evidence of the gangster's income.

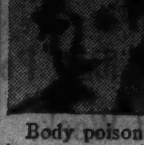
APPEALS COURT DENIES EX-WIFE $10,000 INSURANCE

The Illinois Appellate court ruled yesterday against Mrs. Vera Beryl Williams of the Seneca hotel, in her efforts to collect the $10,000 insurance policy on the life of her divorced husband, Weir Williams, sales director of the Bankers' Commercial corporation, who killed himsef a year ago, a few weeks after his divorce.

The opinion of the Appellate court reversed the ruling of Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski in Circuit court awarding the money to Mrs. Williams and directed that the insurance funds be paid to Williams' father Carl S. Williams of Evanston.

In her suit Mrs. Williams charged that a few hours before her husband committed suicide he visited the offices of the insurance company and had the beneficiary of his policy changed from herself to his father. The actual change, however, was not made until after Williams' death, her bill alleged. The Appellate court held that the change became effective at the time Williams ordered it.

You Don't Need a BEAUTIFUL FACE



Beautiful features are not necessary. Real beauty comes from the inside, a healthy body, a lovely complexion and lots of pep. That is what men admire.

Body poisons that are not eliminated properly are the cause of most unattractive, sallow, pimply complexions. If your blood is poisoned by wastes from constipated bowels, your skin often breaks out or looks dull and muddy.

Adlerika quickly and pleasantly removes these wastes from both bowels. Adlerika brings out foul matter that may have poisoned you for months, ruining your complexion and upsetting your system.

Miss E. S., Converse, Tex., says: "I have used Adlerika for just two weeks and I am amazed at how it has cleared up my complexion."

Mrs. W. T. M., Louisville, Ky.: "My eyes were dull and my complexion poor. After trying Adlerika almost every one commented on my complexion. It has lost its sallowness and my eyes have a new sparkle."

Let Adlerika help YOU to clear up your complexion and make it smooth, clear and admirably lovely. Try Adlerika for just one week and see what an amazing difference it makes in how you look and feel. Sold by all druggists and drug departments.

CONDON AGREES TO HAUPTMANN QUIZ IN HIS HOME

Will Face Governor, but Doubts His Fairness.

Trenton, N. J., March 23.—(AP)—Dr. John F. [Jafsie] Condon, whose departure for Panama two months ago was termed "highly significant" by Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, agreed tonight to submit to examination by the governor, but questioned whether it would be "impartial."

Gov. Hoffman said he had not received the telegram made public by Dr. Condon in New York and would not comment pending its receipt.

Reviews His Activities.

In the telegram Dr. Condon offered to receive at his Bronx home the governor, whose investigation of the Bruno Richard Hauptmann case included a demand for questioning of the Lindbergh ransom intermediary, and Attorney General David T. Wilentz.

Dr. Condon added:

"I have concluded because of your reported activities and of utterances attributed to you in the public press that you are disqualified from conducting an impartial examination on a fair basis."

Continuing, Condon's letter said:

"Let me briefly resume my activities in connection with the Lindbergh case for the last four years.

"I voluntarily participated in the attempt to regain the kidnaped child with the sole desire of assisting Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh in the recovery of their baby. And I worked directly with Col. Breckinridge, Col. Lindbergh's counsel and adviser, as well as with the department of justice and other police agencies.

Home Base of Operations.

"I converted my home into a base of operations for the department of justice. I testified before the Bronx grand jury in the spring of 1932 and willingly waived all immunity for my testimony.

"I testified at the trial of the defendant and my testimony is a matter of public record.

"I returned voluntarily a week ago from my trip in Panama and since my return have been pleased to receive the attorney general of the state and a representative of the New Jersey state police in my home. I do not believe that you have any legal authority or justification for your present activities and I further seriously doubt your sincerity and good taste.

Calls Governor Unfair.

"Although you have apparently usurped the functions of the court and the duly constituted investigating officials and despite your unfairness I have nevertheless decided to permit you to confer with me at my home as above indicated."

Dr. Condon made public the telegram shortly after Assemblyman John M. Kerner of Union county announced he had prepared for introduction in the legislature a resolution for a complete investigation of the Lindbergh case, including the activities of Gov. Hoffman, Wilentz, and the New Jersey state police.

Kerner, a supporter of Hoffman's administration, withheld introduction tonight because he said he felt it might be interpreted as giving the governor grounds for a new reprieve. The governor said he did not intend to stay execution, now set for March 31 at 8 p. m.

Said to Have New Evidence.

Hoffman, authoritative sources disclosed tonight, has developed new evidence in the Lindbergh kidnap-murder case which he considered sufficiently material to seek clemency for Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

The governor conferred last week with Attorney General David J. Wilentz, Hauptmann's prosecutor, and the informant said the governor suggested that they together request a commutation of the death penalty to life imprisonment before the New Jersey Pardons court. The governor is presiding officer of the court.

The attorney general, to whom the governor did not reveal the nature of the reported new evidence, was noncommittal tonight.

Slayer of U. S. Agent Hanged After He Discusses Execution

Indianapolis, Ind., March 24 [Tuesday].—(AP)—The United States government today hanged George W. Barrett, 53, for the murder last August of Nelson B. Klein, government agent. The trap was sprung at 12:02 a. m. and Barrett was pronounced dead ten minutes later. Barrett was hanged by the United States government under a new law giving federal courts jurisdiction when a federal officer is slain.

Barrett was carried to the gallows on a stretcher and had to be supported by deputy marshals while the black hood and noose were affixed by Phil Hanna, Epworth, Ill., farmer, who had officiated at 68 other hangings.

50 Official Witnesses.

The trap was sprung by Arthur Reeves, deputy sherif, who had volunteered for the duty. There were 50 official witnesses, including two women, in the tented enclosure in the Marion county jail yard where the hanging took place.

Shortly before he was hanged Barrett said, "I've forgiven everybody." He qualified this by saying he had not forgiven one of his guards. When the guard learned that he entered the cell. They talked for a few minutes and then shook hands.

While he stood on the scaffold, apparently in a stupor, attired only in white borrowed pajamas, Barrett was asked if he had any last word. There was no response.

The Rev. Mr. McShane, his spiritual adviser, intoned a prayer in Latin and then said, "May God rest his soul." With those words the trap was sprung.

Discusses His Hanging.

Barrett several hours previously had calmly discussed his execution with Hanna, who took up hanging as an avocation to "do the job in a humane way" after seeing a man "brutally" hanged when he was a youngster.

Although Hanna had helped put more than 68 persons to death on the scaffold, he was considerably more nervous than Barrett during their strange conversation. At times they were forced to raise their voices because of the hammers clanging outside the Kentuckian's cell window where carpenters worked in the jail yard on his tented scaffold.

"What Do You Do?"

"What part do you do in this?" Barret asked, sipping coffee in which he "dunked" toast.

"What do you mean?" Barrett asked calmly.

"I mean the rope," the expert hangman said in a low tone.

"O, yes, yes, the rope. I didn't understand you," Barrett said, and went on with his "dunking."

After a pause Hanna asked Barrett, who was wounded in both legs in the gun battle at West College Corner, Ind., last Aug. 16, in which the federal agent, Nelson B. Klein, was killed, whether he could stand on the scaffold. Barrett attended his trial in a wheel chair.

He'll Try to Oblige.

"I'll do my best," the feudist stanchly replied, "but how about sitting in a chair?"

"I'm afraid that can't be arranged. The scaffold is too low for that."

Referring to the pounding outside, which didn't seem to disturb him in the least, Barrett told one of his jailers:

"I'd five times rather die that way than be electrocuted."

Barrett, who had many brushes with the law and who was twice tried for the murder of his sister and mother, was convicted by a jury in federal court here under a statute which provides for death on the gallows as the maximum penalty. This form of execution consequently will be carried out, although hanging has been illegal in Indiana for years.

Trafic Light Bandits Rob Couple of Cash and Coat

Herman Shapiro, 6506 North Leavitt street, and his wife Anna were robbed of $11 and Mrs. Shapiro's fur coat, valued at $700, last night by two gunmen. One of the men entered their car as Shapiro stopped for a trafic signal at Ridge and Peterson avenues and forced him to drive to Glenlake and Winchester avenues. There the other robber, who had followed in another automobile, joined his pal. Mrs. Shapiro saved her wedding ring.

Head of Closed Bank Cited for Failure to Pay Deficit

A citation for William L. Martin, former president of the closed Kenwood state bank, was issued yesterday by Judge Walter P. Steffen in Superior court. The order was entered when Martin failed to pay an alleged $250 shortage in his accounts as manager for the receiver of a two story building at 3825 Montrose avenue. Attorney Cameron Latter, representing Martin, said that his client was out of town on business, but that he was expected back Wednesday. A previous citation for Martin was vacated recently when he made up an alleged shortage in receivership accounts on a 13 apartment building at 4854 Christiana avenue.

HOWARD HOLDS FILMS 'CINCH' BESIDE STAGE

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Great film "names" do not mean that their owners could "hold" a scene in the legitimate theater, Sidney Howard, president of the Dramatists' guild and top flight scenario writer, told the graduating class of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts this afternoon at the Empire theater.

Choosing names at random from among the screen's elect, Howard said: "I don't believe for a minute that the great names of Joan Crawford or Greta Garbo mean that they can hold a scene on the stage. They don't know how. They have never learned their job. I have seen; I know how acting is done in Hollywood. It isn't done in front of the camera. It is done in the cutting room."

Warns Them to Choose.

While fifty-six senior students listened raptly, Howard warned them vigorously to choose with care between the stage and screen. Success in Hollywood, he declared, meant an easy life of swimming pools and Spanish patios. The stage, he admitted, might be a succession of "headaches."

Admitting that his approach to the subject was "rather hardboiled," the speaker went on to intimate that screen acting is not acting at all.

"You can't learn to act by standing in front of a camera for a minute and a half, two minutes, or three minutes," he said, "three minutes is a long time in pictures. You can't learn to act by doing that one or two or three times with no audience, no applause, no communion with the audience."

Jane Cowl Tells of Job.

Jane Cowl, also a guest of honor at today's exercises, spoke briefly of an actor's duties to his audience, cautioning her hearers that a career on the stage is "an oath of allegiance" which precludes "all personal likes, inclinations and foibles."

By contrast with the ease of a Hollywood career, Howard cited the drudgery and repetition suffered by actors on the stage and wondered "how in God's name they stand it—the hours, saying the same words over and over, the incredible sticktoitiveness of a really honest, sincere, hard working actor."

Charging that Hollywood "has a sinister effect on people who go there," Howard admitted that he had experienced it himself.

2 Gunmen Rob 'L' Cashier of $295 and 300 Phone Slugs

Miss Josephine Walsh, 5327 West Monroe street, cashier at the Fullerton elevated station, was held up last night by two gunmen who fled with $295 and 300 telephone slugs.

NIMBLE JOSEPH ELUDES 3D RAIL, BUT NOT POLICE

Joseph Savcik, 25 years old, 5927 South Springfield avenue, grew weary waiting for an elevated train last night at the Belmont avenue station. To pass the time he climbed down on the tracks. Then he walked up and down, hopping over a third rail now and then.

A train came from the north. A train came from the south. Both stopped. For fifteen minutes the track walker amused crowds which gathered on the platforms, but because of the danger nobody cared to tussle Savcik.

Policemen James Newell and John Walsh arrived from the Sheffield avenue station and Savcik shouted insults at them. "I can lick any Irish so-and-so on the police force," he announced. Policeman Newell doubted that. He climbed to the tracks and poked Savcik in the mouth, threw him over his shoulder, and hoisted him up to his partner on the platform.

POLITICS TAKES A PRESIDENTIAL TURN IN CHICAGO

Crowe Upholds Borah's Primary Fight.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Presidential politics in Chicago in both Republican and Democratic camps yesterday took on a variety of manifestations.

Borah headquarters labored over an itinerary that will take Senator William E. Borah of Idaho on a platform tour of downstate Illinois early next month in his contest with Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, in the Republican presidential preference primary April 14.

Preparations to flood President Roosevelt with 813,612 petition signatures were made by the Cook county Democratic organization. According to Pat A. Nash, county chairman, the object in circulating the petitions was to give New Dealers a chance to express themselves ahead of the primaries. The President is the only entrant in the Democratic preferential primary and the Democrats seek the largest vote possible.

At headquarters more than 500,000 pledge cards signed by Chicago voters were presented to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Democratic organization candidate for governor, and others on the slate.

Crowe Hits Certifying Board.

The Illinois certifying board was reproached for not certifying Senator Borah's name for position at the top of the ballot throughout the state, as first man to file, in a radio address by Robert E. Crowe, former state's attorney. Under the law, he said, top place goes to the first filed.

"Yet," said Mr. Crowe, "we find that the certifying board, headed by Gov. Horner, certified to one-half the county clerks the name of Knox as having been filed first and these county clerks will print his name first on the ballot. Gov. Horner's board has certified to the other one-half of the county clerks that Borah's petition was filed first and it is their duty to print Borah's name first.

"This is a flagrant violation of law and is a deliberate misstatement of the facts. It is deliberately done for the purpose of giving Col. Knox an unfair advantage to which he is not entitled under the law.

"Well, four years ago Col. Knox bitterly denounced Len Small and fulsomely praised Henry Horner.

"Result: Horner was saddled upon the people of Illinois as their governor, and then Uncle Henry Horner saddled upon us the 3 per cent sales tax, whereby every citizen, no matter how poor, pays the same tax on necessaries of life as the multi-millionaire pays. Henry, in return for the support Knox gave him, appointed Mr. Knox's assistant, Mr. Ames, director of finance of Illinois.

"Col. Knox now supports Uncle Henry Horner for renomination in the Democratic primary. Is there any connection between these facts and Horner's certifying board giving Col. Knox an unlawful advantage on the ballot over Senator Borah?

A Visit to Len Small.

"Knox, the candidate for president, quietly stole down to Kankakee last fall to visit Len Small, the man he had vilified and defeated for governor. Apparently a deal was made. Col. Knox now gives Small the use of his columns to denounce the 3 per cent sales tax that Knox's other candidate, Henry Horner, imposed on us. Apparently, everything is wheat that comes to Knox's mill.

"I don't believe there is a man in the Republican or Democratic party who has anything in his private life that he would not like to read in the daily papers or anything in his public life he would not want the state's attorney to investigate, that isn't wholeheartedly with Knox—or is at least giving him lip service in this campaign."

HORNER DECLARES HE'S CONFIDENT OF PEOPLE'S SUPPORT

Rochelle, Ill., March 23.—[Special:]—Gov. Henry Horner told an audience here this afternoon that in the April 14 primary "The people of Illinois will give a great demonstration in favor of good government."

"I am confident of the result, and it will be a victory for not only the Horner candidates for state offices but it will be a victory for the people of Illinois," the governor said. "The issue is entirely the people against bossism."

Gov. Horner continued to term Mayor Kelly of Chicago the political boss who seeks to dictate to the whole state of Illinois and who is attempting to use the Democratic party for his own selfish ends.

The governor also spoke at De Kalb today in the Teachers college auditorium. He stressed the accomplishments of his administration, and added:

"There are certain things that I want for our state of Illinois. I want the people of Illinois to be a little better, a little happier and a little more prosperous than those of other states; I want the children of Illinois to be a little better educated than the children of other states. Summed up, I want our state of Illinois to be a better state always than any other state in the nation."

HADLEY OUTLINES CAMPAIGN PLANS IN COOK COUNTY

Tells Reasons for Asking Chicago Support.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Interrupting his downstate campaigning for a day of conferences in Chicago, Charles W. Hadley, Republican candidate for attorney general, outlined at a luncheon of his Cook county committee at the Hotel La Salle yesterday the grounds upon which he will seek support in this territory during the final two weeks of the primary battle.

He emphasized particularly that he has a record on which he can go before the voters, a record as state's attorney of Du Page county, an an assistant attorney general and as chairman of the Illinois commerce commission. He also stressed the necessity of an "unimpeachable" Republican ticket in the November election.

No Quarrel with Chicago.

Without personalities, he also questioned the soundness of pleas for votes by any candidate for attorney general based on promises to take over the regular duties of the state's attorney's office in initiating election fraud prosecutions unless the local official is derelict in his duty or unable to perform it.

"I am not one that traduces Chicago," he said. "I know the people of Chicago vote honestly and in most instances the votes are counted honestly. I have no quarrel with any ward committeeman.

"This county is well able to govern itself and conduct honest elections. I don't think it will ever be necessary for the attorney general to seek to supersede the state's attorney of Cook county in order to insure honest elections.

Calls Honest Voting Vital.

"But if it should be necessary you may be sure that as attorney general I'd not hesitate a moment in doing my duty. Honest elections are a vital part of American life—of the life of any country where elections are permitted.

"I have no fear that votes will be stolen from me in the coming election. I believe I'm going to get so many that no political boss of past or present day would undertake the task of counting me out of the nomination."

Hadley reminded his hearers that four years ago when he ran for this same nomination he carried "nearly every county in the state."

"A popular favorite in Chicago, John E. Northup," he said, "was the choice of the people of this county and to him went the nomination. I did not complain or charge vote thefts. I gave him my assistance in the election campaign and was genuinely sorry when he did not succeed in his laudable ambition.

"In this campaign I have been assured of the same support given me downstate four years ago. So many Chicagoans have indorsed my candidacy and are giving me so much help that the result of the primary will give me the nomination for attorney general.

"I want to do my part in the campaign. I shall so conduct myself that when the votes are counted the night of April 14 the victors and the vanquished can unite to present a solid front and wage a concerted campaign to save the state and nation from desolation, crushing taxation and ruination."

His Life in Chicago.

Although he is a resident of Wheaton, Du Page county, Hadley pointed out that his life has had much to do with Chicago.

"For years," he said, "I represented Cook county as well as Du Page county in the attorney general's office and as chairman of the commerce commission. For years I have spent much of my time in Chicago, have worked in Chicago, have studied, eaten, slept and transacted business here.

"I feel at home here and you people of Chicago have made me welcome, you have coöperated with me and we have labored together. Now I want you to vote for me."

Hadley has only two opponents for the nomination for attorney general. One is Ald. B. A. Cronson [4th], a veteran member of the city council, who is putting up a strong independent campaign. The other is Thomas V. Sullivan, former attorney for the Chicago school board under a Republican administration.

SEN. BORAH TO RENEW HIS CAMPAIGN DRIVE IN MIDWEST APRIL 1

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho said today he would return to the middle west again in about a week to resume campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination. He will speak in Illinois and perhaps Wisconsin around April 1, and again in Ohio early in May. The Ohio primary is May 12.

Commenting on the promise of support from Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old age pension leader, Borah said he was glad to have it. He would not comment further except to assert that Dr. Townsend had not conferred with him about the announcement.

SPENDING ORGY OF NATION MUST END, SAYS BROOKS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—Wayland Brooks, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, was received enthusiastically by an audience of 1,500 at a mass-meeting here tonight. His attacks on New Deal extravagances in the operation of the federal government and his criticisms of the state Democratic administration in Illinois were applauded loudly.

Listeners included many faculty members and students of the University of Illinois where he was a student before leaving for war service. He devoted a considerable part of his address to education and pledged that if he is elected governor he will observe scrupulously the independence of the board of trustees of the university. The governor of the state is an ex-official member of the board. He promised also to make every effort to make the public school system in Illinois the equal of any in the country.

At his talk here and in an address earlier in the day at Watseka, Mr. Brooks condemned the orgy of spending by the New Dealers and declared that unless it is halted it can end only in drastic inflation or debt repudiation.

WOMAN'S BODY IDENTIFIED.

The body of a woman taken from the Douglas park lagoon yesterday was identified last night by Adolph Burger, 3145 South Lawndale avenue, as that of his wife Rose, who disappeared last November.

SIGHTSEERS WRECK VENEZUELA TORTURE PRISON, NOW MUSEUM

CARACAS, Venezuela, March 23.—(AP)—The Venezuelan government's plan of converting the old time torture prison, "La Rotunda," into a place for sightseers suffered by public modifications today.

The last of the prisoners held in La Rotunda were transferred last night to a modern jail, and the government planned to open the structure to public view.

The public entered at 10 o'clock and immediately began altering the interior of the ancient structure. Men, women, and children yanked locks and keys from doors and started moving out everything else which could be broken loose from the interior.

YAQUI INDIAN VILLAGE TO VOTE ON DRY ISSUE

Guadalupe, Ariz., March 23.—(AP)—This little village of Yaqui Indians, like the most prosaic of white communities, is wracked by the question of whether it shall be wet or dry.

Theodore Ramos, chief of the village's 500 inhabitants since 1900, is nearing 70 years and is to retire. Loretto Luna, a candidate for leadership, wants the Indians to "quit drinking and live by the rules of the church."

Jesus Flores, brother-in-law of Ramos, wants the job and is basing his campaign on the belief "every one should have a good time." The Yaquis will ballot Sunday.

MAYOR CHARGES GOV. HORNER IS DOG IN MANGER

Mayor Kelly accused Gov. Horner of "acting like a dog in the manger" last night in a 44th ward campaign speech at 2348 North Clark street in behalf of the governor's opponent for renomination, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen.

"Horner is working in the interests of the Republican party," the mayor declared, "because he is going around asserting that if he doesn't get the nomination no other Democrat will get the governorship. That certainly is playing the dog in the manger."

Declines to Enter "Gutter Fight."

Earlier in the evening in another campaign speech at St. Agnes community center, Archer avenue and Rockwell street, Mayor Kelly announced that he would not get into a "gutter fight" with Gov. Horner "in spite of the fact that he has been vicious in his attacks against me."

The mayor said he had "nothing personal" against the governor, but opposed him for renomination because of his advocacy of the sales tax and the dropping of the state tax on real estate, and because of the governor's administration of the prison system.

"Since Horner has been in office more men have been pardoned or paroled from the prisons than have been sent to the prisons," Mayor Kelly said. "It seems that if somebody could get money he could get out of prison."

The mayor asserted Gov. Horner "has a Lincoln complex; he is always trying to liken himself to Lincoln."

Campbell Sees Shift to Slate.

Bruce A. Campbell, state Democratic chairman, came here from Springfield headquarters yesterday to report that there is "a definite movement" toward the organization slate headed by Dr. Bundesen. He declared that Gov. Horner "is losing ground all along the line."

"I'm not ready yet to talk figures," said Chairman Campbell, "but every reliable indication points to a victory for our candidates. Dr. Bundesen has been making votes by the thousands with his straightforward talks to the voters in the counties outside of Cook. His ability to attract votes has not been overemphasized.

"More and more the feeling is growing in the rival organization, although that organization has been augmented by hundreds of new pay rollers, that the tremendous vote Bundesen will get in Cook county, along with his newly established popularity downstate, will render their efforts futile."

Forecasts Horner Victory.

James M. Slattery, Cook county manager of Gov. Horner's campaign, expressed confidence that the governor would be renominated in a speech yesterday before the Horner women's organization in the Hotel La Salle.

TUGS TAKE HUGE QUEEN MARY TO OPEN SEA TODAY

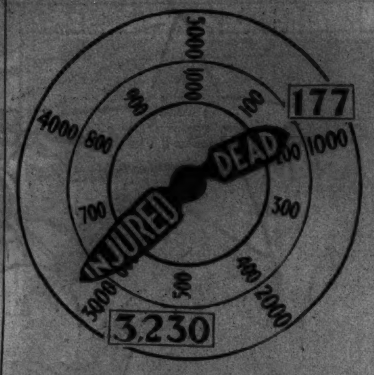
GLASGOW, Scotland, March 23.—(AP)—Great Britain's new super liner, the 80,773 ton Queen Mary, tomorrow will be taken by tugs on a four hour difficult journey down the Clyde to greet the open sea.

She is ready for trial runs in preparation for the day when she will make her bid for the blue ribbon of fast ocean travel. Capt. Duncan Cameron, veteran Clyde pilot, will be in charge. It was rumored King Edward VIII. might board the liner at Greenock to participate in the first trials, although it was regarded as more likely that a special royal cruise may be arranged.

Police estimated that close to a million spectators from all parts of Britain will cheer the progress of the ship from the banks of the Clyde. The journey marks the conclusion of three years of labor by 7,000 workmen in building the Queen Mary up from a keel laid Dec. 27, 1930. The economic crisis halted construction from December, 1931, to April, 1934. The ship is not as heavy or as long as her French Line rival, the Normandie. The Queen Mary was calibrated at 80,773 tons today and her length placed at 1,018 feet. The Normandie has a gross tonnage of 82,000, French Line officials say, and following recent alterations is 1,029½ feet long.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1936 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

WOMAN STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE OF STUDENT DIES

Mrs. Magdalena Kofsky, 68 years old, 3513 North Hermitage avenue, died early yesterday of injuries incurred when she was struck on March 20 at Lincoln and Cornelia avenue by an automobile driven by Sidney Olken, 17 years old, 4441 North Hamlin avenue, a student.

Charles Campbell, 45 years old, of 2963 Indiana avenue, a peddler, was killed last night when a hit-and-run automobile driver struck him at 32d street and Wentworth avenue. Another motorist carried Campbell to the Peoples hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Martin Schmaigel, 65 years old, 9034 Baltimore avenue, died yesterday in the South Chicago hospital from injuries incurred Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile in Burley avenue between 90th and 91st streets. Edward Borntraeger, 30 years old, 4138 North Whipple street, the driver of the car, was not held.

Frederick C. Crowe Jr., 28 years old, a taxicab driver, of 60 Forest avenue, Riverside, was seriously injured early today when his cab struck a Burlington railroad passenger train at the Main street crossing in Riverside. He was taken to the Berwyn hospital.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 212 persons had been killed in Cook county automobile accidents since Jan. 1, 177 of the total within the city limits. In the same period 3,230 were injured within the city.

SPEEDER PAYS $17 FINE; COMPLAINS OF CELL COOTIES

McCelland Wallace, 22 years old, 1448 Lake Shore drive, was fined $17 yesterday by Judge John Gutknecht in the Trafic court for speeding 68 miles an hour in Lake Shore drive. "I don't mind paying the fine," Wallace told the court, "but I do object to the lice in the Hudson avenue police station." Wallace said he was held in the lockup for five hours until he could put up bond.

NORTHWEST SIDE STEPS FORTH TO GET 'L' HIGHWAY

Congress Street Dispute Prompts Action.

BY HAL FOUST.

Civic groups of the northwest side stepped forth yesterday to get an elevated highway to their section of the city while the west side is in controversy over the design and location of a trafic arterial running west from the loop.

Meeting at a luncheon in the Webster hotel, representatives of the northwest side decided to circulate a petition asking the governor, the state legislature, the mayor, and the city council to start construction at once of an elevated highway northwest from the central business district.

Cites West Side Controversy.

James E. Bulger of the Chicago Motor club, which called the meeting, pointed out that certain interests on the west side, in an aggressive advocacy for the widening of Congress street at grade, were delaying elevated highway construction in that direction while on the northwest side there was no such dissent.

Ald. William J. Cowley [41st], a member of the council trafic committee, said that engineers for his committee and for the Chicago plan commission were studying a route and design for a northwest structure.

"I have favored a west side elevated highway," said the alderman, "because I am convinced that as soon as one of these improvements is completed the public will demand an extension of the system to all sections of the city, including my ward in the northwest corner of the incorporated area. It now looks as if the northwest side might get the first elevated highway because the Congress street group, with its real estate owners wanting to sell dead property for right of way, is fighting any real trafic arterial for that side of the city."

Don't Want Widenings.

"We don't want surface street widening," said the Rev. Francis J. Dolan, pastor of the Queen of All Saints church, "because it costs too many human lives to pay for expediting motor transportation."

"The trafic slaughter on widened Western avenue," said Louis Ollmert of the Sauganash Community association, "demonstrates that fast automobile travel must be removed from surface streets to superstructures."

"Intelligent neighborhood business men," said Frank Trojanowski of the Belmant Park Improvement association, "are as anxious as safety engineers to remove through trafic from their business streets for the protection and convenience of neighborhood patronage."

Pedestrians' Stake Told.

"Pedestrians, since they comprise 70 per cent of the trafic victims, have more at stake than motorists in this elevated highway promotion," said George J. Eckhoff of the Norwood Park Chamber of Commerce.

"My group favors Avondale avenue as a route for an elevated highway," said John H. Kerr of the Norwood Park Citizens association, "but we'll give active support to any plan that the engineers design."

JUSTIFY KILLING OF ROBBER.

A coroner's jury yesterday held the slaying of Marvin Hilt, 28 years old, 4160 Ellis avenue, unemployed bus driver, a justifiable homicide. Hilt was shot Saturday by a patron as he held up a tavern with a toy pistol.

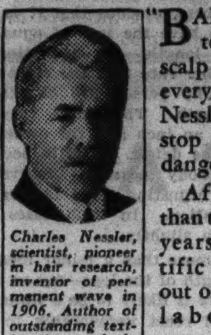
YOU CAN NEVER BE BALD

IF YOUR SCALP REPLACES HAIR THAT FALLS

says Charles Nessler



Charles Nessler, scientist, pioneer in hair research, inventor of permanent wave in 1906. Author of outstanding textbooks on hair biology.

"BALDNESS is not natural. Nature never intended man to be bald. You can help your scalp perform its natural function—to replace every hair that falls with new hair," says Charles Nessler, leading hair biologist. "Any attempt to stop hair from falling is not only useless, but dangerous," Nessler further goes on to explain.

After more than twenty-five years of scientific research, out of Nessler's laboratory comes PRO-KER—the first scientific treatment ever based on the replacement theory—the theory that Nature must be helped to replace hair that falls. Not stop falling hair—that is impossible; but replace it. The PRO-KER Treatment helps the scalp perform this natural function . . . helps replace falling hair with new, healthy hair.

PROFITEERING ON MISERY.

Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania thought to make political capital for himself the other day by rising in the senate to read an editorial from this newspaper. The editorial was published a fortnight ago, on March 7. It dealt with the subject of floods. It said there had been some floods already and there would be more before long and they might be severe. This forecast, of course, was fully borne out.

The editorial went on to say that prudent farmers move their families and their live stock and other movable property out of the danger zone before the floods come. It said that farmers who do not take these reasonable precautions must blame themselves for the consequences. It also said that farmers in the bottom lands are there because the land is more fertile than upland acres. "They took a risk in the expectation of profit and did it with their eyes open," we said, and in view of that fact they ought not to oblige others to risk their lives in rescue work when the expectable danger arrives.

This was the second of two recent editorials on the subject. The first was published on Feb. 20. It told why there was more danger from floods this year than in other years and warned the farmers and others in lowland situations to take steps for their own self-protection while they still had time. "If these farmers wait for the waters to rise," we said, "they will wait too long. Lives and property will be needlessly sacrificed."

Mr. Guffey now charges THE TRIBUNE with thinking that the farmers should be left to drown. He neglects to say what warning, if any, he gave his constituents when we were informing farmers of the danger which confronted them and telling them how to meet it. If he had given the same advice which we did perhaps fewer would have been left to drown. Mr. Guffey could not give that advice because, as a New Dealer, he does not believe in self-reliance and individual foresight. He prefers eleventh-hour rescue by hastily improvised government effort. It results in needless deaths and suffering, but he prefers it that way because he thinks the rescued will be grateful and will vote accordingly.

Therefore Mr. Guffey not only failed to warn his bottom-land constituents to save themselves but even failed to take steps to have a rescue organization on the spot and ready to function when the easily predictable danger arrived. Coast guard crews had to be summoned from as far as Chicago after the water had spread over the countryside. Evidently he wanted his federal rescuers to arrive not only at the eleventh hour but at the fifty-ninth minute of the eleventh hour.

Some unfriendly critics may say that his calculation was a shade too close because a great many lives and a vast amount of property were needlessly lost, but Mr. Guffey's conscience apparently is not disturbed by this criticism. He has his excuse now to appeal for cash and is making the senate chamber ring with his demands for relief.

SPELLING.

A little more than two years ago this newspaper adopted a number of simplified spellings. Old subscribers by the dozens took their pens in hand. That was to be expected because to many men, tranquility with only one l is an offense against the moral law comparable to cannibalism. After a few weeks the uproar ended. Now we receive a letter every so often telling us that the way to spell lether is not the way we spell it; but we also receive a good many letters in which warant is spelled warant and burocrat is spelled burocrat. These spellings don't look odd any more; they look right.

Some day, when the process of digestion has gone a little farther, more words may be added to the list. Meanwhile a bit of advice to those who are impatient with the absurdity of English spelling. They can serve, each as a committee of one, to bring about improvement. Publications have to proceed slowly because they have to keep pretty close to the bounds of common usage, but there is no reason why a man who resents the gh in through and though can't take matters in his own hands. Many have done so already, just as many have ventured to drop superfluous letters from their names. Why waste time writing although when you can save time with altho? Why annoy your friends with Taliaferro and Schmitz, which they can neither pronounce nor spell, when you can ease matters for them with Tolliver and Smith?

Mr. H. L. Mencken has recently reminded the world that the learned men of England screamed and tore their hair over Thomas Jefferson's invention of the verb to belittle. The editor and contributors of the Quarterly Review were so incensed at this and similar modest improvements in their language that they charged that Americans customarily were waited upon at table by quite naked colored women; that Americans sold Scotsmen and Hollanders into slavery; and that Americans were preparing to adopt Hebrew instead of English as the national language.

Spelling is like that. Variations from orthodox practice drive men to howling rage. Jefferson's belittle and Noah Webster's spelling of labor without the u produced identical responses, yet both improvements are now accepted without question as standard usage.

MR. OGLESBY LEADS THE WAY.

The list of aspirants for the Republican nomination for governor of Illinois has been narrowed by the withdrawal of Mr. John G. Oglesby, former lieutenant governor. Mr. Oglesby's name must appear on the ballot, but he has asked his friends not to regard him as a candidate any longer. He has had the good sense and political sagacity to realize that for all practical purposes the race lies between Wayland Brooks and Len Small. The nomination of Small could result only in an irreconcilable division in the ranks of the Republican party in this state and would seriously jeopardize the party's chances for success in the national as well as the state election in November.

Accordingly, Mr. Oglesby has withdrawn, and the probability, now generally conceded, of Mr. Brooks' nomination has been heightened. Mr. Oglesby deserves the thanks of Illinois Republicans for subordinating his ambition to the general good. It is to be hoped that the five remaining candidates, whose chances are no better than were Mr. Oglesby's, will display the same intelligence and the same public spirit in following his lead. They cannot win, but they can contribute to the defeat of their party by dividing the opposition to Small.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR SUBSIDY.

While testifying before the commerce committee of the senate recently, Alfred H. Haag, chief of the research department of the shipping board bureau, brought out some facts which, while not new, have been discreetly submerged during the period that shipping interests have been fighting for direct government subsidies. It has been contended by Kermit Roosevelt, Vincent Astor, and other intimates of President Roosevelt who are interested in shipping that, with the higher standards of living obtaining in the United States, American interests could not possibly build or operate vessels that could compete with those of foreign nations. Mr. Haag developed other reasons.

With a merchant marine of little over one-fifth of Great Britain's tonnage and smaller than that of Japan, 80 per cent of the American vessels are more than ten years old, as compared with 62 per cent of Britain's fleet. In the matter of speed [passenger vessels capable of fourteen knots and freighters capable of twelve knots per hour] the United States ranked below Great Britain, Germany, France, and Japan. Only 40 per cent of our ships in international trade fall within speed classifications, while both England and Germany boast 60 per cent.

All shipbuilding is generations out of date. If American builders and operators would go off the dole and develop 10 per cent of the enterprise of American automobile and airplane builders they would easily conquer the market for ships, passengers, and freight. Instead of devoting their talents and energies to lobbying for the greatest subsidy in the world they should study the picture of American clipper ships, ruling the seas one hundred years ago, when 90 per cent of our foreign commerce was carried under the American flag—as contrasted with the present insignificant figure of 12 per cent.

TAX DELINQUENCIES.

The Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency has just finished a valuable survey of the tax delinquency situation in Cook county, with an analysis of its causes and some suggestions for relieving it.

The most disturbing thing about the situation is the fact, demonstrated by the federation's statistics, that the supposed improvement of business during the last four years has not had the slightest effect on tax collections, though other cities, the report states, have made substantial reductions in their delinquent tax rolls.

On Feb. 29, 1932, about four or five months before the depression reached its lowest point, tax delinquency in Cook county amounted to 25 per cent of the bills which had been rendered following the 1928 reassessment. On March 9, 1936, the ratio of unpaid bills to total extensions stood at 24.93 per cent.

There are a number of reasons for this. Fundamentally they boil down to this one point—a large proportion of the taxpayers in the county got out of the habit of paying their bills, and instead of encouraging them to resume payment, local governments and tax collection officials have, with almost unerring aim, adopted courses best designed to encourage nonpayment.

Editorial of the Day

ECOLOGY.

[Grand Rapids Press.]

It all happened in a debate on the agricultural appropriation bill. Representative Cannon of Missouri interrupted Representative Greever of Wyoming: "The amendment the gentleman rose to support is to establish certain ecological stations. Nothing the gentleman has said applies to ecological stations, and I wonder if the gentleman knows what an ecological station is."

Mr. Greever: "The thing in which we are interested in the state of Wyoming is coöperation——"

Mr. Cannon: "Will the gentleman tell us what ecological stations are?"

Mr. Greever: "The thing in which we are interested in Wyoming is stations to accomplish what is provided for in this bill——"

Mr. Cannon: "I am asking the gentleman, what are ecological stations?"

Mr. Greever: "I refuse to yield further. I am telling the gentlemen about the conditions we have in our state——"

Mr. Ekwall of Oregon: "Whether it means one thing or another, the people of my state, who have expressed themselves, are in favor of this increase."

Unable to discover in the report of this illuminating argument the meaning of ecological stations, we refer to the deskside dictionary and find that ecology is that branch "of biology which deals with the relations between organisms and their environment."

Will some ecologist tell us what it is, in the relations of a congressman with the Washington environment, that makes him want to vote to spend money without knowing in the slightest what it's for?

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

A COPY OF THE PAINTING "Leif Ericson Discovers America" has just been hung in the senate gallery at Washington. But on the opposite wall of the senate gallery should be hung a companion picture, "Leif Ericson Forgetting He Had Discovered America." Discovering America was not so unusual; Chris Columbus did that. But to discover America and then forget all about it is a much greater achievement. Leif took one look at America and then said to his crew, "Oh, forget it!" and he sailed right back to Norway and spent the rest of his life forgetting it. If anybody came up to him in his old age and said, "What is this here America I hear some of your sailors talking about?" Leif would pick up a chair or anything handy and throw it at him and say, "America? I never heard of it. Getthell outten here." Yes sir, if only Chris Columbus had been as smart as Leif we wouldn't have any Brain Trust today, or income taxes, or girls with red finger nails, or hit-and-run drivers, or radio announcers telling us what tooth paste to buy. Leif Ericson had the right idea, but Columbus had to butt in and spoil it all.

OUTLOOK.

I know how damned a prison is,
How high the wall;
I know how strong the gates are
With guards over all.

I know how many steps I take
Up to my cell—
Just as many as lead down
To a little hell.

I know just where I'll be
When spring comes round—
Just where I was last spring—
In this walled ground.

I know what I'll look upon
When the trees leaf—
Just a lot of other men
Doubled up by grief.

I'll never go outside the gate
Until it swings wide,
Bound for a smaller cell,
Six men by my side.

But I won't need much room,
Having lost my breath,
And I'll only share my cell
With old man Death.

"CONGRESS PREPARES for Hearing on $79,200,000,000 Tax Bill."—Headline. Pretty soon the news from Washington will just read this way: "$$$,$$$,$$$,$$$,$$$,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000." And the headlines will be, "$$$,$$$,$$$,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,$$$,$$$,$$$."

MUCH BIGGER than the slogan "A War to End All Wars!" is the glad cry that an inventor in Paris has, "A Gas to End All Gas." The new gas, says the inventor, will, when released, spread all over the landscape and neutralize all the poison gas that the enemy is dropping over. Gas masks will not be necessary because the new neutralizing gas will jump right on the back of any and every kind of other gas and choke it to death and the soldiers can walk around and breathe as freely as they would in a clover field in June. It's a fine thing this chemist in France has done in inventing "A Gas to End All Gas," the only trouble being that other chemists will now go to work to neutralize the neutralizing gas and invent a compound that will defy its influence and pile the dead up in heaps all over the place. Unless we make the chemists call it a day and stop dabbling with war gas. But we can't do that, so perhaps the boys in the front line trenches would do well to hang on to their old gas masks.

JIGJIGA, in Ethiopia, is reported by Mussolini as having been destroyed by his army. Maybe so, but Jigjiga sounds as though the Duce's press agents made that one up to give the war in Africa what the play writers call "comic relief."

"GIRD FOR WAR, Japanese Told by Fleet Chief."—Headline. Darn the luck, when Hitler and the Rhine and the French and Mussolini quiet down for a spell and the tension slackens over in Europe, up bob the Japanese with a new war scare. The Japs will stop girding perhaps in a week or two, but what's the use? The French will shriek that if Hitler doesn't get away from the Rhine toot sweet they'll give him the bum's rush. Then it will start all over again.

LEG LENGTHENING.

In the last ten years much interest has been shown by the medical profession in the operation devised for lengthening the bones of a leg that is shorter than its fellow. This interest also has extended to the public, so that questions as to the advisability of the procedure are frequently asked.

It is, of course, obvious that it is advantageous to have the legs of equal or nearly equal length. As a matter of fact, it is rather rare that the right and left legs of any person are of exactly the same length. They may vary as much as half an inch and the owner be unaware of the defect. This is because the human body possesses marvelous flexibility in adjusting itself to any individual situation. In such cases the pelvis will tip slightly.

If there is more than a minor inequality in the length of the legs—say an inch or more—there is likely to be a limp and the body will react unfavorably to the strain put upon it, usually with sundry aches or a feeling of strain. Bad postural defects generally appear.

The most common causes of this type of deformity are: [1] infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis), [2] old fractures which have healed in bad position, [3] injuries in childhood which have affected the growing power of the bone, and [4] congenital deformities in which the defect is present from birth. Any of these may cause a difference of several inches in leg length. It is to remedy these conditions that the operation of bone lengthening was developed.

About thirty years ago surgical methods were reported detailing the plan of lengthening a short limb. It was pointed out that blood vessels and nerves would permit gradual extension for a considerable distance—two inches or more—and that muscles would not suffer. A few years later L. C. Abbott described an apparatus which provided all the needed factors, viz., gradual extension plus accurate surgical technique under rigid aseptic precautions.

The thigh bone [femur] is divided and by means of special equipment the length desired is obtained by sliding the fragments of the bone little by little. This process takes three to four weeks, during which the bone is uniting by degrees. This must be done slowly to allow the nerves, the blood vessels, and the muscles to adapt themselves to the changed length. There is not much discomfort during this period.

After the stretching of the soft parts has been completed the bone must be protected for several months to allow it to become strong.

The plan has been in use for a number of years—it is largely a development of war surgery—so that it is known to be feasible. However, though it is possible it is not always advisable. There are many points that must be most carefully considered—for example, the condition of the muscles, the quality of the bone, and the age of the patient. Few experts recommend surgical intervention for a shortening that is less than one and one-half inches. The time usually required for complete healing is six months or longer.

A word of caution must be sounded as to the formidable character of the undertaking. There is a possibility of infection and no one should submit to this type of surgery except at the hands of a highly trained expert. In some cases the hospital stay is much longer than anticipated and hence economic considerations are involved.

It is not an operation that could be safely recommended merely to increase one's height.

NOSEBLEED.

V. G. E. writes:

1. Would diseased tonsils and adenoids cause a child's nose to bleed quite freely when she picks at it slightly with her fingers, or is the bleeding caused by the picking?

2. Is there any truth in the saying that a nosebleed once in a while is good for one's health?

3. What is the best method of checking a nosebleed?

4. If a child is suspected of having worms is there any danger in treating him for such?

REPLY.

1. Yes; by picking.

2. No.

3. In most cases nosebleed ceases spontaneously. A wick of absorbent cotton held in the nostril will often control the bleeding. Ice packs may be applied to the forehead or to the back of the neck.

4. Treatment for worms should not be given unless parasites are present. There is no truth in the saying that a child who picks his nose has worms.

CRACKING JOINTS.

G. D. writes: For ten or more years I have had the habit of "snapping" my finger joints. At the present time the second joints are enlarged and the first joints are decidedly weak. Both first and second joints now snap easily, for example, when I shake hands with any one. Do you think that if I made a determined effort and actually stopped snapping my fingers the readiness with which they now snap would be decreased?

REPLY.

Finger joints may be caused to snap when the finger is pulled suddenly. But this is a "kid" trick and you recall that "when we become men we put away childish things." If the process is continued the joints will enlarge and weaken. Stopping the habit will not restore the joints to normal but will in time prevent the handshaking cracks.

ANEMIC.

R. C. writes: I am about 10 pounds underweight, have a noticeable lack of energy, and a blood count of 3,500,000 and hemoglobin of 67. Does this warrant intravenous iron shots and liver?

REPLY.

Of course you lack energy, as you are decidedly anemic. Much depends upon the character and cause of your low blood count. Liver, iron, powdered extract of stomach, and hydrochloric acid are all used. Your physician will know what to advise.

SEE A PHYSICIAN.

Mrs. B. B. writes: My 4 year old boy has slight bleeding with bowel movements. He also passes a yellowish substance. Movements are soft. The child is active and has a good appetite but is rather pale. Should I take him to a physician?

REPLY.

Yes. Blood in the bowel movements is an abnormal condition, and it should be investigated without delay.

From Across the Sea

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW—"Liberty of foreign exchange for commerce is the same in one economic world as a free press is in the political world," said Poland's leading private banker recently. He reported that Poland will be the last country in Europe to leave the gold standard or to introduce currency restrictions. He added that even if France, Switzerland and the Netherlands should leave gold Poland might still retain this standard of currency.

"Poland has had first hand experience with the evils of inflation," he said. "Various sections of the country suffered under the inflation of the German mark, the Austrian schilling and the Russian ruble. On top of that we had our own inflation, stabilizing our currency with the help of a $60,000,000 loan from America and a $10,000,000 loan from England in 1927.

"The continued policy of deflation is causing much general suffering, but Poland is inured to suffering. We are not an impoverished country. We have man power and resources and our only chance to develop them is to retain our financial reputation abroad.

"It is a mistake to attempt to judge Poland by western standards. Warsaw was 300 years behind Paris in the 17th century and she remains 300 years behind Paris today. Seventy per cent of our population comprises the peasant class. The peasants are living in the same primitive conditions which prevailed a century before the world war. The government feels the peasantry will gain nothing through inflation which, on the other hand, might ruin the country. After struggling for years to cultivate a faith in our currency among the inhabitants and, with our postal savings bank deposits totaling more than a billion zloties with 1,892,086 depositors, it would be too great a risk to leave gold. [A zloty is worth about 19 cents.]

"Poland also needs commercial credits and by avoiding imposition of currency restrictions we are helping our trade abroad. As long as foreign merchants receive remittances from Poland our credit is better than the credit of other countries which have obstructed the paying of foreign commercial debts. With world trade beginning to show a slight improvement we expect to benefit by this policy.

"Poland's social makeup also differs from that of other countries. We formerly had some forty or fifty families of artistocrats, or the great landed gentry. These families, whose estates were made indivisable by law, have been among the greatest sufferers. A bill has been introduced in parliament abrogating this law and the great estates eventually will be divided among the land hungry peasantry.

"Poland's lesser nobility and many of the educated class produced the late Marshal Josef Pilsudski and his group of legionnaires who, more than any other group, are responsible for the existence of Poland today. This group is still in control of the government.

"Pilsudski was always fortunate in his choice of men. He admitted he knew little of economics, but he selected an honest man to direct the financial affairs of the country, Col. Adam Koc, who still is vice minister of finance as well as the head of the state bank. Koc firmly opposes financial manipulation. He is faithfully carrying out the wishes of Pilsudski, who believed that inflation of any kind was a confidence game on a national scale.

"This group of lesser nobility and the educated class which Pilsudski represented were poor men. But they were not impoverished through the degeneration of their class. Rebellions and plots for the freedom of Poland consumed their wealth and estates. Today they are the leaders of Poland's newborn middle class, a bourgeois group which is something entirely new for this country, for it consists of impoverished nobles, peasants and workers who have made good.

"The present government has a simple program. It is following a nonsocialistic economic policy, a foreign policy which will guarantee peace for Poland and a policy of sacrifice to insure Poland with a powerful army."

TERMS OF WILL.

Chicago, March 20.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My aunt living in Cleveland died in January, leaving a will. There are five nieces, three being named in the will and two left out entirely. Her sister and the three nieces were left a dollar each and the bulk of the estate [about $60,000] was left to a woman who took care of her before she died. 1. Can the two nieces left out break the will? 2. This woman who received the most was supposed to have influenced her and poisoned her mind against all the relatives. If we try to break the will we will have to have a lawyer in Cleveland, of course, but [3] will we have to go there to court or can it be done without us being there? M. R.

1. Not unless they can prove undue influence or lack of testamentary capacity.

2. Your chances would depend on your proof on this point. We suggest that you go over your facts in a personal interview with an attorney.

3. If you can prove your case by other material witnesses, your presence may not be necessary. You should leave such questions to your attorney.

ASSIGNMENT OF ALIMONY.

Chicago, March 20.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Can a judgment granted for alimony be assigned to another person legally and assignee proceed to collect same and keep the money? In other words, is it legal to assign alimony that is to support a wife or children or both? G. M.

Section 680 of the Article on Divorce in Corpus Juris is as follows: "While it seems settled that an order or decree for alimony which is payable in future or which remains within the control of the court, not being a vested right in the wife, is not assignable, and that an attempted assignment will be set aside, it has been held that a wife may assign an overdue specific sum awarded to her as alimony pendente lite, or an award for a gross sum payable in instalments, although there is authority to the contrary on the last proposition."

THE GOOD OLD DAYS.

Valparaiso, Ind., March 18.—The New Deal spokesmen seem to think the one sure way to silence their critics is to thunder, "Would you want to go back to the Old Deal?" and for some strange reason it seems to work. But not with me. My answer is a hearty and vociferous yes, lead me to it!

When I check back over the years from 1920 to 1932 I find they were the most prosperous and contented years of my life. My husband's job was less than $3,000 per year, but we bought a house in Gary, a little summer cottage near Valparaiso, had several cars [not all at once], and managed to save enough so that even after a year's unemployment we have not yet gone to the government with our hands out, and, believe it or not, we still buy gas for the car and pay our bills.

It took thrift and sacrifice, which I realize are now hopelessly old fashioned, but at that time we did not have a vision of the present Utopia where a beneficent government takes its citizens under its wing; so we foolishly saved for a rainy day.

I believe that if we all looked back over those years we would feel a nostalgia for the peace and prosperity we then had. New Dealers claim we were all oppressed by big business, but personally I would prefer to be oppressed by an employer who was handing me a nice fat pay check than by a government which gives me a $55 per month boondoggling job.

I am not gullible enough to believe that Mr. Hoover, or any one man, was powerful enough to bring on a world-wide depression, just as I am not gullible enough to believe that Roosevelt or any one man can cure it. The cure lies in getting rid of the whole bunch and getting back to American ideas and ideals.

NO POLITICAL PRESSURE.

Chicago, March 18.—I have read recently reports that pressure is being brought on WPA workers to attend meetings and contribute money for Dr. Bundesen's campaign. I am a $65 per month WPA worker in Dr. Bundesen's own board of health office. There are over 70 of us in the city hall and more than 500 in the Chicago area.

I know that none of us has been solicited in any way. Further, we cannot, by any evidence in the work, tell that Dr. Bundesen is even a candidate. We were unable to secure a lapel button here or find a petition or pledge card to sign. No pictures of him, banner for him, or activity in his behalf are on display here. I feel I can get the signature of every WPA worker to this statement.

This is a voluntary letter.

SWANK.

Chicago, March 18.—I should like to straighten out an erroneous idea conceived by your correspondent, Verbos. At the end of the second paragraph he states that "As far as I know, the word swank has died out in England."

Having lived in England until 1935 I must advise Verbos that swank is still used in the same way it was used thirty years ago, meaning "putting on the dog." One hears the word often applied to the nouveau riche by the better class of old families. I've heard the word used in large cities and in small villages. I heard it once used by an old lady, the possessor of five halls.

I only wish that the word could be used properly here in America.

DOROTHY THOMPSON.

BEARDSTOWN.

Beardstown, Ill., March 17.—On March 4 you published a picture of a bridge that was covered with water, and underneath it you printed a description of a scene taken at Beardstown. This bridge was located several miles from the city on a road on low ground leading down into the duck hunting country. Both the picture and the article accompanying it were misleading and unfair to Beardstown. There was not any flood threatening Beardstown at any time during the annual spring rise of the Illinois river. In fact the city is adequately protected against any such menace.

The city of Beardstown is located on the Illinois river. This is an asset to the city because of the increased river traffic. We are well provided with railroads. The combination of adequate railroad shipping facilities with the water transportation and the fact that we are located near the coal mines make Beardstown an ideal location for factories. We are inviting new factories to locate here and your articles and headlines, combined with the flood picture above referred to might give a wrong impression to those seeking location here.

ANOTHER BLANK CHECK.

Chicago, March 19.—At this time we find Mr. Roosevelt asking congress for another blank check, that he may fill in to the tune of a mere one and one-half billions of fifty-nine cent dollars. In his message he says in part:

> The fact is that during 1935 state and local governments spent $466,000,000 for emergency relief, which was 13 per cent more than these governmental bodies spent in 1934; 49 per cent more than they spent in 1933, and 58 per cent more than they spent in 1932.

Add the $466,000,000 he mentions to the $4,800,000,000 appropriated by congress at the last session, and we find $5,266,000,000 for relief in 1935. Still they tell us that we are recovering.

There appears to be a remote possibility that the Moses who promised to lead us out of the wilderness into the more abundant life has become mixed in his directions and is leading us farther in.

FRIGHTENED TAXPAYER.

BORROWING MONEY FROM UNCLE SAM.

Chicago, March 20.—THE TRIBUNE reports that the Illinois Central Railroad company will borrow a large sum from the United States. Is this step toward putting the government further in business made necessary by the refusal of overloaded lenders of money to lend it? If yes, why won't lenders of money lend it? If no, why do railroads ask the United States for money? In short, why do business men put the government in business and then complain that it is engaged in or controlling business? As a business matter that surpasses understanding, but as a promotion of socialism it really beats the devil.

THOMAS JAMES NORTON.

BONUSES IN ADVANCE.

Waukegan, Ill., March 17.—I note in this morning's TRIBUNE the demand of the "Veterans of Future Wars" for a "bonus" in "advance of time due." I am in favor of such payment, not as the world war soldiers are to be paid—27 years after the job was done, or as contractors were paid, when the job was done—but, as the society demands, in advance of even the performance of the job, if the society will advise me how many of its members will actually serve in "future wars" and how many will hide under the bed, copy Bergdoll, conscientiously object, or chop off their fingers to obtain physical exemption.

BRAZIL DECREES MARTIAL LAW TO COMBAT UNREST

President Warns "State of War" Exists.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 23.—President Getulio Vargas tonight decreed martial law throughout Brazil for ninety days. In his decree the president said a "grave situation, comparable to a state of war, exists in the country."

Police arrested a senator and two members of the chamber of deputies. The senator was Abel Chermont of Para, who recently failed to secure the release of Harry Berger and his wife, imprisoned Jan. 1 on charges of plotting last November's communist revolt.

The arrested deputies were Domingues Velasco from the state of Goyez, a captain in the army, and Joao Mangabeira, a radical deputy from the state of Bahia.

Nation in "State of Siege."

The decree setting up martial law was made public two days before a state of siege was scheduled to expire. The state of siege was proclaimed after the communist rebellion was smashed.

The government's energetic measures against communism since the revolt resulted in the capture of most of the leaders in that ambitious attempt to set up a soviet republic. Several hundreds prisoners arrested in the nation-wide cleanup are still awaiting trial.

Capt. Luiz Carlos Prestes, leader of the uprising, which seized documents indicated was hatched in Moscow, is behind the bars. Police declared he admitted his membership in the communistic party and that he was chief of the revolt. He is not permitted to receive friends.

Carlos Prestes, the former "cavalier or hope" and idol of Brazil in 1924 when he was opposing the government of President Arthur Bernardes, was seized after Victor Allan Barron, an American born in San Francisco, told police of the whereabouts of the leader and his wife. Barron leaped three stories to his death at the Central police station just as Carlos Prestes was being locked in a cell.

Detain British Noblewomen.

The government's most recent step in the anti-red campaign was the detention of two young women of the British nobility and a young British lawyer who styled themselves members of the Anti-Slave league. They said they came to Brazil to investigate the welfare of political prisoners.

The trio, Lady Marion Cameron, Viscountess Maria Cristina Hastings and their lawyer-secretary, Richard Freeman Galwin, landed about the first of this month. After immigration officers reported their intentions, Capt. Filinto Muller, chief of police in Rio de Janeiro, suggested that since the country was under a state of siege their investigation would be inopportune. He said it would be better if they boarded the first outgoing steamer.

The Britons, however, did not take the hint. As a result Galwin was placed in jail for a time and the young women spent about six hours at police headquarters. Then for more than a week they were prisoners at the Gloria hotel. Finally the police sent them back to London on the British steamer Arlanza. Detectives escorted them to the dock.

Besides Carlos Prestes, several others who were slated for important posts in the communist government which the rebels planned to set up are in jail.

Berger, the man whom Senator Abel Chermont failed to free on a writ of habeas corpus, had hoped to become "commissar for foreign affairs." He previously lived in the United States and Germany.

Berger, who is said to have been instigator of the revolt, is in reality Arthur Ewert, former member of the communist party in Germany. Police said he was selected as a communist member of the reichstag in May, 1921. They said information from Germany verifies this and also indicates he was arrested there for communistic activity but was freed in a general amnesty.

BLIND STUDENT TEAMS UP WITH ARMLESS ONE

BY KAY HALL.

Thomas Howard Overton, 31 years old, is blind and Stanley A. Kasprzyk, 32 years old, is armless. They have pooled their faculties to assist each other through their freshman year at the Chicago-Kent College of Law, 10 North Franklin street.

Their singular complemental partnership became known yesterday when it was announced that Overton had the highest grades of any one in the class of 175 students. His home is down in Perry county, in a town called Swanwick, "which isn't as large as the freshman class," he said. He is rooming at 18 South California avenue. Kasprzyk lives with his parents at 1152 West 51st street.

The pooling of their physical resources developed by chance on their first day as freshmen at the school when Kasprzyk guided the blind Overton down a flight of steps. When they came to a door the armless Kasprzyk could not turn the handle and open it. Overton could.

Eye for an Arm, and Arm for an Eye.

Moreover, Overton could carry books but not read them. Kasprzyk could read them but not carry them. Overton could write and type, which Kasprzyk could not.

"Sometimes," reflected Overton, "I think Stanley does more for me than I do for him."

According to Edmund W. Burke, an official of the school, Overton has a highly logical and receptive mind and an amazing memory. Kasprzyk has faced a tremendous obstacle in law study in his inability to write, a handicap which school officials consider to be the worst possible in view of the large amount of written work required.

How the Tasks are Divided.

"I take notes in class with a punch on a Braille form board," Overton said. "Out of class Stanley reads to me and I transcribe some of the notes on the typewriter for him. For examinations, however, Stanley has to have his brothers or some one write for him.

"For each of us it is just a matter of working harder to overcome a physical handicap. I have the same interests and ambitions as any one else. I like to read, dance and swim. A girl friend? Why, yes, a very good one."

Overton became blind at 20 years of age after his eyesight had gradually failed. Kasprzyk lost his left arm while playing in a railroad yard when he was 14 years old. Four years ago he lost the other arm in an automobile crash. Both are on scholarships provided by vocational aid agencies.

Travel and Nourishment.

"At first I was timid about getting out; now I'm used to it," Kasprzyk explained. "The conductor reaches into my pocket, gets the fare and puts the transfer in. When I go in a restaurant to eat, there is usually a waitress or some one to help me eat."

"Yes, I almost knocked one of his teeth out with a beer stein when I first tried to help him down one," smiled Overton.

"He also puts my hat and coat on and adjusts my tie," added Kasprzyk.

The blind law student related that his chief inspiration came from Claus Mammenga, a blind attorney in Oregon, Ill. Overton commented:

"I gave up the security of a job as a switchboard operator in Dixon, Ill., in 1932 to start my prelegal course on the theory that I wanted less security and more opportunity."

MAKES DEMAND FOR RECORDS OF AAA PAYMENTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Declaring that a single corn-hog producer in an unidentified state received $219,825 for not raising 14,578 hogs, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] today introduced a senate resolution calling upon Secretary of Agriculture Wallace for the names of all AAA beneficiaries who received in excess of $10,000 in any one year. The resolution went to the committee on agriculture and forestry.

Senator Vandenberg said the information he sought should be highly pertinent for study in connection with the new tax bill which must raise 500 million dollars a year to pay new benefits under the new farm bounty act, as well as 250 million dollars for the payment of commitments under the outlawed AAA.

Records Kept Secret.

"These records are not open to inspection," Senator Vandenberg said. "I suppose it is the only existing secret disbursement of premiums, bonuses or subsidies. We know something about the average benefit payments; but the information is entirely abstract, and except as we know to what extent the general averages are weighted down by large individual payments it is impossible to interpret these statistics. I am not questioning the integrity of the disbursements. I am asking only for information bearing upon the public policy involved."

Senator Vandenberg said he understood the average corn-hog benefit payment in Iowa was under $400, but that a producer in another state received $219,825 in two years for not raising 14,587 hogs on 445 acres.

Big Cotton Benefit Check.

The average cotton contract, he said, was under $1,500, but one producer received $168,000 for not planting 7,000 acres. He said the average wheat contract in Kansas was in the neighborhood of $800, but in one instance a total of 65 checks to one producer paid $78,638 in two years.

"It seems to me," the senator declared, "that we should have full information regarding all larger payments of this nature."

NATIONAL GUARD RULE HINTED IN OKLAHOMA OIL DRILLING DISPUTE

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 23.—(AP)—A hint of possible military rule hung over Oklahoma City tonight as the long dispute over further extension of oil drilling zones within the city neared a climax—tomorrow's special election.

Gov. E. W. Marland said it was "very likely" he would call out National Guardsmen if the extension proposal carried.

He did not say whether the troops would be used to halt drilling on state property near the capital or to protect crews which might be drilling on state land with state permission.

In either case the basis for his action would be the same. He and other state officials contend that oil wells north and east of the capital are "draining" oil from beneath state land.

VOTE TO CHANGE 35TH STREET TO COMISKEY ROAD

A proposal by Ald. Hugh Connelly [11th] to change the name of 35th street to Comiskey road was approved yesterday by the city council's committee on streets and alleys. Fifty years ago John Comiskey, father of the late Charles A. Comiskey and grandfather of J. Louis Comiskey, present owner of the White Sox baseball club, was one of the first aldermen of the old 8th ward, on the west side, which later became the 19th ward and now is the 25th. Alderman James B. Bowler [25th] said he deemed the measure a proper mark of honor to the family.

5 Merchants Held in Hijack Ring Roundup

With the surrender of three men yesterday in Milwaukee after several months' investigation by Chicago police and federal authorities, the police here said they had rounded up all fourteen members of a hijacking ring which is alleged to have stolen more than $50,000 in merchandise in the past year.

Sam Chaimson and his brother, William, proprietors of a large department store at Shawano, Wis., and their nephew, Julian Breakstone, owner of a store at New London, Wis., surrendered to federal agents at Milwaukee on warants charging them with receiving property stolen from interstate freight shipments. They were arraigned before United States Commissioner Floyd E. Jenkins and released in bail of $5,000 each.

Jobber Held as Fence.

Last week investigators arrested Meyer J. Rubin, a wholesale jobber at 123 South Market street, whither the police alleged the stolen goods were taken by the hijackers to be repacked and forwarded to the Wisconsin merchants. He was released in $5,000 bail after appearing before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on a warant charging him with receiving the stolen property.

Oscar Chaimson, another brother of Sam and William Chaimson, was arrested last week in Milwaukee and was released in equal bail. Al Lefevre, a clerk in the Chaimson store, who is alleged to have aided the Chaimsons in transporting the stolen goods, is at liberty under a nominal bond.

Tells Story of Roundup.

Lieut. James B. Kerr of the Chicago police stolen property detail, told yesterday of the long investigation which has broken up the hijack gang. Early in February the police arrested Peter Panzeca, 26 years old, and his brother, Dominick, 25, both of 2800 Emerald avenue, and six other men as the actual hijackers.

The Panzecas pleaded guilty on Feb. 28 before Chief Justice Denis J. Normoyle of the Criminal court and were sentenced each to a term of one year to life in Joliet penitentiary. The other men pleaded not guilty. Their cases are pending.

The Panzecas refused to tell where they had disposed of the stolen goods. Lieut. Kerr received information, however, that some of the merchandise was in Rubin's store. The polide discovered several stolen shipments of shoes, gloves, and women's wear there and learned other goods had been repacked and sent to New London and Shawano.

Find Merchandise in Barn.

Lieut. Kerr spent two weeks in the Wisconsin towns. He found about $5,000 of the stolen merchadise in Breakstone's store in New London. In the meanwhile the Chaimsons apparently learned of Kerr's activity and transferred some of their merchandise to a farm barn. These goods, also valued at about $5,000, were discovered in the barn. Sam and William Chaimson and Breakstone were sought on the warants until their voluntary surrender yesterday.

TRAILS WOMAN; SHOOTS HER AND GIRL IN SCHOOL

Mrs. Ernestine Burse, 28 years old, 304 East 31st street, and Jean Vera Ross, 7 years old, 5207 Calumet avenue, both colored, were wounded yesterday at Corpus Christi parochial school, 4910 South Park boulevard, when a colored gunman fired six shots at the woman in a room of the school. One bullet just missed Sister Cosma. The man, who Wabash avenue police said apparently followed Mrs. Burse to the school, escaped. The woman received two wounds in the neck but at Michael Reese hospital her condition was reported as not serious. The child, a pupil in the school, received treatments for a leg wound at Provident hospital. Mrs. Burse told police her assailant was Theodore Dufarr, 2456 Cottage Grove avenue, a suitor formerly favored but now rejected.

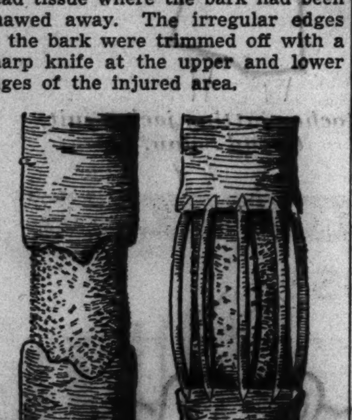
Bridge Grafting

March 23, 1936.

BRIDGE grafting is being used in an effort to save a half dozen apple trees girdled by rabbits this winter on the Tribune Wheaton farm. An inspection of the farm orchard revealed that rabbits had gnawed off practically all of the bark down to the wood, leaving a six inch barkless belt around each tree trunk a few inches above the ground.

The established method of bridge grafting to carry the sap of the tree across the gap gnawed bare by rabbits will be followed by the head gardener at the Wheaton farm. Yesterday the gardeners started their work of bridge grafting by cleaning off the dead tissue where the bark had been gnawed away. The irregular edges of the bark were trimmed off with a sharp knife at the upper and lower edges of the injured area.



Today scions or small branches of the trees were cut and prepared for use in bridging the gap. The scions were cut a little longer than the width of the space to be bridged. They were trimmed off, leaving V shaped bevels on each end so that the bark of the branch and the bark of the tree can be matched. Then the sap can flow from the cambium layer of the tree below the injury into the cambium layer of the scion, thence through it and into the cambium layer of the tree above the injury.

The next step is to split the bark of the tree at the edge of the injured area and insert the beveled ends of the scion. About six or eight scions will be grafted on to each tree. The trunks of the trees are about six inches in diameter. The scions, ⅛ to ¼ inch in diameter, have been taken from the tree to be grafted. The eyes were gently broken off the branches or scions to avoid the development of sprouts. Grafting wax will be used to cover the area where the scion and the bark are joined together. Then raffia will be wrapped around the scions to hold them in place.

Selection of Material.

The head gardener at the Wheaton farm says that he finds it best to take scions from last year's growth. Spring is the best time to graft trees. If the work is done early the scions will soon become established. The scions, however, must be perfectly dormant. They should be cut early, even though the actual work of grafting is to be delayed for a short time. They must be kept in a cool place where they will not dry out, yet will remain dormant. The scions may be kept dormant if wrapped and buried in the ground on the north side of a building. Either water sprouts or terminal growth of the previous season make good scions.

This horticultural expert says that he may not be successful in saving all of the apple trees injured by rabbits, but "there is nothing to lose" in trying on both fruit and shade trees.

KILLER'S SECRET RELEASE STARTS DOUBLE INQUIRY

Lifer Freed 9 Years Ago by Judge Williams.

State and federal officials launched an investigation yesterday after it became known that Vincenzo Ciollaro, a convicted murderer presumed to be serving a life imprisonment sentence, has been at liberty for nine years. He was released on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Charles A. Williams of the Superior court on Jan. 6, 1927.

Ciollaro, known at the time of his trial as the "man of mystery," was convicted in 1915 of the murder of Mrs. Helen Fishel. She was shot four times in the back in a rooming house at 1141 Washington boulevard. The prosecution at the trial asked for the death penalty and the jurors later announced they stood 10 to 2 for the execution of the slayer, but compromised on a life verdict.

Seeks to Become Citizen.

The knowledge of Ciollaro's release became public after he filed a petition in the United States District court asking for citizenship papers. Fred J. Schlotfeldt, district supervisor of naturalization and immigration, said Ciollaro applied on Feb. 21 for citizenship papers. He listed his occupation as a building janitor and said he came from Italy in 1903.

"I will not talk about the case," Ciollaro said when found last evening in his home at 1036 Polk street. "You see my lawyer."

Ciollaro refused, however, to say whether or not his lawyer in the naturalization proceeding is W. G. Anderson, colored attorney, who effected his release on the habeas corpus writ, which alleged a technicality that the official Criminal court records disclose did not exist. The writ charged that Ciollaro was illegally convicted because the jury in his trial was allowed to separate each night without his consent. The court journal says that the jury was allowed to separate "by consent of the defendant and his attorney."

Warning Against Parole.

The court files reveal that Attorney Anderson represented Ciollaro at his trial and was cognizant of the jury separation at that time. The records show also that after Ciollaro's conviction the state's attorney's office sent a letter to the parole board recommending that the killer never be released "because of the cold-blooded and brutal murder."

"I will examine the files in the case and see if anything should or can be done," said First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley when apprised of the release of Ciollaro.

In another habeas corpus case brought by Attorney Anderson before Judge Williams on a technicality, Joseph Chapman was freed in 1927 from the penitentiary where he was serving a life term for murder. The Supreme court subsequently held his action to be illegal and ordered the release order expunged and the man returned to the penitentiary.

The same judge and attorney also figured in the freeing on a technicality of Elmer Schneider, a rapist. This action, too, was upset by the Supreme court. The last case in which the judge and lawyer figured was the release on probation in 1932 of two confessed gunmen, Carl Parker, nephew of Judge Carl G. Sherwood of Clark, S. D., and Stanley Wilson, 19 years old.

Judge Williams said last night he has no recollection of the Ciollaro case, although he recalled frequent appearances in his court of Attorney Anderson, and referred to the lawyer as "Habeas Corpus" Anderson. In the last few months, Judge Williams said, he has refused to issue writs of habeas corpus for Anderson in half a dozen cases.

ERICSON CANVAS GIVEN CONGRESS BY NORWEGIANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—A painting showing the discovery of America by Leif Ericson, a copy of the original by Christian Krohg in the National gallery of Oslo, was placed in Statuary hall today as the gift of hundreds of Norwegians who contributed to a fund for the purpose.

The presentation was made by Dr. Alf Bjercke of Oslo, who was introduced by Wilhelm Morgenstierne, the Norwegian minister, in a colorful ceremony broadcast by short wave radio to Norway.

Speaker of the House Joseph W. Byrns and Senator Albert W. Barkley [Dem., Ky.] in accepting the painting on behalf of congress, spoke of the gift as a symbol of the long history of unbroken peace and friendship between the two countries. Vice President Garner presided.

The painting, showing the Norwegian explorer at the time when he first saw the American mainland, is a copy of the original made by Per Krohg, son of the painter of the original.

Parolee Is Held to Grand Jury on Auto Theft Charge

Edgar Collier, 27 years old, a paroled convict, was held to the grand jury in $80,000 bonds on four automobile theft charges yesterday by Judge Harry H. Porter in Evanston Municipal court. He was paroled from Pontiac reformatory last Dec. 7.

JOIN HUGE ARMS OF OAKLAND BAY BRIDGE DURING LULL IN TIDE

San Francisco, Cal., March 23.—(AP)—Workmen joined the two 700 foot arms of the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge today, completing the eight mile cantilever span.

A 50 foot eye-bar was hoisted into place from a barge during a lull in the swift tides that sweep the channel below. A workman scampered across to place a big steel pin through the eye-bar and its seat. Steel, cable and a tunnel linked San Francisco and Oakland for the first time.

Rush $700,000 Telephone Equipment to Pittsburgh

Approximately $700,000 of telephone equipment has been sent from the Hawthorne plant of the Western Electric company to the flood area in Pittsburgh and Williamsport, Pa., by train, truck, and airplane, officials of the company said yesterday. A number of exchanges were ruined by water. Both engineers and shop men at the Hawthorne plant have been working day and night to get the equipment ready.

PICK 10TH JUROR AS VERA STRETZ WEEPS IN COURT

Day Long Calm Is Broken; More Talesmen Called.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Two brief periods of convulsive but inaudible sobbing shook the otherwise inscrutable Vera Stretz in General Sessions court today during the weary business of choosing a jury to try her for the murder of Dr. Fritz Gebhardt, German economist.

The first came when her attorney imputed to the slain industrial expert the practice of strange, oriental love rites and the second developed when her lawyer, in questioning a prospective juror, branded her a woman who had sinned in her relations with her employer-lover.

When Judge Cornelius F. Collins announced adjournment at 6 o'clock, after the first panel of 66 names of "blue-ribbon jurors" had been exhausted, ten men were in the box. A new panel of 100 talesmen was called for tomorrow.

Outlines of Defense Seen.

Samuel Leibowitz, counsel for Miss Stretz, virtually outlined his plan of defense in questioning the talesmen. Before the close of the session it seemed obvious that he will argue that the defendant killed Gebhardt to prevent an "unnatural assault."

"Nietzsche was Gebhardt's God," he said in questioning prospective jurors.

It seemed apparent, from the drift of the questioning, that much of the testimony may not make suitable reading for home consumption.

While the defense probably will portray Miss Stretz as defending herself against a degrading advance, the prosecution expected to base its case on premeditation.

Mother's Death Excuses Juror.

One juror, chosen Friday, was excused today when he informed Judge Collins of the death of his mother. Before court adjourned the defense had exhausted twenty-four challenges, the state sixteen.

Miss Stretz makes an unusual defendant, considering the general appearance of women defendants in murder trials in New York. She has achieved utter lack of color.

Miss Stretz, eyes cast down most of the time, was a study in complete isolation. She seemed to radiate aloofness. Her pale face was a sickly yellow. Her lips purple.

Leibowitz said to each talesman:

"There is no question in this case as to who did the shooting, but would you be prejudiced against a woman who had yielded to a man's importunities?"

Hints Defendant Will Testify.

He elaborated on the felony to indicate that Dr. Gebhardt drew Miss Stretz's fire with an unorthodox proposal, and then hinted that Miss Stretz will testify in her own behalf.

In late afternoon, as the chamber darkened, Miss Stretz seemed on the verge of a breakdown. Her fingers toyed delicately at her forehead and temples in a gesture of distress.

TRY THREE TODAY AS KIDNAPERS IN FLOGGING DEATH

Ousted Tampa Police Are Accused.

Tampa, Fla., March 23.—(AP)—Three of the eleven men accused in the flogging death of Joseph Shoemaker go on trial here tomorrow for the kidnaping of E. F. Poulnot, one of Shoemaker's two associates.

The defendants are C. A. Brown, John R. Bridges, and C. W. Carlisle, all former city policemen. The eight others are suspended Police Chief R. G. Tittsworth, his secretary, former policemen, special officers, and ex-city employés.

The eleven are charged with being principals or accessories in the kidnaping, tarring, feathering, and flogging of the three unemployed organizers and political workers last Nov. 30.

Two Companions Recover.

Shoemaker died nine days after he was mistreated by a masked band. His companions, Poulnot and S. D. Rogers, recovered.

The American Federation of Labor protested the flogging and threatened to withdraw its 1936 national convention from Tampa unless the guilty persons were brought to justice.

Former Police Chief Tittsworth was indicted on charges of being an accessory after the fact in the death of Shoemaker. Manuel Menendez, secretary to Tittsworth, has been released on bond on a charge of being an accessory after the fact in the death of Shoemaker, but has not been indicted.

Seized After Police Quiz.

Poulnot, Shoemaker, and Rogers were arrested without warants while attending a meeting of the Modern Democrats, a political organization sponsored by Shoemaker. Brown said he had been informed in an anonymous telephone call that communism was being discussed.

2 DOCTORS HELD FOR CONSPIRACY IN STERILIZATION

San Francisco, Cal., March 23.—(AP)—Dr. Samuel G. Boyd and Dr. Tilton E. Tillman were held to Superior court today on charges of conspiracy to commit mayhem in connection with the sterilization of Ann Hewitt.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt McCarter, seriously ill in a Jersey City, N. J., hospital, also faces a conspiracy charge.

The sterilization first became public when Miss Hewitt filed suit for $500,000 against her mother, alleging the operation was performed so Mrs. Hewitt could inherit a fortune left by Ann's father, the late Peter Cooper Hewitt, inventor.

Because the official record of their marriage was destroyed in the great San Francisco earthquake of 1906, George Lepper, 73 years old, 1438 West Adams street, and his wife, Anna, 67 years old, obtained a license to remarry yesterday at the marriage license bureau. The Leppers were originally married in San Francisco on July 2, 1898.

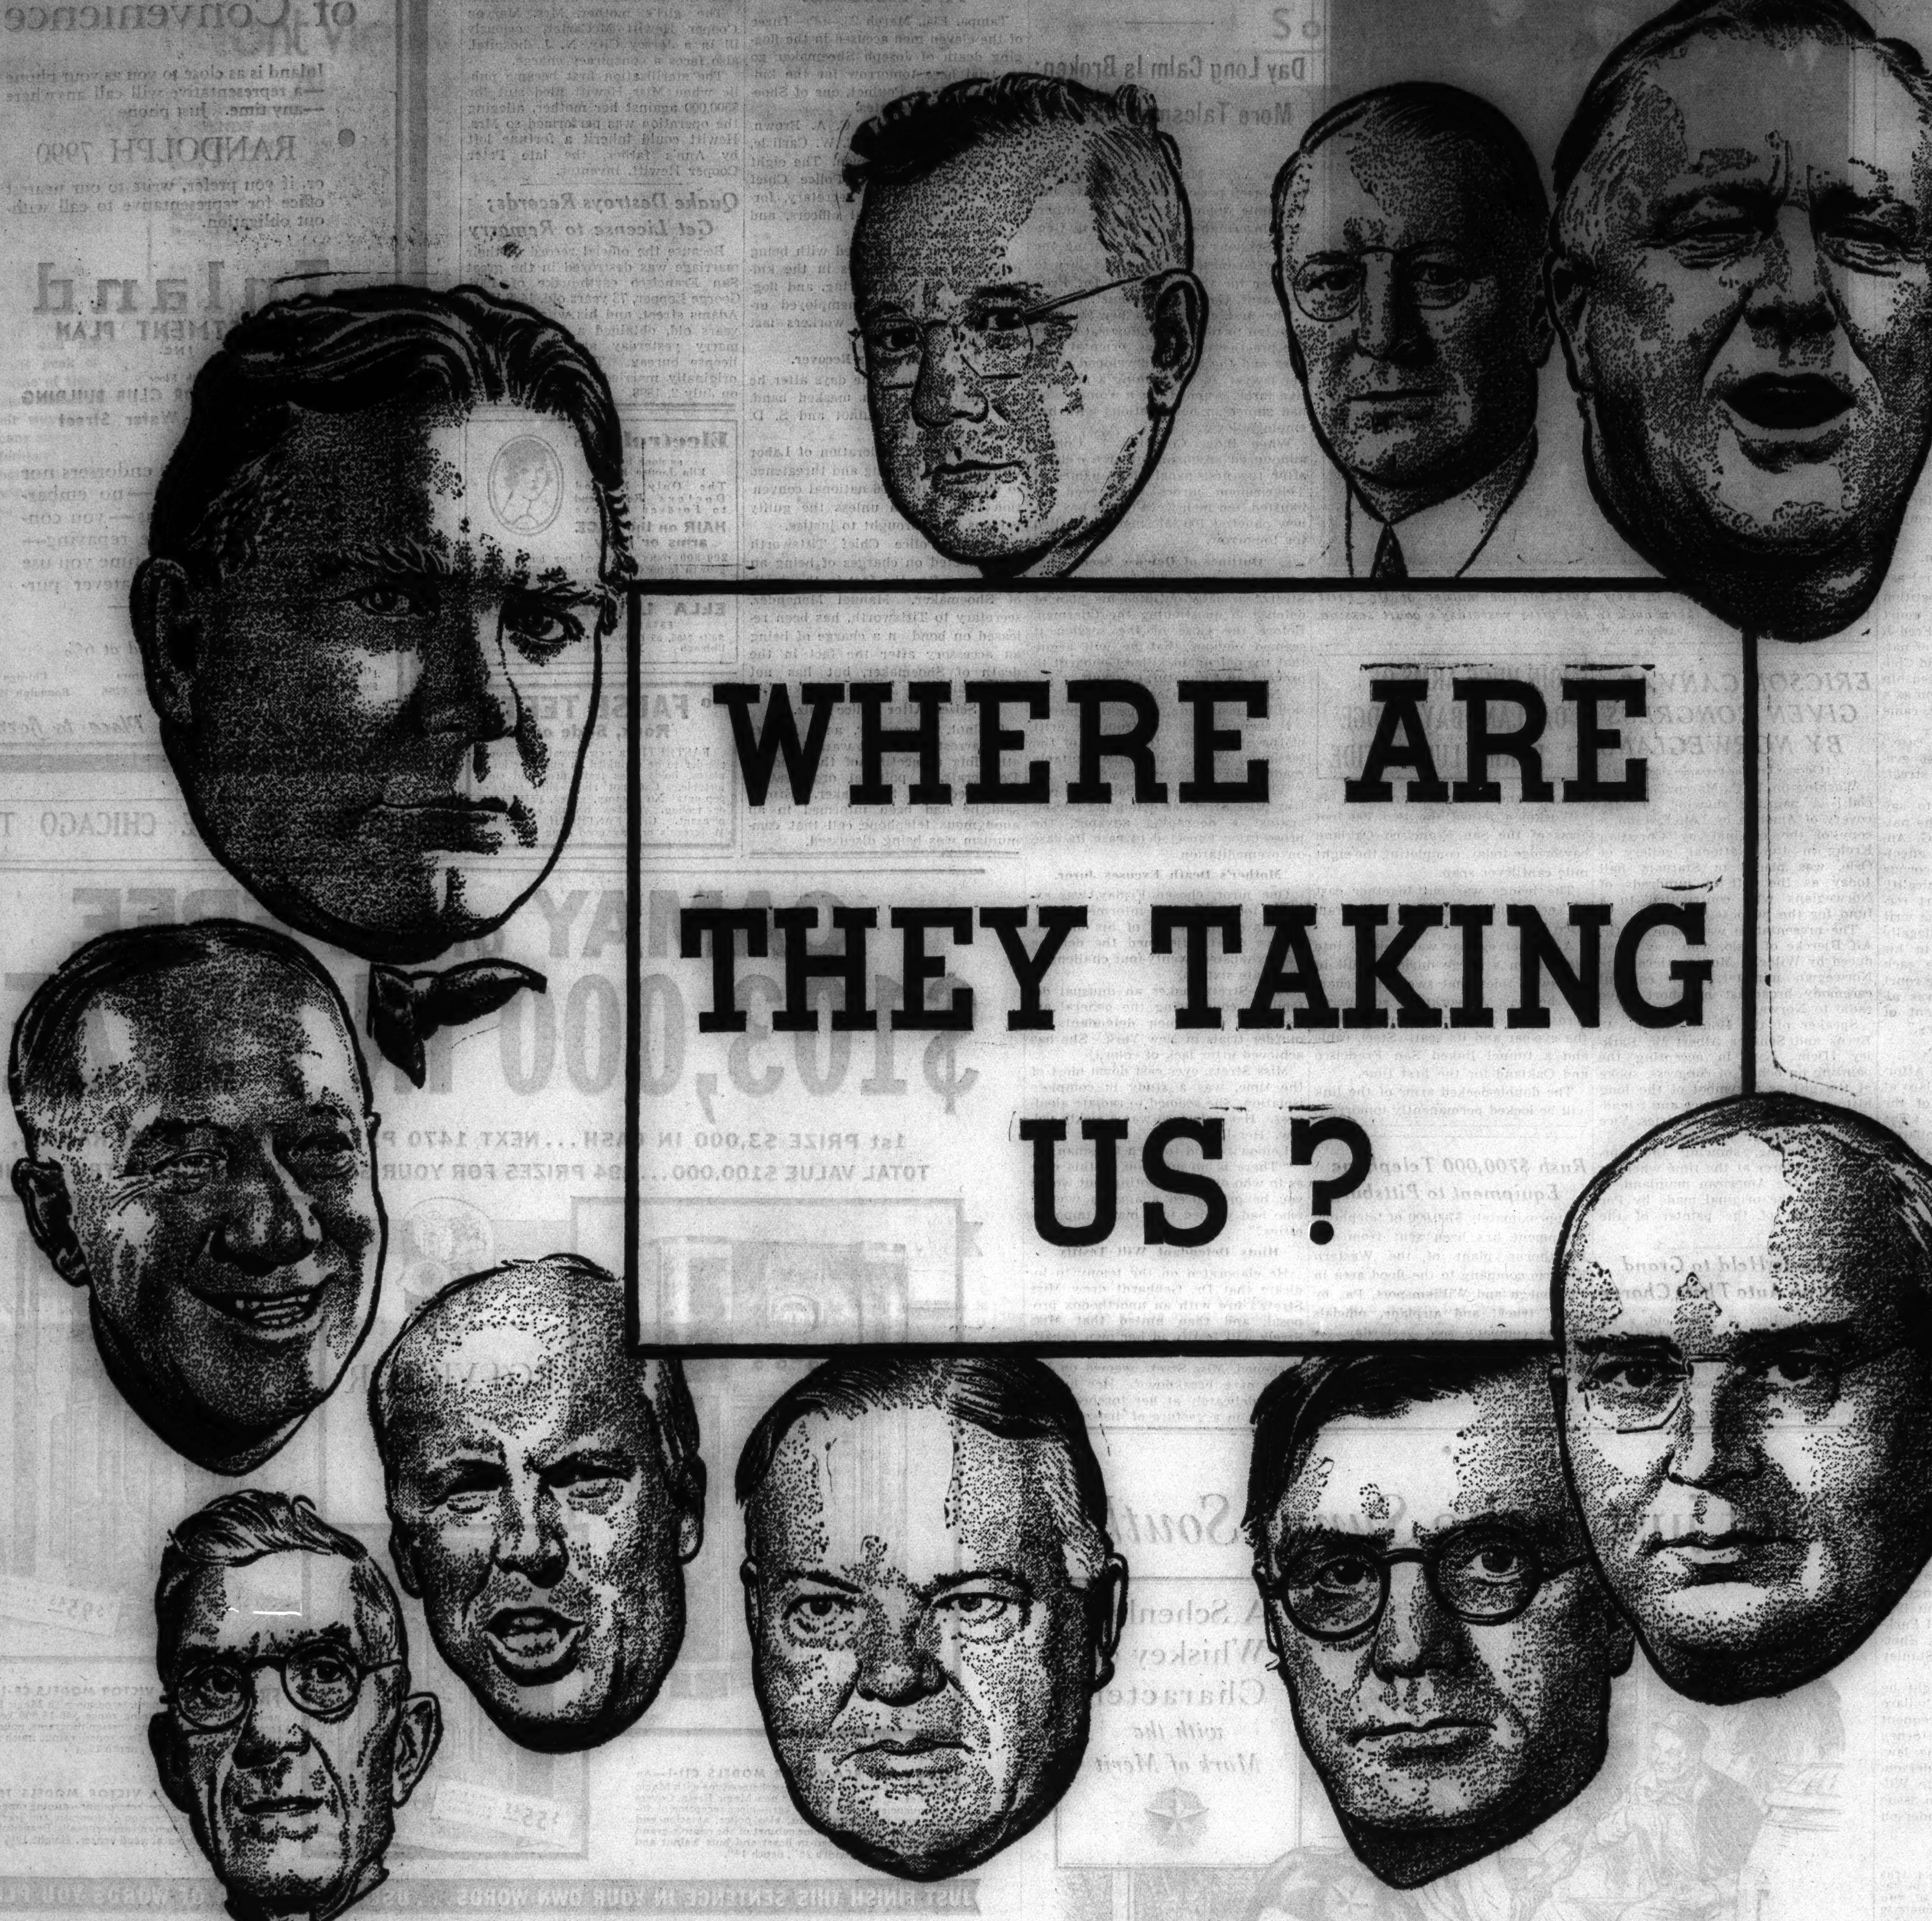
WHERE ARE THEY TAKING US ?



We are in a period when politics again provoke men's passions because they are deeply affecting individual lives and aspirations. Ambitious men and groups are fanning the flames of social and economic prejudices and hatreds. Again old principles of government and old concepts of social morality are being radically revised.

Who are the leaders? . . . And where are they taking us now?

Those who read The Times can best judge the trends. For The Times reports politics seriously—but without prejudice. It reports politics objectively, as it does all news. The Times has many readers who may disagree with its editorial opinion, but who accept its news, whether political or otherwise, because they know that The Times reports are complete, unprejudiced and as nearly correct as human reporting can be!

It is, first, last, and all the time, a newspaper.

Everything in The Times, whether week-days or Sundays, relates directly to the news of the day. From beginning to end it is a panorama of the world in all its phases—as life expresses itself up to the minute the last edition is run! This unflagging freshness is what gives The Times its brisk vitality.

A special importance is attached to advertising in The New York Times. It is given the same dynamic importance as news. And it gets the intelligent consideration of hundreds of thousands of exceptionally intelligent and influential New Yorkers.

THE DRIVING POWER OF THE TIMES

As in every year since 1919, The New York Times, in 1935, again led all New York newspapers in volume of advertising. In the first two months of 1936, The Times continued its advance with total advertising far surpassing its 1935 linage. And for each of those months, the highest week-day circulation average in the history of The New York Times was attained!

The unquestioned advertising leadership of The Times is largely due to the character of Times readers. Leaders, both in New York and nationally, in a constantly widening group, they give a driving power to Times advertising that is unequaled. National advertisers find it increasingly effective.

Spring Blooms at Charleston Draw Throng

Chicagoans Stop There on Trips from Florida.

BY JUDITH CASS.

NOW that spring is advancing northward, Charleston, S. C., is coming into its own. With the famous azalea and magnolia gardens reaching the peak of their beauty about this time of the year, a number of Chicagoans always stop at Charleston on their way from Florida. Other Chicagoans are going down there to enjoy a foretaste of spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garfield King have gone to Charleston from Palm Beach, and are planning to remain there until April 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Sprague have just returned from Charleston in time to join their children here for their spring vacations. Miss Laura Sprague is here for ten days from Foxcroft, where she is an instructor in riding, and Otho Sprague is arriving for his vacation from Harvard on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Wilson, who were at Yeaman's hall in Charleston with the Spragues and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Farwell, have gone on to Sarasota, Fla., to visit the Stanley Fields. Mr. and Mrs. Farwell have been in Charleston for several months and are remaining on for some time.

Virginia Springs Also Popular.

Another early spring resort for Chicagoans is the Virginia Hot Springs where, beginning the first of April, one of the busiest seasons in years is in prospect. Mrs. Homer A. Stillwell and her son, Wellesley H. Stillwell, already are at the Springs, and the Joseph L. Valentines are going down there in time to see their son, Joseph W. Valentine, appear in the Hasty Pudding show which the Harvard undergraduates are presenting there April 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Armin W. Brand are going down at about the same time, and so are Mrs. Frank S. Porter and her son, Lefens Porter. Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bennett and their daughters, Miss Barbara Jane and Miss Mary Elizabeth Bennett; Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dingle and Miss Florence Dingle, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Middleton Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Tilden, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Troup, and Mr. and Mrs. William Ellis also are spending several weeks at the spring.

In nearby White Sulphur Springs Mrs. Finley Barrell will pause for a sojourn on her way home from Florida. The annual outing of the Chicago District Golf association will bring 200 members to White Sulphur the week-end of April 3.

Tell Engagement of Caroline Stevens.

Intimate friends of Miss Caroline Stevens who gathered yesterday for a luncheon party in the apartment of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Stevens, at 1500 Lake Shore drive, did not expect to hear the exciting news that was told then. At the party Mr. and Mrs. Stevens announced the engagement of their daughter to Wellington Willson Cummer II., son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Emerson Cummer of Jacksonville, Fla.

The announcement came as a complete surprise to nearly every one as the romance of the attractive and charming Miss Stevens and Mr. Cummer has been carried on at a distance from Chicago. Her friends will have the opportunity of meeting the young man this week, however, for Mr. Cummer flew from New York to Chicago on Sunday to pay a week's visit to his fiancée and her parents.

Miss Stevens has not spent a great deal of time in Chicago since she was graduated from the Girls Latin school, for she went two years to Smith college, and spent the following year traveling in Europe with her mother. The Stevens family spends every summer at Delavan lake, where they have a home. A year ago Miss Stevens spent most of the winter months in Bermuda, sharing a house with several Chicago friends; and during the last winter she spent several weeks at Nassau.

Mr. Cummer has not been in the south except during vacation time, for he still is a student. He prepared at the Hill school for Yale, and after his graduation he returned to New Haven to study architecture, a course that he is finishing this summer. The wedding will take place in June, after his graduation.

There will be several small parties for Miss Stevens and Mr. Cummer during his visit here. Her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Charles G. Stevens Jr. [Helen Boericke] and Mrs. John B. Stevens [the former Louise Heuer of Davenport, Ia.], both will entertain.

Miss Jacque Cushing Will Become Bride.

Also of interest today is the announcement that Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Kennedy Cushing of the Belmont hotel are making of the engagement of their daughter, Jacque, to Karl Morton Schmid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Schmid of Barry avenue. Like Miss Stevens, Miss Cushing is a graduate of the Girls Latin school. Later she was graduated from Principia.

Mr. Schmid attended Princeton university and is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Front Views and Profiles

FRIENDS who are invited by Mrs. James Ward Thorne to come to luncheon with her at her studio-workshop are likely to arrive in a state of suppressed excitement that would indicate there is more in the invitation than meets the eye. What they hope—and they are likely to be right—is that they will be given a glimpse of the new series of miniature rooms, and perhaps even of the cathedral upon which Mrs. Thorne has been working for many months. And during the gay informality of luncheon, with a smock provided for each guest, coffee sent up from downstairs, a hot dish brought in by the chauffeur from the Thorne home kitchen, and a salad prepared by Mrs. Thorne herself, there is the pleasant sensation of a surprise to follow.

Mrs. Thorne's New Series.

WHAT actually happens is more miracle than surprise. The new miniature rooms are in the workshop adjoining the studio, and suddenly, a screen removed, one finds oneself gazing into a miniature cathedral from the open doorway. So perfect are the proportions of its Gothic arches and stone pillars, the pattern of the mosaic floor, the carved high altar, and the stained glass windows that it is difficult to believe one is not actually standing in the cathedral. The peace, the quiet, the very odor of a cathedral enfolds the gazer, and a reverent soul would have to resist an impulse to pray, I think. Even irreverent souls have confessed a tightening of the throat and a stinging of the eyeballs at looking into this miraculous miniature cathedral. Shafts of light slant through the high stained glass windows, there is an organ of great beauty, a triptych behind the altar, sculptured figures of the saints in niches, a row of prie-dieus near the door, and a little chapel with an altar and a madonna.

* *

WHEN the new series is complete a succession of French rooms, some of them copies of rooms in famous old chateaux, will flank the cathedral on one side and a series of English rooms on the other. The authenticity and perfection of these new rooms make them far more important than even the charming Thorne miniature rooms that delighted thousands at the World's Fair and now, daily, at the Chicago Historical society museum. One of the French rooms is a copy of a bedroom at Chenonceaux, the chateau Henry II. gave to Diana de Poitiers, and another is a salon at Langeais, the castle in which Charles VIII. was married to Anne of Brittany. There is a Louis XIV. salon with handsome chandeliers, authentic miniature furniture, and portraits and busts of the Sun king; a Louis XV. room with the curves and Du Barry rose brocades of the period, and eventually there will be a Directoire bedroom and an Empire salon.

* *

ONE of the English rooms is a reproduction of a bedroom at Knole, the Tudor manor house built for the most part in the days of Henry VIII. and given by Queen Elizabeth to her lord treasurer. The great canopied bed, hung with green brocade, and the chests and chairs are authentic copies of the originals, and out the window is a glimpse of an English garden. A room on which Mrs. Thorne is now at work is a miniature of the dining room of Holme house in Portman square, London, a house done by the elder Adam himself, on which he worked four years. Even the rug on the floor is a copy of the one Adam designed for the room. And there is, of course, a Jacobean room and a Georgian room, and others.

* *

THE pleasure the new series will give the public when once they are on exhibit is only a part of their importance, for here, at hand for study by young architects and decorators, are actual authentic reproductions of styles and periods, materials and wall paper patterns, door lintels and over-mantels, as contributed by great artists during a span of centuries. There are the actual reproductions of old rooms to delight them, and new period rooms created by a woman whose taste, knowledge, and love for what she is doing lives in each perfect detail.

Dance Given New Meaning by Kreutzberg

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Harald Kreutzberg gave his excited audience of last night such an amazing demonstration of the power of the dance to evoke or communicate significant emotional states that more than one man left that throng in Orchestra hall resolved to revise all of his ideas on this particular art form before another day should dawn.

The term "dancer" hardly does full justice to this extraordinary young German. He is a highly sensitive man, alert to life's poetry, drama and drollery, and quick to translate them into the noteless melody of line and motion.

Even line and motion do not tell the tale. Such odd and almost irrelevant arts as grimace, and such important ones as color and costume have been fused with the basic elements in a bewilderingly perfect manner. The mind stops trying to analyze the various elements that Kreutzberg has integrated so skilfully, and concerns itself instead with the beauty of the final product.

The man is a master of portentous gesture. In "Chorale," and still more so in "Pieta" and "Night," he succeeded in charging his atmosphere with intense and profound emotion. The demented horror of the "Jester's Dance" is another example to the point.

The pride of morning and an almost boyish joie de vivre sang through the intoxicating choreographic pattern of "Dance Through the Streets" and the third of a trio of Brahms Hungarian dances. Kreutzberg takes an intense delight in toying with the subtleties of meter, in ornamenting the simple line of a rhythm with such a profusion of ideas that the effect might be likened to good counterpoint in the joyousness of its well concealed complexity.

It was in that "Jester's Dance," by the way, that he first conceived the idea, many years ago, of the shaven head that has since become a sort of world-wide trademark. The "Master of Ceremonies" which preceded it on last night's program was the part for which Max Reinhardt engaged him after the sensational success of the other.

Love of laughter and a keen sense of caricature informed the final group, billed as "Three Merry Dances for Children." The bewigged fop from old Vienna lived three crowded minutes to the lilting melodies of "The Bat." Just before him, a decidedly unclassical faun danced on two feet or four, as the whim of the moment dictated, while the unfamiliar music of Reinitzer kept the nonsense in some sort of time scheme.

Kreutzberg's costuming is imaginative, his instrumental background adequate. Although one piano cared for the latter, its sonorous octaves were the charge of Friedrich Wilckens, the dancer's co-worker and regular accompanist.

The recital marked the successful debut of a new managerial combination, Grace Denton and Hazel Moore.

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Max Rothafel of Woodmere, L. I., announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Gladys, to Joseph L. Eisendrath Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Good Morning!

YOU: "'Crime and Punishment'? Why, I saw that picture just a few weeks ago!"

ME: "That's right—you did. The Hollywood version. But not the French, which is a far worthier production and certainly worth your patronage."

As I believe I said when reviewing the first mentioned version of the Dostoevsky novel, I haven't read the book—an intensive study of a criminal's battle with and defeat by conscience. But those who have declare that this French picture has captured—and reflects—the author's thought in a far greater degree than does the American made photoplay. Certainly I was far more impressed by "Crime et Chatiment" than by "Crime and Punishment."

The Mussolini prize, Coupe Volpi, was awarded Pierre Blanchar at the International Exhibition in Venice for his portrayal of Raskolnikov.

M. Blanchar is a thin, dark, intense young man with enormous, cavernous eyes. From the moment you encounter him, sitting tense, engulfed in dark and murderous thought, on the rickety couch in his garret room—he holds enchained your concentrated and shuddering attention.

He starts out to commit a "perfect crime"—the murder of a vicious old woman money lender. The unplotted murder of her sister—who comes upon him unaware just after the commission of his dark deed—follows . . . The "perfect crime" had developed alarming imperfections . . .

And now conscience begins to torture Raskolnikov . . . "The Wicked flee when no man pursueth" says the Good Book. So it is with this murderer. Unsuspected, he suspects everybody OF suspecting, and is finally goaded by inner proddings to revelation—and confession.

It is a magnificent piece of acting that M. Blanchar gives us—flanked by splendid supporting characterizations. Harry Baur as the brainy police inspector, who sweetly but surely wraps Raskolnikov in a toughly fibrous web of his own weaving, is a compelling figure. Madeleine Ozeray as the gentle Magdalen, in whose love the criminal finds understanding, forgiveness, and peace, and Paulette Elambert, the marvelous child you saw—or should have seen—in "La Maternelle," lend luster to the production. . . . Minor rôles were in the hands of capable craft folk.

The direction is superfine—as attested by the fact that, though the film runs for about two hours, never once does your interest lag, nor do you fumble for your watch.

See you tomorrow!

Print Natural Color Photos of Paris Styles

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

For the most exciting fashion news printed in Chicago this spring, turn to the picture section of next SUNDAY'S CHICAGO TRIBUNE. There THE TRIBUNE will present the first of a series of exclusive, natural color photographs made at the recent spring style openings in the famous Paris salons.

Color—subtle, alluring, bewitching—is the theme of all fashion this spring. In these pages the brilliant and tender shades have been reproduced faithful to the originals. To study the pages is equal to having had a ringside seat at the style revues.

Scaioni of Paris, the master of the color camera, took the pictures at the showings with the advice and assistance of Bettina Bedwell, THE TRIBUNE'S Paris fashion authority. Then the plates were rushed across the Atlantic on one of the fastest liners and THE TRIBUNE rotogravure presses did the rest.

The first series of natural color photographs from the Paris spring and autumn showings was presented by THE TRIBUNE two years ago. Since then the pictures have been acclaimed by leading photographers throughout this country as the finest color fashion photos ever produced. THE TRIBUNE'S interest in giving the series to the public is in line with its progressive interest in all phases of color printing.

After seeing the fashion pages, about to be released, any lady, no matter how conservative, will be convinced that the monotone ensemble is a matter of style history. The last two seasons there has been a trend toward color, but this year Mainbocher, Patou, Piguet, and the rest of the great designers are burning with passion for color harmonies and it's almost impossible to find a one color costume.

Black and deep blue are still at the head of the spring style procession, but they are spiced with reds, greens, and yellows to make them exciting. In some costumes the influence of the old Romans is found while the subtle charm of the Caribbean is felt in other colorings.

For evening orchids, lilacs, and Parma violets have won the hearts of the designers. To be smart a lady of fashion combines orchid gloves with a coat of Parma violet faille silk.

This particular costume is one of Mainbocher's creations and will appear in next Sunday's fashion page. The other costumes to be portrayed are equally vivid and interesting, so be sure to see this exclusive series in THE TRIBUNE'S rotogravure section.

Bergner Joins United Artists for Five Years

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, March 23.—Samuel Goldwyn on behalf of United Artists has signed a five year contract with Elisabeth Bergner and her director husband, Dr. Paul Czinner.

The first of a series of films for the actress will be based on Sir James Barrie's play, "The Boy David," which was scheduled to enter production this month but was indefinitly postponed because of the star's sudden illness. Miss Bergner is recovering well following her appendicitis operation but is still at a nursing home, where Mr. Goldwyn had a few minutes' interview, completing the negotiations and signing the contract.

When production will begin depends on Miss Bergner's condition and how soon the doctors will permit her to work. The films will be made in the now nearly completed London Film Productions, Denham studios of Alexander Korda.

Subsequent films for Miss Bergner will include George B. Shaw's "St. Joan," one of her great stage rôles, and Jack London's "Little Lady of the Big House."

Miss Bergner's last film, completed shortly before her illness, "As You Like It," has not yet been released.

Women Will Hold Pageant of Progress

A "Women's Pageant of Progress" to stress the achievement of the sex in the business, scientific, and professional worlds will be staged by Chicago club women from April 18 to 26 at Navy pier.

The proceeds of the pageant will be used to establish a milk fund in Chicago similar to the well known foundation in New York, which supplies milk for undernourished children.

Mrs. Burnett Dewey Warner, president and treasurer of the pageant, has been identified for many years with social service work and clubs. She said yesterday the exposition had received the unofficial approval of the city's executives and that nationally known industries had promised coöperation.

"While the pageant is being sponsored by women exclusively," she said, "it will appeal to both sexes from the standpoint of entertainment and exposition interest. Programs are being arranged for the participation of nationality groups and there will be many amusement features. The importance of health, civic pride, culture, and good citizenship will be stressed by exhibits, demonstrations, and stage features."

Booths at the exposition already have been taken by the Illinois State Federation of Women's Clubs, the State Federation of Churches, the Woman's City club, the Chicago Woman's club, Southern Woman's club, Woman's Ideal club, Service Council for Girls, Goodwill Industries, Chicago Medical association, First district, rural division, of the State Nurses, School Children's aid, parent-teacher associations, W. C. T. U., Catholic women's clubs, Episcopal women's clubs, Sarah Hacket Stevens memorial, and the Edgewater Presbyterian church.

Now Girls May Try On Bridal Veils in Private

Spared a Trying Experience in Romantic Period.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Blushing brides-to-be who used to try on the important bit of misty veiling surrounded by crowds of envious and critical shoppers would have wished to postpone that ordeal if they had known of the new hidden spot in one Chicago shop. It is called the veil room for want of something more romantic. It is what it is called, a small but cloistered nook, where the timid or palpitating girl can try, carefully choose just the right halo effect, the ruching cap, the tulle masterpiece for that great day ahead.

Without the army of whispering spectators, such an important selection becomes fun. With clever lighting, with plenty of mirrors, supercomfortable chairs, and all kinds of expert advice and veils from which to choose, life regains its rosy hue, and you will depart with just what you dreamed about. They show you all kinds of new ideas—short veils made of yards and yards of tulle or net that swirl around the lower hipline, fastened to a headdress that fits like a boyish skullcap so that your curls will show to the best advantage, or you can wear a braided headband of tulle, crêpe or satin to hold the long veil.

If you are lucky enough to have an heirloom lace veil it will be cherished as tenderly as you have valued it, but so fashioned and tucked around your face line that it will not look the same as it has looked on other brides in the family and still not be cut or misused to achieve that result.

Lovely lace veils, short or long, are here ready for your approval, just as much heirloom possibilities as anything you find. If your wedding is for spring and the thought of facing curious shoppers while you decide what's what for that day has rather upset your disposition, this new veil room is the answer to your prayers for privacy. It is near a new millinery department, where, incidentally, will be found the best looking deep, dark purple straw hats we have found since the beginning of the violet or mauve wave of spring headgear.

Miss 1937 Selected by Beauticians; She Is of "Exotic Type"

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Miss Ruth Coleman, Greenwich, Conn., professional model, today was named Miss 1937 by 12,000 beauticians.

Delegates conferred the honor at a session of the International Beauty Show Owners' convention by means of a formula devised through combining standards set by 42,000 beauty shop owners.

The winner has brownish-red hair and blue eyes, weighs 106, is 5 feet 4, has a 34 inch bust, 35 inch hips, and a 25 inch waist. "American exotic type" was the pronouncement of judges, who said she combined features of Myrna Loy and Marlene Dietrich, film actresses.

Miss 1935 weighed 134, they said, but that was because of the Mae West influence that year.

Special Squad

By Courtney Ryley Cooper

SYNOPSIS.

Inspector Sandy Ross and Buck Wasey of the department of justice travel from Reno to Vinton City in search of information on Sociable Joe Willis, suspected of assisting in armored car robberies. A collision of two cars on a mountain road brings Jane Bronson into Sandy's life. But she vanishes when she learns his identity. Jane had come to Vinton City to plead with her brother, Lee, known there as Ray Hammer, to give up his gang connections. Lee makes a hurried getaway with Jane, driving a cream colored car, and Lee deliberately runs down Sociable Joe. Sociable Joe denies knowing Jane Bronson or Ray Hammer. Meanwhile in San Francisco the Lurch-McKeever mob await the arrival of Lee Bronson, needed for his ability in female impersonating. The cream colored car is located at a tourist camp near Gunnison, Colo., where Sandy and Buck speed by plane. They find Jane alone. She confesses her brother carried a machine gun and left in anger at her pleas to go straight. An outfit of Jane's clothes is missing. In Gunnison Sandy uncovers clews which lead him to believe that Lee Bronson, dressed as a woman, took a train for San Francisco. Sandy leaves Jane under surveillance.

INSTALMENT XXVI.

A HOLDUP INTERRUPTED.

"I wouldn't trust that rat of a brother—say, down in Texas, they wouldn't wait to catch a guy like that. They'd just burn up the prairie in front of him and let him roast." Buck shook his round head dolefully. "But that's crime for you the way she flies today. Bothers a fellow like me. Bothers him to beat hell. I——"

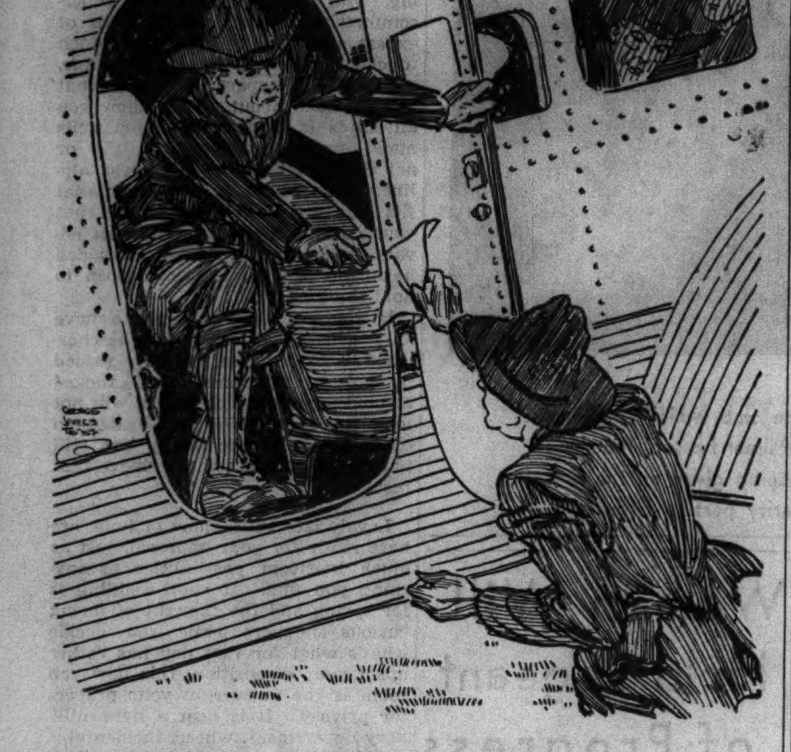
"Wake up in the night thinking about it," Sandy snapped. "Hello sherif. How quick do you think you can get us out to that plane of ours?"

It was a wild journey, with the horn going constantly and with Sandy half shouting to make himself heard over it. The girl was being left behind without suspicion, he told the sherif, and to be shown every consideration. As for other matters, would the sherif mind if they remained unexplained? The westerner grinned.

"What I don't hear I don't bother about, if it's none of my business."

Sandy Ross slapped the officer on one of his broad shoulders. He admired this man, an ideal local law enforcement officer, eager to know his part of the job and to do it, as eager not to know the minute details which might, through any number of innocent causes, slip past his lips into circulation and thence to become an information bureau to wanted criminals.

There was little time, however, to truly express these sentiments. The airport showed ahead, while speeding from the road to the ship was the form of a man, evidently a watchful special agent carrying the command to make ready for flight. The sherif's car sped them on to the field and within ten feet of the ship. Sandy and Buck leaped forth, other eager hands grasping the gun cases and hastily loading them. A quick good-by to the sherif and they were within the plane. Its propellers were roaring even as they locked the door.



"He jammed the message into the outstretched hand of Sandy Ross."

This time skies were fair and the ride a gliding one. High, still higher over the mountains they went, the pilot disregarding the usual rules of flight in the emergency of speed. Steadily the altitude grew greater until they were skimming the peaks of America's Switzerland. It is in this part of Colorado that the Rockies tilt themselves to their greatest grandeur.

The three special agents pressed their heads against the cold windows that they might peer into the mass of peaks and canyons and valleys beneath them. Sandy Ross and his round faced companion had no time for scenery.

Theirs was the job of going over every atom of the evidence presented during the night, and trying to piece fragments into a whole.

"You were right about him stealing the stockings too," the inspector told his assistant. "Lee Bronson had on silk ones and he didn't buy them at any store."

"Wonder where he got the wig?"

"Carries it, I guess."

"And he's a smart guy," Buck wailed over the steady roar of the motors. "Knows the value of spending money. Why, the fellows tell me he bought a ticket for New York—plenty money it costs from Gunnison. Probably tore it up and dropped it down the whatsis in the ladies' room the minute he headed out for San Francisco. And you know what?"

"What?"

"We still don't know any more about the gang we're chasing than we did in the beginning. We don't know whether this guy is the leader or just a hanger on. We don't know what part Sociable Joe plays in it. We don't know where the hangout is, or how many persons are in the mob. We don't know anything except that one little rat is beating it west wearing a red dress, a blue hat, and blue shoes. And he may not even be going to San Francisco."

There was no answer to any of these problems when the ship dropped momentarily to the landing field at Salt Lake, hastily refueled and once more started upon its westward journey. The next stop at Reno brought no enlightenment as again they reviewed every phase of the happenings at Gunnison. Jack Watson, resident special agent at Reno, awaited the opening of the cabin door.

The propellers quickly ceased revolving as the tank wagon sped up for another refueling. Watson hurried forward to report no news from San Francisco, and to state little from Reno. No more money had shown up. Sociable Joe was still under surveillance, but evidently in communication with no one. He had sent no wires, no letters, and had made no local or long distance calls. Investigation in gambling halls had proved his story of having gambled with gangsters to be a lie. The bartender at the Twenty Grand remembered no such incident. From nowhere else could any one be found who had seen such men as Sociable Joe had described. But persons had noticed him with a young fellow who fitted the effeminate picture of Lee Bronson. It was from him, evidently, that Sociable Joe had gotten the listed money which first had turned suspicion against him.

It was Lee Bronson, alias Ray Hammer, Watson had learned, who had distributed most of the currency which had brought the special squad to this town. A half dozen gambling halls had corroborated his description. Incidentally, Watson added, as the electric starters began to whine and the first protesting explosions came from the heavy, hornet type engines, Washington had telephoned to state that Sandy's surmise was correct, no past criminal record had been found against Lee, either by name or by finger prints forwarded from Vinton City.

"Looks like he's one of these rotten first timers," said the special agent as he half turned, preparatory to backing away from the ship. Suddenly however, he halted. "Hold 'er!" he shouted.

A car was rounding into the airport. Watson recognized the machine and the man at the wheel. Then Sandy's eyes narrowed. It was Harris, of the special squad. Brakes squeaked, rear wheels sloughed wildly and the car stopped, the car door meanwhile swinging open to allow the sprawling descent of the special agent. In one hand was a fluttering piece of paper, of watermelon-pink, the familiar color of F. B. I. teletype. Bent against the sideslip from the idling propellers he jammed the message into the outstretched hand of Sandy Ross. The inspector gave one glance and jerked back within the body of the ship, pulling the door tight behind him.

"Tell 'em to get going!" he shouted to Buck Wasey, waiting at the door of the turret. "Give 'er everything we've got. The case has broken wide open! In San Francisco!"

Forgetting the insistent glare of the illuminated command at the front of the cabin to "Fasten seat belts please," the inspector and his companion weaved in the aile, their every attention centered upon that piece of watermelon-pink paper and the staccato words it contained:

"SAN FRANCISCO: LURMACK MOB INTERRUPTED IN ATTEMPT 12:55 P. M. TODAY TO HOLD UP ARMORED TRUCK TRANSPORTING PAY ROLL PACIFIC AND EASTERN G. AND E. COMPANY STOP PATROLMEN HORLICK AND DUNNING S. F. P. Bakers Respond to Questions of Home Cooks

BY MARY MEADE.

A couple of weeks back it was our good fortune to listen in on a meeting in which five Chicago home economists parried questions with the American Society of Bakery Engineers. At the invitation of the society these five women attended one of the convention meetings and brought with them the homemaker's questions and criticisms on commercial baked products.

Getting the bakers' slant on these questions was to us particularly interesting, and we felt that you might be equally interested in having a report. These questions and answers were the high points of the discussion.

"Why do commercially baked cakes lack the satisfactory flavor of a good home made cake?" queried Miss Laura M. Winkelman of Lewis institute.

It's a debatable question as to whether they do or not, was the answer. A committee of housewives, in a recent test, chose the flavor of a baker's cake as that of home made. The large commercial bakeries, however, do have to meet the problem of flavor staling. A home baked cake usually is served soon after it comes out of the oven, when any cake is at its prime, while the bakery product must be delayed for a number of hours, due to transportation and distribution difficulties.

That's a matter of price differences, replied the bakers' group. The housewife who buys cookies strictly on a bargain basis cannot hope to duplicate the flavor of more costly home made cookies, but if she's willing to pay the price this question does not arise.

Flavor was the question theme of Miss Madeline Brumbaugh, Evanston High school. In answer to her criticism of inferior flavorings or a lack of flavoring in sweet baked goods, the bakery engineers cited many instances of research on the subject, and their continuation of the search for entirely satisfactory flavorings.

Mrs. Mary Koll Heiner of the School of Domestic Arts and Science made a suggestion that may be echoed by many homemakers. "Why can't the commercial baker go into grades of pies and other bakery products, according to varying prices that consumers are willing to pay?" she questioned.

Is there a demand for good cakes without filling or frosting, leaving that for individual preference and home production? That's one of the things Miss Ruth Straight, president of the Illinois Home Economics association, wanted to know. The demand of the housewife, she was answered, is for filled and frosted cakes, except for angel food, sponge cake, and pound cake.

Our own consumer demand likewise was cited as answer to a question put by Miss Hazel Fraser of the Austin High school home economics department, who asked the reason for the use of bleached flour rather than unbleached. The baker offers the housewife white bread and whole wheat bread in exact proportion to her demands, she was told.

Weathervane and Steeple an Old Quilt

BY NANCY CABOT.

As the title of this arresting pieced block might suggest, it is not of modern vintage. The original "Weathervane and Steeple" block was pieced of Turkey red and unbleached muslin. This combination still is retained although the material and shades of red have been varied slightly. It is easy to visualize a cupola of a barn with a double ended weathervane perched atop. Clever arrangement of pieced and plain blocks shows that the wind always is blowing in the right direction.

Aids to Beauty Are Weapons in Reach of All

Ginger Rogers Describes Her Use of Them.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

We have her press agent's word for it, not Ginger's, that every woman should be a gangster in the beauty racket. It is Ginger Rogers, of course, about whom we speak. Maybe Ginger told her press agent that's the way she feels about it. Maybe he made it up in his own inventive head. Anyway, the idea isn't bad, and so we pass it on for what it is worth to you, who have seen what Ginger has done with a native equipment, which I think her own mother hardly would call affluent from the beauty point of view. No reflection on the brilliant young woman. On the contrary, our hat is off in a magnificent low sweep to the Rogers miss of the dancing feet and arresting personality.

But to get on with the gangster idea as applied to women in pursuit of what they want or may need from the world of beauty aids. "Like any other gangster, to maintain her position," Miss Rogers' words read, "the modern woman must have protection. In our case it is protection for skin, hair, and hands that must be courted against those relentless foes, sun, wind, and cold, and overheated apartments, etc.

Shining hair, a good complexion, and perfect grooming are appointed the woman gangster's first rate weapons for mowing down victims. [Editor's note: You, yourself, we gather, supply your own intended victims names.]

Darned good machine guns, say I, for attracting attention. With the three mentioned assets and a good figure, you could pretty nearly get away with a first rate kidnaping, providing the victim were at all willing.

Ginger offers as one protection, a foundation cream to arm the skin against attack of any kind. A protection against dust and grime.

Lip rouge is offered as part of the protection, preventing cracking and chapping. If you will carry as a sidekick a white pomade stick for occasional dabbing, so much the better.

Protection for the hair covers oil treatments when it is dry, astringent tonics if it is oily.

Protection for the hands means the use of an emollient nightly and after each housework session

After all this protection, it's up to you to stage your own holdup, which, for our own peace of mind, we'd better advise be the kind with a romantic flavor.

Sorority Meeting.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

All set for the morning shower, in a new kind of shower cap that not only protects the hair from water and steam but doesn't muss the softest curl. Drawstrings in the back make it adjustable to your own headsize.

You might have thought that there couldn't be anything new under the sun about such a small thing as the cap one puts on before taking a shower—but we're here to tell you that some of our best minds have apparently been working on the problem of a shower cap that protects hair, but doesn't muss it and that they've arrived at a solution that's pretty nearly noble!

For those who love to take bracing showers but wish that curls and waves didn't die the death of a rag doll every time the owner dashed under the spray there is a grand new cap that doesn't look like any shower cap you ever saw, but that is a hundred per cent efficient. It looks like an aviator's helmet, with drawstrings in the back. You simply pop it on your head loosely, drawing the cap over the forehead, then pull the drawstrings tightly. It adjusts itself to your head size after it's on your head and when you take it off you just loosen the strings and remove it backward by grasping it at the forehead. Not a wave, not a ripple is disturbed.

It's completely moisture proof, of course. Torrents of water or clouds of steam can't get to the carefully curled locks.

The cap is cheap and not unattractive. It comes in all sorts of gay colors—Mexican red, yellow, green, wine or blue if you want something dashing. If you're conservative you can choose ivory or flesh tones.

You'll find it in one shop in town.

ELEANOR NANGLE.

Girls Invite Men's Respect or Lack of It

BY DORIS BLAKE.

The subject of who's to blame for unwelcome advances from young men is attacked from the masculine point of view.

"Apropos your column quoting poor Alicia's letter about how utterly beastly the average young man is, you gave it to us men right between the eyes. Now let us see, young woman, if you can take it!" H. continues:

"You condemn in one full swoop the entire masculine sex, throwing us lock, stock, and barrel into the single class of one track minders. Well, there are born chasers among our sex, and there are others. There are men who have learned to give sex its due and its place and the right girl the respect due her. What about these complaining women? Why, the best man in the world is but a babe in the hands of a clever woman. He might pursue the girl with an ignoble thought in mind, but she can, if she wills, divert this pursuing energy into the most moral channels. She can, by a single shrug, a word, a gesture, convey an unmistakable meaning, thus shaming her companion and make him rue the day he entertained any such ideas. If the girl is clever, he will come back in a healthier light than ever. But most girls haven't the manner nor the wish to establish this respect in the masculine breast."

relief funds. Today and tomorrow several young women are spending a morning or afternoon soliciting funds in the Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank and at Saks Fifth avenue.

A meeting of the entire Chicago Junior league has been called for Friday morning at the Drake hotel, where Miss Virginia Howlett, secretary of the welfare department of the Association of Junior Leagues of America, will be the principal speaker. Miss Howlett, who is visiting Mrs. Gordon Lang, head of the Chicago league's welfare department, was the guest of the board of directors of the Chicago league at a luncheon yesterday at the Fortnightly club.

Four Lectures Will Be Given Today.

The lecture goer has a choice of four lectures to attend today—or she may possibly attend three out of the four, for one is being given in the morning at the Woman's Athletic club where Clifton Utley will speak on current events; one is being given at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Art institute where the Print and Drawing club of the Art institute has invited its members to hear Miss Elizabeth McCormick speak informally about her collection of prints which will be on exhibit, and the other two are being given tonight.

Mrs. Alan M. Clement will be hostess to Mr. Utley for luncheon at the directors' table after his talk. Others who have made reservations for luncheon at the club are Mrs. Henry Veeder, Mrs. Edward J. Mosser, Mrs. Samuel R. Keare, and Mrs. John Powell.

Miss McCormick's exhibit, entitled "Modes and Manners," is a fascinating collection of old fashion plates and other prints. Tea will be served.

This evening at Orchestra hall, Carveth Wells will lecture on "Experiences in Mexico and Panama" before the Geographic Society of Chicago; and at 8 o'clock this evening in the auditorium of the New England church, Dearborn street and Delaware place, George Burwell Utley will speak on "The Biography of a Chicago Pioneer." George Utley's lecture is one of a series of five on "Literature and Social Change," sponsored by a large group of prominent near north side residents. Tickets are fifty cents, and may be obtained at the door. These tickets are good for admission to the gallery, or to any main floor seats not already occupied by subscription ticket holders by 7:55 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pynchon.

Also today, in the home of Miss Edith Lapham in Evanston, Mrs. Arden B. Lapham will talk on "The Romance of Old Porcelain" at a meeting of the North Shore Vassar club. Mrs. Julian P. Anderson will be cohostess with Miss Lapham, whose home is at 309 Davis street.

Lady Dunn Speaks Before French Groups.

Lady Dunn transported members of the Alliance Française and the Cercle Français from the Casino club to Salzburg at the height of the music festival yesterday afternoon at a tea given for both organizations by Orville J. Taylor.

Dressed in the colorful garb of the Tyrol, Lady Dunn spoke of the operas and concerts, the Max Reinhardt plays, the serenades in the courtyard of the Residenz and the marionette shows that make up the festival program. Interspersing her talk were recordings of the Salzburg bells and of Mozart music, climaxed by Lady Dunn's playing of the Romance from Mozart's D Minor concerto to the recorded accompaniment of the Vienna Philharmonic orchestra.

Robert Hall McCormick introduced Lady Dunn in French. After the talk Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, who is Lady Dunn's hostess during her stay here, spoke in acknowledgment of the lecture.

Among those in the audience were Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Kirk, Mrs. Ralph T. Winston, Mrs. John H. Blair, Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, Mrs. Frank R. Fuller, Mrs. Edward A. Leight and Mrs. Ernest R. Graham.

Lady Dunn, Mrs. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton, Alex Templeton, Ireene Wicker and a number of radio performers will be guests at a breakfast today at the Chicago Woman's club. Mrs. Albion L. Headburg, chairman of the distinguished guests committee, will preside.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Greene of 2300 Lincoln Park West are entertaining after 6 o'clock Sunday night at the Standard club for their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Friedman. Mr. and Mrs. Friedman, [Shirley Greene] were married on Feb. 28 in San Francisco.

Engaged

Miss Frances Ann Mellick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harry Mellick of Orrington avenue, Evanston, whose engagement to Raymond French Brookby, son of Mrs. Harry Esmond Brookby, also of Evanston, was made known recently at a luncheon at the Georgian hotel in Evanston. Miss Mellick attended Mundelein college and Northwestern university. Mr. Brookby was graduated from Dartmouth in 1932.

Alan Dinehart Puts Savings Into Paintings

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., March 23.—[Special.]—Ever since several of the Los Angeles banks failed, Alan Dinehart has been diverting some of his money from the financial institutions and putting it where he thinks it safer. This is in fine paintings, first edition volumes, antiques, and art objects.

"Instead of putting a set portion of my earnings into savings accounts," Dinehart explained. "I purchased literary or art valuables. I cover them with insurance, and feel I am safer than with that money in the bank."

Dinehart, who draws his film salary in any one of three capacities—actor, director, or writer—now has nearly $200,000 tied up in canvases and books. One of his long time hobbies has been the collection of original Edgar Allan Poe material. He owned the manuscript of "Murders in the Rue Morgue," but it was burned when his home in Westport, Conn., was destroyed by fire five years ago. He owns a copy of the Southern Literary Messenger, in which Poe's "Masque of the Red Death" was first published.

Jacques Tourneur, son of Maurice Tourneur, pioneer Hollywood movie director, is now himself a director, handling a short subject titled "The Killer" at M. G. M.

Irene Dunne has signed for three pictures yearly with Paramount. She previously starred for R. K. O. and Universal and just completed "Showboat" for the latter.

All ten youths who were plucked off college campuses and brought to Hollywood in a college boy movie contest in 1927 are now out of films, the tenth and last being John Westwood of Princeton '25, who is now bowing out as Fredric March's stand-in, to marry and start professionally as an insurance broker. The other youths withdrew from movies in past years, one of them, the Yale candidate, becoming a young physician here; the Michigan youth is operating a small newspaper in Michigan, and one of the others is a clothes ad model in New York.

In between shots in "Mary of Scotland," in which she is appearing with Katharine Hepburn at R. K. O., Helen Broderick crochets. She told the prop man to take away the folding canvas bottom chair he brought her. "I want a good old fashioned rocking chair," she said, and got it. "Did you ever see your grandmother crochet without sitting in a rocking chair?" she asked.

'Secret Service' Is Revived by Federal Theater

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

The American Repertory company, alias Federal Theater, No. 2, which bears the official seal of the Works Progress administration upon its coat of arms, continues its laboratory work in the American drama of the 1890s. Last night it staged for a two week's run a fairly satisfactory revival of William Gillette's "Secret Service," which many ancient critics regard as the masterpiece of civil war plays.

It was a good piece of work for its period, when playwrights aimed at tricks of plot and practised the art of letters like sleight of hand men. It thrilled its generation with its story of the Union spy in Richmond, masquerading as a confederate officer with a gift for telegraphy and torn, of course, between love and duty. Mr. Gillette wrote for himself a rôle in which his knack of simulating nervous excitement under a cold, taciturn exterior had some admirable opportunities for commanding his audiences. According to the standards of today, however, "Secret Service" is merely an interesting museum piece with a respectable record.

The play's most stirring situation comes at the close of its second act, where a fugitive spy, released in order to trap the bigger and better secret service agent who is his own brother, kills himself to save the latter from suspicion. Memories of Mr. Gillette, standing over the body, pistol in hand as if he himself had done the shooting, and saying to the pursuing soldiery, "Corporal, there is your prisoner," still haunt the minds of veteran sentimentalists of the theater. I suspect, however, that in half a day I could find half a dozen ancestors of this situation, all of them from 100 to 200 years older than "Secret Service."

Martin Burton, who has had leading rôles in a number of Broadway productions and whose home town is La Grange, Ill., appears in Mr. Gillette's rôle. The nervous tension of the Gillette tradition is not in his métier; but otherwise he gives a sound, professional performance. The military atmosphere of the play is well handled; careful attention has been given to stage settings, costumes, uniforms, and side arms.

"Secret Service" was first staged in 1895. It was Gillette's vehicle for his London debut in 1897 and was revived by him in 1910 and 1915. Its total number of performances to date, excluding use by stock companies, is 1,792.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

I think labels often scare people off. In school, for instance. List a book under "Required Reading for the Second Semester" and some boys and girls will be convinced that it can't be a swell book or that they'd enjoy reading it.

Labels often set up a resistance in people that makes them sheer off from a subject. "Sex education" sounds rather formidable, doesn't it?

That label "sex" frightens off so many parents who would be otherwise quite natural and matter of fact about the whole thing. Yet sex education, starting with the young child, should be merely a natural and matter of fact process of answering his questions and giving him information about where he came from, how babies grow and are born, and the human body and its purposes and functions.

Such questions can be answered, such information can be given quite as simply as if they concerned the moon—the stars—why kitty can lap up her milk.

According to CULBERTSON

TRIBUTE TO AN EXPERT.

The late Louis H. Watson was one of the game's greatest players and analysts. The keynote of his game was soundness. His brilliance lay in his steadiness and dependability rather than in sensational bids or plays that might startle a none too discerning gallery. His mistakes were few and far between, and he possessed, perhaps more than any other individual, a rare ability to adapt his game to that of difficult partners. He believed that all good players followed the same basic ideas, that where they differed was in individual idiosyncracies. His genius was the accuracy of his diagnosis of these idiosyncracies, plus infinite capacity for clear reasoning and logical play.

The hand shown below is an excellent example of the vision he brought to bear on crucial situations. Only the finest players will appreciate the brilliance of the simple, unobtrusive play he made to defeat a vulnerable slam contract.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 diamond	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
2 no trump	Pass	3 clubs	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	4 no trump	Pass
6 no trump [final bid]

I am merely reporting the bidding as it actually took place, not endorsing its soundness. To my mind, East was much too optimistic in his bid of four no trump, following his previous strong bidding. Still, against any one except a player of the first rank in the South seat, it is certain that the slam would have succeeded.

North opened his fourth highest spade and South's ten forced the king. The declarer's first play was to finesse the ten of hearts.

Watson took the jack and, instead of blindly returning the jack of spades, thought deeply about the ensuing play. Unerringly he concluded that there was serious danger of a squeeze developing against North if he had a diamond stopper to protect and were given the added burden of guarding spades. On this shrewd analysis he did not lead back the jack of spades, the automatic play of almost every player, but, instead, returned the spade five.

Declarer won the ace and took a second heart finesse, which held. Next he cashed the third and fourth heart tricks, discarding a spade from his own hand, as did North, while South let go a diamond. Three rounds of clubs followed and now the wisdom of Watson's play became apparent. On the third round, if North had had to hold the spade queen to top dummy's eight he would have been squeezed out of his diamond stopper. But with Watson holding the spade jack, North gayly tossed away his queen. Declarer was helpless. The twelfth trick could not be spared.

Many experts in the South seat, through their own lack of foresight, would have found occasion to grumble at the opponents' luck in making such an optimistic slam. Luck alone, however, was not enough against Watson's skill.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: North bid one spade; East [my partner] doubled. South passed. I held ♠6 5, ♥K 10 9 6 5 3, ♦Q 10 9 6, ♣3. What should I bid?

Answer: Three hearts, to show much better than a "forced response."

AMAZING!
Dreft—New Fine-Fabric Suds Forms No Scum At All!
Dreft not only can't form scum—that unpleasant "ring around the washbasin"—but it washes away scum that previous soap-washes have always left in your stockings.
To prove this take a pair of "clean" soap-washed stockings. Wash just one of them in Dreft suds. It will come out richer and shades cleaner. The other will seem gray and "cottony looking" in comparison.
Double Your Money Back!
Try Dreft. It's so mild that anything safe in water is safe in Dreft. If you don't agree it's the perfect fine-fabric suds, send us the front of the package. We'll gladly pay you double your money back. Procter & Gamble, Cincinnati, O.
Make This Test:
Take two glasses. Wash one with soap—the other with Dreft. Rinse both in clear water and let them drain dry—without polishing. Now compare. The soap-washed glass will be covered with a chalky, gray, soap-scum film. The other will be brilliant and sparkling! Think what this soap scum does to your stockings! Women who have made this dramatic test use Dreft for washing dishes, too.

35 MEXICANS DIE IN NEW CLASHES; REBEL RETURNS

Resumes Activities in State of Jalisco.

MEXICO CITY, March 23.—(AP)—The death toll in bloody week-end clashes throughout the country, newspaper dispatches reported, rose to at least 35 tonight, although the war department declared the country was quiet. Seventy or more persons were wounded.

The city of Guadalajara was reported plastered with posters urging residents to join the "anti-soviet" movement led by Gen. Lauro Rocha.

Gen. Rocha, whose arrest in Mexico City recently was declared to be erroneous, has resumed insurgent activities in the Los Altos section of Jalisco where he has been reported fighting federal forces for more than a year.

His agents, the dispatches said, slipped into Guadalajara during the night and fixed the posters to the walls including those of the municipal palace and police headquarters.

At least five persons were killed and twelve wounded in fighting between agrarians in two communities near Labarca, Jalisco.

News from Aguas Calientes said a group of rebels raided the El Tecuan hacienda in that state and hanged five agrarians. Local school teachers were said to have escaped a similar fate by hiding.

Another clash after a land dispute took eight lives in two towns in Puebla in a two-hour fight in which men, women and children, summoned by tolling church bells, attacked each other with rifles, pistols, machetes, stones, and clubs.

Leftist tendencies in educational circles reached a new high point when teachers and pupils of the National Normal school in the capital petitioned the secretariat of education for permission "to declare the school Marxistic."

School teachers throughout the state of Tamaulipas went on strike in protest against the failure of the government to keep its promise to pay their current and back salaries.

Chicagoan in Bankruptcy Case Seized at Gangplank

Joseph Zegar, 340 East 43d street, former owner of a women's dress shop, was being held yesterday in New York for removal to Chicago on a charge of leaving the jurisdiction of the federal District court here while hearings were being held to determine the assets of his bankrupt estate. Zegar was arrested Saturday as he was boarding a liner bound for Palestine, at the request of Harry Freeman, attorney for creditors of Zegar.

OUTPUT OF BEER IN 1935 EXCEEDS TOTAL FOR 1902

Beer production in this country in 1935 amounted to 45,000,000 barrels, which is 1,000,000 barrels more than was produced in 1902, according to data presented yesterday by W. H. Kennedy, deputy administrator of the alcohol tax unit, at a meeting of the American Brewers' association in the Lake Shore Athletic club.

There were 1,807 breweries operating in 1902, Mr. Kennedy said. But the peak production of beer was in 1914, when 1,392 breweries produced 66,000,000 barrels. At present, he asserted, there are only 750 breweries.

From a government viewpoint, Mr. Kennedy said, the brewery industry is important because it paid 211 million dollars in federal taxes last year.

PRINCESS' MAID CARRIES VIOLIN ON PLUNGE TO DEATH

In her plunge she carried her violin. The girl hurtled 250 feet into the crowded square beside the cathedral and smashed through the top of a taxicab.

Despite Miss Stoia's employment as a maid to the sisters of King George of Greece, she had been gaining a reputation as a violinist.

THAT'S WHY ELECTROLUX Stays Silent

Its basically different operating method also offers longer life and more lasting satisfaction

THERE'S a lot more to the silence of Electrolux than comfort—although that's an advantage you'll appreciate more and more every day. The reason for this silence . . . a different, simpler operating method . . . is the reason for other, and even more important, exclusive advantages of Electrolux.

NO MOVING PARTS

The fewer moving parts a refrigerator has, the better, for all such parts are subject to friction and wear. Electrolux actually has no moving parts! A tiny gas flame circulates a simple refrigerant, and the laws of nature do the rest. By being alternately heated and cooled, this refrigerant produces ice and constant cold without sound, force, or wear.

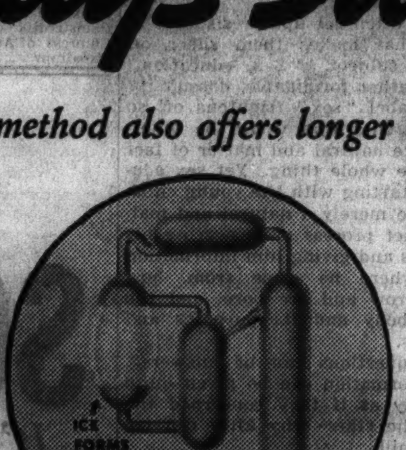
THREE BIG SAVINGS

Let's look at this simplicity in terms of your own pocketbook. Naturally it means an unusually low operating cost . . . practical freedom from deterioration . . . and complete food protection at all times.

These are very real and very worthwhile savings—important enough to actually pay for your Electrolux over a reasonable period. Thus in Electrolux you get an unbeatable combination of silent comfort and operating efficiency, year in, year out.

A NATIONAL TREND

If you know an Electrolux owner, you know how enthusiastic all owners are about this remarkable refrigerator, and you know why the popularity of Electrolux has become a nation-wide trend. We believe you'll share this enthusiasm once you see Electrolux and get the whole story. Go to your Gas Company or look up your nearest dealer on the list below. Ask for a demonstration. It will cost you nothing, and may save you a lot of money during the coming years. Servel, Inc., Electrolux Refrigerator Sales Division, 549 West Randolph Street, Chicago, Illinois.



This simplified diagram shows why Electrolux needs no moving parts. Parts that do not move cannot wear. This means more years of service . . . less depreciation.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Selma, Ala., March 23.—The Cubs this afternoon demonstrated to a hollering crowd of Alabamans something of the technique they employed last year in beating the New York Giants 14 times. They made it two in a row in the spring series with the Giants, 8 to 4, in a game that gave the customers a sight of some sparkling baseball until substitutions caused the contest to become a bit sloppy and futile.

Both sides contributed great fielding plays, while homers by Ken O'Dea of the Cubs and Mel Ott and Charley English of the Giants, and a triple by Charley Grimm presented elegant samples of long range hitting.

Clyde Castleman was the victim of all the Cub scoring. He gave up two runs in the third and was plastered for six hits and six runs in the fifth. O'Dea's homer accounted for half the Cubs' runs in their big inning. Wes Flowers was the winning pitcher, his second in two starts.

Checked by Double Plays.

Double plays choked off both sides in the first inning. Davis of the Giants singled with one down and went down in a double play on Ripple's grounder to Jurges. In the Cubs' half Galan led off with the single to right, but sank with Herman on Bill's grounder to Whitehead. Stainback singled to left, but the inning ended with O'Dea's foul to Leslie.

Ott led off the Giants' second inning with a smash over the right field fence. After Leslie and Jackson had supplied easy outs Whitehead singled to left, but Herman threw out Mancuso.

Galan got a big hand when he made a leaping catch of Castleman's drive at the opening of the third inning. Augie also got Bartell, but Davis made his second hit, a single to deep short. Flowers tossed out Ripple.

The Cubs waited till two were out before launching a two run splurge in the third. After Jurges had flied to Davis and Flowers had been called out on strikes, Galan walked and went to third on Herman's single to center. Stainback lined a single to left, scoring Galan. O'Dea singled to right, Herman scoring and Stainback reaching third. Demaree flied to Ripple.

Root Aids Attack.

Flowers wound up his satisfactory performance by holding the Giants to a single in the fourth. In the Cub fourth Hack walked with one down, but Jurges hit into the second Giant double play.

The Cubs gave Castleman a rousing farewell in the fifth. Root pushed off with a single and was obliged to stop at third when Gill, batting for Galan, doubled into the crowd along the right field line. Herman flied to Ott, Root scoring. Stainback was safe on Bartell's low throw. Then O'Dea knocked his homer over the right field fence, scoring behind Gill and Stainback. Demaree singled and scored on Grimm's terrific triple to right center. Grimm held third while Whitehead tossed out Hack. Jurges walked. Then Root got his second single of the inning, scoring Grimm.

Sueme Plays First.

Manager Grimm sent in wholesale replacements at the start of the sixth, including Catcher Sueme, who played first base with a finger glove. The Giants made one run in this inning on a two base error by Lillard and a double by Leslie after two were out.

Charley English knocked a homer over the center field fence for one Giant run in the seventh. In the eighth Ott walked and scored on Leslie's second double.

EVANS FAILS TO IMPRESS DYKES; SOX WIN, 24-2

Yuma Semi-Pros Get 8 Hits Off Rookie.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Yuma, Ariz., March 23.—Under the guise of wholesome, harmless fun, the White Sox spent the afternoon dusting off the strong local nine known as the Yuma Cubs. Except that the score was 24 to 2, that the crowd of 1,000 assembled natives accepted it as worthwhile amusement, and that the weather was excellent, nothing much can be said for the exhibition.

Although the so-called Cubs were apparently shy on that important commodity known as ability, they managed to harvest a little pleasure for themselves by doing unexpected things to Rookie Red Evans. Evans is the lad who won twenty-four games for Oklahoma City last season and still is regarded as a big league possibility.

On Run after Another.

But Manager Jim Dykes was slightly distressed when he discovered the locals had peeled off eight hits against Evans in five innings. The rest of the pitching was handled by Italo Chelini, the lefty, and he fared far better than his predecessor.

The Sox started off with two runs which grew from a few choice blows against a lad named Speedy Lightfoot. The young paleface with the redskin name opened his exhibition with a pass to Radcliff. Doubles by Haas and Kreevich followed to score the runs.

The major leaguers were more boisterous in the third. Maudlin doubled, Kreevich walked. Appling walked, Dykes was punctured by a pitched ball and with the bases filled, Caithamer slapped a homer over the left field wall. This sortie netted a cluster of five runs.

The Parade Goes On.

Dykes' men restricted themselves to one run in the fourth, the main item in this being a single by Radcliff, and then bounced up with another bunch of five in the fifth. This affair was made up of a pass to Hayes, single by Dykes, a pass to Caithamer and successive singles by Maudlin, Haas, Kreevich, and Appling.

The Sox couldn't be suppressed in the sixth until they had made six more runs. This was accomplished against C. Prather, who moved from center field to the mound. The choice

P. Dean Takes Plane to Camp; Ready to Sign

Bradenton, Fla., March 23.—[Special.]—Paul Dean will join his brother Dizzy in returning to the St. Louis Cardinals' fold, it was announced today by Branch Rickey, vice president and general manager of the club.

Rickey announced he had talked to Paul by telephone in Dallas, Tex., and they had reached an agreement over salary. Dizzy, who signed his contract last night, took his first workout of the season today. Rickey said Paul would sign upon arrival at the spring camp. The younger Dean took a plane for camp today.

Neither Paul's nor Dizzy's salary was announced as St. Louis has a rule against revealing terms. Dizzy had asked for $40,000 and said he received $18,500 last year. Paul is said to have earned about $9,500 in 1935.

PAUL IS SATISFIED.

Dallas, Tex., March 23.—[Special.]—Expressing himself as determined to "get over the twenty game mark," Paul Dean left for the St. Louis Cardinals' camp today.

Paul told his golfing cronies here that he "was perfectly satisfied" with terms offered him. He added, "There are two or three little things in the contract for my own good and the compromise salary we agreed upon is O. K."

AMERICANS FACE HAWKS IN HOCKY PLAYOFF TONIGHT

Three Games Will Open Stanley Cup Series.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Hocky enters the final phase of its most successful American season tomorrow night when Clem Loughlin's Chicago Blackhawks take the ice at Madison Square Garden against the New York Americans in the third place playoff for the Stanley cup.

Simultaneously the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Boston Bruins will be battling it out for second place honors in the race and the Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Maroons will be matching skill and endurance for the National league championship. Capacity crowds are anticipated in all three arenas.

Americans Hold Edge.

On season performance the Americans have a shade the better of the argument with the Chicago sextet, but Loughlin believes his aggregation will come through. In their six meetings the Americans have won three, tied one and lost two.

Manager Dutton is counting heavily on his ace forward line of Dave [Sweeney] Schriner, Art Chapman, and Lorne Carr, while Chicago is banking on Mush March, Doc Romnes, and Paul Thompson to lead the atttack.

In the nets for the Hawks will be Mike Karakas, a youngster. This is Karakas' first playoff, and as a test for the occasion he will find himself opposed by the veteran Roy Worters.

Play for Total Goals.

On Thursday the two teams will clash in the second game of the series in Chicago. Total goals will count. The game at Madison Square Garden will terminate at the end of the regular three periods, even if the score is tied, and the argument will be resumed in Chicago with the teams credited with any scoring done in New York. The second game, however, will go on if the teams are still deadlocked at the end of 60 minutes, with the team scoring the first goal in overtime getting the decision.

The winners of the series between Boston and Toronto that starts at Boston tomorrow will face the team which comes out on top in the battle between the Americans and Hawks. This will be a two out of three series, the victors to take on the team which wins the championship of the league, starting in Montreal between the Maroons and Red Wings.

This series is decided on the best three out of five basis and the winners gain the league championship but must accept the challenge of the survivors of the other rounds for the ownership of the historic Stanley cup, which is emblematic of the professional hocky championship of the world.

Glad to Play Hawks.

Although the players declared it did not make any difference which team they meet, most of the Americans had a secret longing to draw the Hawks in the first round of the playoffs. Chicago will be dangerous, however, and in a two game series the breaks admittedly are of tremendous importance.

There was plenty of sentiment tonight for the Maroons and Boston. The sudden change in the feeling of the hocky followers is due to the vast improvement shown by these teams in the last few weeks.

The big argument in favor of the Bruins centers around their tremendous strength on defense. Tiny Thompson in the nets and Babe Siebert and Eddie Shore as the buffers looked so good through the regular campaign that all three were picked on the all-star team.

BY FRENCH LANE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—The score at the end of the ninth annual Golden Gloves intercity match between Chicago and New York was a tie.

Eight Chicago boys pounded New York boys into defeat in Madison Square Garden tonight, and eight other Chicago lads took beatings at the hands of eight New York fighters.

A crowd of 19,400, all that could get into the Garden, watched the thrilling spectacle. These customers paid $46,804 to see the show, a show they will not soon forget.

Chicago has won four of these spectacular matches. New York has won three. Two have ended in a deadlock, the first one which was fought in the Coliseum in Chicago back in 1928 and the last one which brought cheers which rattled the rafters in Madison Square Garden here tonight.

A Dramatic Windup.

The Chicago team had staged the most sensational battle in the history of the intercity matches up until the time Paul Hartnek, Chicago's heavyweight champion, climbed through the ropes to battle Jim Howell, New York's colored champion, in the final match of the night.

Chicago was leading, 8 to 7, when that dramatic moment rolled around. A victory by Hartnek, big and game football player from Creighton university, would send the Chicago team over the hilltop and roll up the first victory either team ever scored in the enemy's territory.

Hartnek, game as he was, failed to fell or even whip the big New Yorker. In the first round, when Howell slammed Hartnek on the chin first with a right, then with a left, and a little later with still another right and left, it appeared as if Hartnek would not last out the round.

Hartnek Fights Back.

Hartnek weathered the storm in a most courageous manner. He came back and fought Howell toe to toe all through the last two rounds. But that one lapse, when Howell all but rocked the football star to sleep, cost him the battle and it wound up this brilliant spectacle with everything even.

Throughout the early part of the sixteen bout show the Chicagoans most of the time were behind.

New York got the jump in the first battle of the night. Sam Zaczek lost that one to Frank Di Marco of New York because a right which he caught on the chin in the first round upset him for just an instant. That knockdown was the margin by which the New Yorker won.

Jackie Wilson evened it for Chicago when he whipped New York's slashing flyweight champion, Joe Wall, and then all through the first half of the program it was this sort of a see-saw struggle.

Tide of Battle Changes.

New York would win one and Chicago the next, but after Chicago's two featherweights, Paul Spica and Ray Harris, were whipped, the lads from Manhattan appeared to be safely on their way to victory. They were enjoying a 4 to 2 lead.

This sudden spurt on the part of

COMMISSION WONDERS ABOUT THOMAS' FOE

Scott Faces Slugger on Stadium Card.

Buddy Knox and Red Burman will be principals in the main event of the boxing show at Chicago Stadium Friday.

Nevertheless, the six round semi-final between Harry Thomas, Eagle Bend, Minn., fighter, and Curtis Scott, Waco, Tex., was given the spotlight yesterday by the Illinois Athletic commission.

Commissioner Packey McFarland, who conducted yesterday's meeting in place of the chairman, Joe Triner, who is at home with an attack of indigestion, gave the Thomas-Scott encounter more attention than the windup or any of the six preliminary matches because the big Texan is making his Chicago debut against the hardest hitter in the Stadium's heavyweight tournament in Thomas.

It's Old Sandy.

"The card's O. K.," the commissioner explained, "but we want to check up on this fellow Scott. You know, Thomas is a strong battler and we want to be sure Scott is capable of giving him a hard fight."

Thomas, who weighs about 200 pounds, has won his five tourney contests with ease. He stopped Houston Ash in one round Dec. 13, beat Frankie Simms in six Jan. 2, knocked out Pete Gibbons in one round Jan. 10, Big Bill Fogarty in two Jan. 28, and Heinz Kohlhass in one round Feb. 7. He is 25 years old and has been boxing since 1931. He has not been knocked down in 30 contests, only three of which he lost.

Maurice Flynn, gymnasium inspector, was impressed by Scott's performance in the fighter's first workout at Trafton's gymnasium. Curtis, who formerly fought under his right name, Sandy McDonald, is 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 194 pounds. Babe Herman, the old California featherweight star, supervised his training yesterday.

Manager Is Confident.

"I've just taken over the management of Scott," said Jack Lavan, heavyweight boxer of 15 years back. "He is a good prospect. He'll give Thomas all the fight he wants."

In addition to the Burman-Knox and Scott-Thomas scraps the card includes the following matches:

* * *

Dick Shikat, who defeated Danno O'Mahoney in New York recently, yesterday was given title recognition in this state, the decision coinciding with that rendered by New York. At the same time it was learned the North Dakota Athletic commission has joined in a reciprocal agreement with the New York-Illinois-California-Missouri combine. Its first official move in the new pact was to accept Shikat champion.

* * *

Scotty McLean, who won on a foul in the eighth round from Frankie Sagilio in their scheduled ten rounder at Peoria a few days ago, and the Cicero slugger are expected to meet again, this time at Marigold Gardens next Monday night. . . . Jack Hurley, manager of Sagilio, and Jack Elle, representative of Harvey Massey, New Orleans, La., welterweight, will appear at the state commission Monday afternoon, Hurley to protest against the decision in the Sagilio-McLean bout and Elle to answer charges that he slugged his fighter. . . . Eight boxing matches and a wrestling bout will be held tonight at Marigold under the auspices of the Henry Davis 400 club. F. M.

Draw Horses Today in Irish Sweepstakes

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 23.—(AP)—The 17th Irish Hospitals Sweepstake draw will be held tomorrow, with the usual promise of making rich people out of poor people, in a setting in which decorations and pageantry will be pan-American in theme.

In Mansion house, where the draw will be held, the front of the stage will be designed as an immense eagle, symbolic of the United States, while the background will portray a scene in Washington.

New York Waterfront Suggested.

Outside Mansion house scenic effects have been arranged to suggest a skyline view of the New York waterfront, with the Empire State building prominently displayed.

The drum, in which the millions of counterfoils are whirled in obedience of fate and luck, was recoated to represent the flags of all the nations of the new world. The seals of 48 states, other American nations, and of Canada adorned the walls.

Three hundred colleens tonight finished three days of mixing the counterfoils. The girls were dressed in costumes representing Uncle Sam, New York police, baseball, jockies, Indians, "American Journalism," and "The Spirit of Progress."

Parade as Hollywood Stars.

In the preliminary procession to Mansion house 24 girls, parading as Hollywood stars in distinctive costumes, will provide an additional touch of color.

All this representation of American life is the promoters' gesture of appreciation of American support of the sweeps. It is the more so since the British anti-lottery legislation took a large slice out of revenues.

Draw Is on Grand National.

The draw itself is to be on the Grand National, to be run at Aintree March 27. In the list of first acceptors for the Cambridgeshire, on which the last sweeps was drawn, there were 97 horses. In that for the Grand National there are only 52 horses, with a resultant increase in the amount of the horse prizes to be paid to those whose tickets draw them.

This time all drawers of horses, excepting holders of tickets on the first, second and third, will receive $3,534.30. Last year in the same race the horse prizes were woth $3,975, in 1934 they were $3,430, and in 1933 $3,300.

GRANT DEFEATS MURRAY, KEEPS BERMUDA TITLE

Hamilton, Bermuda, March 23.—(AP)—Bryan Grant of Georgia, today retained his Bermuda tennis championship, downing Bob Murray of Montreal in five sets, 6-4, 3-6, 1-6, 6-2, 7-5.

The finals of the mixed doubles were won by Karie Schroeder of Sweden and Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France who defeated Wilmer Hines of Columbia, S. C., and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of New York, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

In the semi-finals, Schroeder and Mme. Henrotin had defeated Henry Culley of California and Gladys Hutchings of Canada, 6-2, 6-2, while Hines and Mrs. Andrus had beaten John McDiarmid of Texas and Helen Fulton of Chicago, 6-3, 7-5.

O'MAHONEY WINS WITH SLAM OVER GUS SONNENBERG

1,668 See Ex-Champ Throw Foe in 26:54.

Danno O'Mahoney threw Gus Sonnenberg with a reverse body lock in 26 minutes 54 seconds in the windup bout of the heavyweight wrestling show at the Coliseum last night. A crowd of 1,668 grossed $2,561 to see the show.

There were no histrionics in the bout. It was ended when Sonnenberg missed a flying tackle. The Irish youth grabbed this opening by leaping on Gus' chest and pinning him.

Pet Hold Fails.

Danno's two attempts to win with his pet arm hold, called the Irish whip, were frustrated, the first time when Sonnenberg booted him in the stomach and on the other occasion when Gus abruptly sat down and grinned.

George Zaharias, Denver, Colo., tragedian, and Joe Savoldi, the old Notre Dame football player, went 30 minutes to a draw in the semi-final. Zaharias, 239 pounds, was in his best form. So was Savoldi, who weighed 202. Consequently, their bout was one of the most entertaining Chicago fans have seen this year.

George Pins Olesen.

Ed Don George, former member of the University of Michigan football team, pinned Ole Olesen with a flying mare in 10:11, and Farmer [Whiskers] Tobin won from Pat Murphy with a body slam in 6:03. Andy Rascher, South Bend, and Bobby Bruns of Chicago wrestled 20 minutes to a draw.

Conley Named Head Coach at John Carroll

Notre Dame, Ind., March 23.—[Special.]—Tom Conley, Notre Dame football captain in 1930 and present end coach, today was appointed head coach of John Carroll university in Cleveland. He will remain at Notre Dame for two weeks before taking over his new duties.

Elmer Layden, director of athletics and head coach, said that several men are under consideration to replace Conley, but declined to name any of them.

"We are sorry to see him go," Layden said, "but he has the best wishes of every one for success."

Succeeds Tommy Yarr.

Tom succeeds a former Notre Dame teammate at John Carroll. Tommy Yarr, captain and center of the 1931 team, held the position until recently when he resigned. Yarr's assistants were Mike Koken, star half back on the 1930, 1931, and 1932 Notre Dame teams, who has just signed to become back field coach at North Carolina State, and John Carberry, former Notre Dame lineman.

Layden announced three changes in the Notre Dame freshman coaching staf today. Bill Shakespeare, half back; Henry Pojman, center, and Wally Fromhart, quarter back, will return next fall as assistant freshman coaches, while completing their studies in five year courses.

Schrenker, Gorman Leaving.

Paul Schrenker and Tom [Kitty] Gorman, who complete their law course in June, will leave to practice law and to coach at the University of Kentucky, respectively. Irwin Davis, 1934 end, will complete class work for his master's degree in June, and is undecided whether to do his field work here or elsewhere. He was a freshman end coach last fall.

Marek's Punches Stop Fortenberry in Fourth

Miami Beach, Fla., March 23—(AP)—Max Marek, young Chicago 182 pounder, scored a fourth round technical knockout over Gordon Fortenberry, 175½, Cocoa, Fla., in their scheduled 10 rounder here tonight. Floored twice, Fortenberry was helpless before Marek's attack when seconds threw in the towel.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

POTPOURRI.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., March 23.—Michigan's defeat of Indiana in the recent Big Ten indoor track and field meet could hardly be a surprise to those who have followed conference athletics over a period of years. Frequently in the past a track squad which figured for victory if its stars lived up to past performances has gone down before a well-balanced squad lacking in first flighters—before the meet.

Such upsets, if they be upsets, are logical. As in a horse race, most mishaps, or racing ill luck, fall to favorites which every one else is watching. In a similar squad, too, of which much is expected, one mishap wrecks the point computations.

In a large, well balanced squad, one athlete may rise to unusual heights on that particular day to turn over the dope bucket, "drop from the clouds," in turf parlance. The larger the squad, naturally the more chance for one of these outsiders turning up.

Score of the indoor meet between Michigan, Wisconsin, and Indiana, however, was so close that more than usual interest will attach to the outdoor championship in May.

* * *

Directors of Arlington Park race track are impressed with turf prosperity here. Hialeah set a new mutuel handle record on its Derby day. That was rather anticipated because of the many visitors in Florida. Tropical Park, however, followed a week later with a new record for mutuel wagering—this was after many visitors were supposed to have trekked northward.

If present turf prosperity, even more marked at Santa Anita, continues at northern tracks, it will mean much to racing as a sport. Attendance and volume of speculation are necessary for black ink, without which stake values cannot be increased nor improvements made.

* * *

Carl Brumbaugh's return to the Chicago Bears after a season of collegiate coaching will mean much to George Halas' pro eleven this fall. Injuries played a large part in changing Bears from champions to ex-champions. The former Florida star is a mighty handy man to have around a back field on such occasions —and all other occasions, for that matter.

A Cure.

Wrap dead love in a bundle,
Put it away on a shelf—
Never speak of it again,
Not even to yourself.

Some day you'll find that bundle,
You'll ponder for a minute,
Wondering when you put it there
And what on earth is in it!

Unusual Epitaph.

Dear Wake: In the small town of Marion, Ala., I copied the appended epitaph from a gravestone in the town cemetery. In collecting odd epitaphs I have found none quite so absolutely original, so I ventured to share it with other Wake readers. Here it is, word for word:

Leads Until Final Bout in Garden.

Swift moving, hard punching Andy Scrivani came along and gave Tony Martellano a fine going over to win the first of the lightweight matches. Pete Lello, Chicago lightweight champion, followed Scrivani into the ring and punched the stuffin' out of Murray Kravitz, the New York colorbearer. That tied the score.

Puts Chicago Ahead.

Johnny Barbara from South Bend was the next Chicago representative to crawl through the ropes. He hammered Wallace Peronnean, New York 147 pounder, around the ring and sent the Chicago team into the lead for the first time. At this stage of the exciting program New Yorkers began to realize these Chicago kids could box and fight. Cheers rang out for Barbara as his hand was lifted in victory.

The whole battle was tied into a knot again when Chester Rutecki, Chicago's champion in the welterweight division, lost a slugging match to Vincent Pimpinella.

Next came two slashing Chicago victories in the middleweight class. Paul Frazier of Chicago's south side hammered out a clean cut triumph over Bill Skinner of New York. Al Wardlow, carrying the Chicago colors, stopped Bob Burke of New York in a freak knockout in the first round.

Following an exchange of punches, Burke suddenly sank to his knees, and to all appearances was in agony. He had twisted his arm out of the shoulder socket and was unable to continue.

Still Another Deadlock.

This sent Chicago into the two heavier divisions well out in front. The score was 7 to 5. Herman West was soundly whipped by Phil Ragozzino from Manhattan in the first of the light heavyweight matches. Carl Vinciquerra suffered the same fate at the hands of George Brothers, New York.

That threw the count into still another deadlock, which was broken when Arthur Oliver of Chicago outpunched Nate Wright in the first of the heavyweight matches.

Howell was New York's last hope and the rooters from Manhattan who jammed the Garden were desperate over the situation. They didn't have to worry long. Howell delivered his great rally a minute after the bout started and Hartnek had all he could do to stay on his feet.

Thus ended the most stubbornly fought intercity match the New York fans have ever witnessed. Most of the battles were so even the spectators did not know who had won until the official verdict was returned.

Two Questionable Decisions.

There were only two questionable decisions as far as the crowd was concerned. The Bronx cheer went up for the first time after George Coyle, the Radio City usher, was awarded a decision over Bill Joyce of Chicago in the first bantamweight battle. The second roar of boos went out when Johnny Brown was declared the winner over Pete Scalzo, New York's great newsboy champion, in the next bout. This one continued for ten minutes, but the decision hardly appeared as bad as the verdict made in the earlier scrap.

It was a slugging match all the way and the New Yorker started so fast that Johnny's chances of victory appeared to be slim at the end of the first round.

Midway in the second session Brown started to toss his lefts and rights. They landed one after another. Scalzo began to back away. Brown continued the terrific bombardment all through the final session and piled up enough points to get the decision. New Yorkers voiced a chorus of Bronx cheers at the verdict. Brown, an 118 pounder, is captain of the Chicago team.

A Slugging Match.

The throng in the Garden enjoyed the battle between Barbara and Peronnean as much as any other. Both fighters loosed a terrific two fisted attack from the first tap of the gong and late in the second session Barbara seemed to be all set to deliver a knockout punch. He missed, but continued to outslug the New York colored boy until the battle ended.

Broadway celebrities always find a way to land in ringside seats and they were in the Garden tonight. Most of them were highly partisan early in the evening, but later on they showed their appreciation for the game fight the plucky Chicagoans were making. And indeed it was a game fight they made.

INTERCITY FIGHTS ROUND BY ROUND

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—The round by round story of the sixteen bouts in the ninth annual intercity Golden Gloves fights at Madison Square Garden tonight follows:

112 POUNDS

CHAMPIONSHIP DIVISION.

Jackie Wilson, Chicago, beat Joe Wall, New York [3].

The lanky Wilson stabbed at Wall's face, but the New York colored boy went in close and hammered the body. Wilson was at least a foot taller and the contrast had the throng convulsed in the first round. Wall rushed repeatedly and near the end of an even round Wilson was shooting both hands to the head.

Wilson warmed up in the next round and had the lead at the end of three minutes. He caught Wall three times with solid rights. Wall tired in the third round, but Jackie didn't carry the bout to him as he might have done. Wilson was superior in boxing, but he had difficulty reachind down far enough while Wall couldn't reach up high enough. Wilson won the unanimous decision.

SECONDARY DIVISION.

Frank Di Marco, New York, beat Sam Zaczek, Chicago [3].

Di Marco carried the fight to the Chicagoan in the first round. Midway in the session a hard right floored Zaczek for no count. The New Yorker's superior infighting scored heavily for the remainder of the round. Zaczek's left hand style didn't bother Di Marco. In the second Zaczek forced the attack and the crowd was in an uproar as the boys swung from all angles. Zaczek was much better at a distance, but he still was at a loss in close and the New York boy shot straight lefts to the face.

Zaczek won the third round and was the stronger at the end. While he tagged Di Marco squarely several times with left hooks, he couldn't drop him and the New Yorker's early lead brought him the decision. Di Marco won by a 2 to 1 vote of the officials.

118 POUNDS

CHAMPIONSHIP DIVISION.

Johnny Brown, Chicago, defeated Pete Scalzo, New York [3].

Scalzo had everything his own way in the first round, whipping both hands to Johnny's body and head. Near the end of the round Johnny seemed to find some defense for this attack, but he never did whip home any sturdy blows.

Brown held his own with Scalzo in the second round and crashed through with two rallies which carried Pete to the ropes.

The final round was the best of the evening with Johnny driving forward with all he had and outpointing Scalzo until the final 30 seconds when he ran into a stiff right. Before he recovered, Scalzo chased him to the ropes. Johnny put out all he had and received the decision.

SECONDARY DIVISION.

George Coyle, New York, beat William Joyce, Chicago [3].

Coyle, last year's New York 112 pound champion, received a cheer when introduced that smothered previous efforts by the throng of 19,400. Joyce boxed splendidly in the first round, stepping back from Coyle's rushes, one of which caused the New York amateur to stumble to his knees.

Joyce didn't travel as fast in the second round and Coyle shot three hard rights to the body at intervals.

Coyle carried the fight in the last minute of the third round. Coyle received a 2 to 1 decision which the crowd booed and which was counter to New York writers' opinions.

126 POUNDS

CHAMPIONSHIP DIVISION.

Austin McCann, New York, beat Ray Harris, Chicago [3].

McCann couldn't box, but he carried the kick of a mule in his right hand. He countered with this right every time Harris, a southpaw, led. In the first exchange McCann rocked Harris to his heels. Again, one minute later, McCann staggered the Chicagoan against the ropes.

Harris was the fresher in the second and walloped two lefts to the body. The New Yorker still had a lead, however, as the result of the earlier exchanges.

Both were very tired at the end. Harris forced, but McCann had enough left to put up spirited rallies and win the unanimous decision.

SECONDARY DIVISION.

Ray Olivo, New York, beat Paul Spica, Chicago [3].

Spica had the better of the punching to the head, but the colored New York fighter landed solid punches to the body in return.

Spica suddenly tired near the conclusion of the second round after he had given Olivo a neat trimming. Pinned against the ropes, Spica was badly hurt by a fusillade of body punches and looked bewildered.

The pace evidently was entirely too fast for Spica and he was in trouble almost with the start of the final round. Spica couldn't tie up Olivo's right arm in a clinch and as a result he took a terrific body punching. The decision was unanimous for Olivo.

135 POUNDS

CHAMPIONSHIP DIVISION.

Pete Lello, Chicago, beat Murray Kravitz, New York [3].

The rivals fought cautiously, dancing, circling, and looking for an opening. Each landed one solid blow in the first round.

The crowd demanded action and Kravitz came through with a right to the side of the head. Lello swung repeatedly and failed to connect, which was exactly what Kravitz was doing most of the time.

Kravitz was a hit and run puncher in the final session and Lello had to work fast to catch up with him. He succeeded in winning a 2 to 1 decision over the New Yorker.

SECONDARY DIVISION.

Andy Scrivani, Chicago, beat Tony Marteliano, New York [3].

Marteliano, a squat truck driver's helper, ducked and weaved under Andy's defenses, and then, in a clinch, made a show of shooting his right to the head. It went well for two minutes and then Andy caught the New Yorker on the chin and dazed him.

Scrivani bounced Marteliano across the ring in the second round, finishing with a spurt which sent the New York lad to the corner bent over from stomach punches.

Marteliano slipped and fell as the third round opened and Andy stepped back. Scrivani made the pace and had Marteliano hanging on at the bell. Scrivani slapped his left to the face with methodical punches and finished with a body attack which was too much for the New Yorker. The decision was unanimous for Scrivani.

147 POUNDS

Vincent Pimpinella, New York, beat Chester Rutecki, Chicago [3].

The welterweight championship bout brought together two tremendously hard punchers. Pimpinella had the edge in the first round, especially when he clinched and tatooed Rutecki's ribs. Chester countered near the end of the round while the crowd yelled for a knockout.

Pimpinella continued to outfight Rutecki in the clinches, and backed Chester across the ring with sheer power. Pimpinella went down for no count near the end of the round.

The New Yorker forced the attack in the last round and stepped in and out with solid lefts to the head. Rutecki scored heavily also, but the New Yorker placed more decisive blows. The bout was reminiscent of the Barbara-Rutecki final at the Chicago Stadium. It was well fought throughout and Pimpinella clearly earned the decision, which was unanimous.

SECONDARY DIVISION.

John Barbara, Chicago, beat Wallace Peronnean, New York [3].

The first round was a slow moving slugging match, Barbara having the advantage because he closed with a two fisted attack while the New Yorker shuffled forward, cocking his right for one punch. Peronnean had won three knockout victories before the intercity match.

Johnny moved faster in the second session, but the New York fighter stopped many punches with his arms. Peronnean, outpointed, pressed on, looking for a chance to end the match with a knockout blow. Barbara was careful and jabbed and stepped away.

Peronnean never tired. He took two punches for one, but hammered until he tired Barbara and caught him with a right which cut a deep gash over the eyes. The boys finished in a wild jumble along the ropes. Officials voted unanimously for Barbara.

160 POUNDS

Al Wardlow, Chicago, knocked out Robert Burke, New York [1].

Wardlow, of Wilberforce university, and Burke, of Columbia university, both southpaws, fought cautiously in the first minute. The referee warned Wardlow for a series of short blows behind the head. Suddenly, Burke rushed across the ring, and, as Wardlow evaded him at the ropes, Burke twisted his arm and sank to his knees in agony. The referee counted him out as he crouched on the floor.

The official verdict was a knockout in 2 minutes and 20 seconds of the first round.

SECONDARY DIVISION.

Paul Frazier, Chicago, beat William Skinner, New York [3].

Frazier was the superior boxer and also seemed to pack a wallop, for twice in each of the first two rounds he staggered Skinner. Each time Skinner came back at least strong enough to hang on. It then became a question of stamina, for Frazier was in front on ability to spar and whip in telling rights to the head.

Skinner made the pace in the last round but he couldn't get through Frazier's defense. They missed with simultaneous right swings which, had they landed would have resulted in a double knockout.

175 POUNDS

George Brothers, New York, beat Carl Vinciquerra, Chicago [3].

The boys stood and exchanged punches to get the match under way, then stepped in and out, each throwing ponderous lefts and rights, all aimed at the head. Vinciquerra staggered Brothers with a right, but the New Yorker came right back and slashed a short right to the jaw. Vinciquerra shifted his attack to the body and while he landed apparently did not bother the colored boy.

In the second round Vinciquerra missed with a left and Brothers battered his ribs. Brothers continued to crash both gloves to the body. Vinciquerra put two lefts to the face, but the snap was gone from his blows.

Vinciquerra made his bid in the second minute of the third round. Momentarily he had Brothers worried, but the New Yorker smashed with a right to the jaw which had Carl staggering in a circle with 20 seconds left. Vinciquerra held on for the distance and lost the decision. It was unanimous.

SECONDARY DIVISION.

Phil Ragozzino, New York, beat Herman West, Chicago [3].

Ragozzino began with a hurricane of punches as if intent on wiping out his defeat by knockout last year in Chicago. He hit West with every kind of a punch and also took a few, for West proved he had courage enough for an army. Phil tired, looked to his corner for instructions, and then retreated before smashes by the Chicago boy.

West, although almost knocked out in the first round, came back sturdily. Again Ragozzino had the better of the punching, but West's blows hurt Phil.

West stuck to the end and his last gesture in the third round was a round house swing which knocked the mouthpiece from between Phil's teeth. The decision was unanimous for New York.

HEAVYWEIGHTS

John Howell, New York, beat Paul Hartnek, Chicago [3].

Hartnek drew a tornado of action in Howell, colored veteran of the New York team, who is employed by a railroad. In the first round Howell staggered Paul and only a game defense kept him on his feet for the three minutes. At the conclusion Hartnek was slapping back, but with no apparent effect on his burly opponent.

In the second round, after one minute, Howell brought a right from the floor and looped it to Hartnek's head. He rocked sideways. Hartnek rallied and hammered in a dozen blows, but they didn't have the power necessary.

Howell had a big lead to start the last round. The New York boy complained of being butted, but the referee made no sign of warning. Much of the third round was a series of clinches with no damage to either fighter. Howell won the unanimous decision.

SECONDARY DIVISION.

Arthur Oliver, Chicago, beat Nate Wright, New York [3].

Oliver's longer reach was a help in the opening round. His ability to retreat just in time from Wright's rushes was another point which helped him take a lead, for he countered with rights to Wright's face which brought blood. Both boys were wild with a majority of blows.

Both were extremely tired in the last round with Wright forcing for a chance to score a knockout. Oliver stayed long enough to gain the decision 2 to 1.

BOB LAMONTE WHIPS M'KINNEY AT MARIGOLD

Bob Lamonte, 150¾, won an eight round decision last night over Thurston McKinney, 153½, Detroit, at the Marigold Gardens. Ernie Kulasik of Portage Park was awarded the fight on a foul in the sixth round of a scheduled eight rounder with Pat Murphy, Danville, by Referee Sam Ford. Eddie Long, manager of Murphy, said he would protest the decision.

George Sutka of Detroit scored a technical knockout in the third round over Fred Wagner. Other results:

George Dungey and Joe Sutka drew [4].
Lloyd Weaver beat Joe Richards [4].

Montanez Beats Pacho for 12th Victory in Row

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Pedro Montanez of Puerto Rico tonight scored his 12th consecutive victory as he outpointed Bobby Pacho of California in a 10 round bout. Montanez, who weighed 133¾ to 136 for his opponent, received a unanimous decision.

items in this assault were a double by Evans, single by Washington, triple by Appling, and double by Hayes. A couple of passes also were included.

Possibly because they were tired, the Sox confined themselves to five runs in the last three innings. Two of these scored in the eighth on a single by Haas, some passes, and an error. The parting salute of three in the ninth was manufactured from hits by Stumpf, Washington, Morrissey, and Ruel.

Today was the first of five days which the Sox, at so much per admission, will devote to the spreading of the baseball gospel in the wide open spaces of the southwest. Tomorrow the amusement will be staged at Phoenix, Wednesday at Tucson, Thursday at Bisbee, and Friday at El Paso. All of these affairs, as was the case today, will be against strong local nines hastily assembled except at Tucson, where the opposition will be furnished by the University of Arizona.

Dykes Wants Pitching.

Mr. Dykes, the manager of the Sox, naturally isn't going around boasting of the physical benefits his boys will derive from their uplifting efforts during the week. It isn't the towns or the weather. The manager's concern is over the class of enemy pitching just prior to taking up a thirteen game exhibition series with the Pittsburgh Pirates next Saturday at San Antonio. After looking at the pitching of soda fountain cowboys for five days, the Sox may look sort of stupid, at least for a few days, when they resume against big league opposition.

The pitching tomorrow at Phoenix will be handled by two of the young men of the staf, Ira Hutchinson and Johnny [Specs] Salveson. So that the first string members of the mound staf won't go stale with an overdose of leisure, Dykes will use Whitehead and Kennedy in Wednesday's game at Tucson and Stratton and Tietje the next afternoon at Bisbee. Babe Phelps also will be worked in at one spot or another. He hasn't been employed to any extent this spring, but nevertheless has been extremely busy shrinking his extensive waist line.

Piet Rests Hand.

One of the few fellows who escaped work today was Tony Piet, the Sox first line second sacker. He was forced to retire yesterday because of trouble with a glove hand finger, which was bruised several days previous. Dykes intends to let him rest until the week-end so as to assure his presence during the series with the Pirates.

SLADE CUTTER, 1934 NAVY STAR, ASKS TO RESIGN

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—Ensign Slade D. Cutter, Oswego, Ill., the place kicking tackle whose boot brought Navy a 3 to 0 triumph over Army in 1934, has tendered his resignation to the navy department.

Since his graduation in 1935 Cutter has been assistant navigator on the U. S. S. Idaho. He also coached the U. S. S. Idaho's football team, which finished high up in fleet circles last fall.

Schriner Wins Scoring Title with 45 Points

MONTREAL, Que., March 23.—(AP)—Dave [Sweeney] Schriner, playing his second season in the big time, won the scoring honors in the National Hockey league.

Counting two assists and one goal during the closing week of the campaign, which ended Sunday, the quiet but effective left winger of the New York Americans compiled 45 points, to succeed big Charlie Conacher of the Toronto Maple Leafs as the scoring champion of the league. Conacher, who scored 57 points last year, wound up in a five way tie for fourth place.

Barry Ties Thompson.

A closing drive by Marty Barry of the Detroit Red Wings landed him in a tie with Paul Thompson of Chicago for second place with 40 points. Barry scored two goals and four assists during the final week. The best Thompson could do as the Blackhawks slipped to third place in the United States division was one assist.

Horner Is Bad Man.

Art Chapman compiled the most assists, 28, with Schriner's 26 giving him second place. Red Horner of the Leafs again took the bad man title with 167 minutes in the penalty box, as again 125 last year. Leading scorers:

Fashion Novel Lighting Designs for Henie Show

New lighting, staging and color effects will be produced at the Chicago Stadium next week when Miss Sonja Henie of Norway, ten times international and three times Olympic champion, will appear in five performances on April 2, 3, 4, and 5. A children's matinee has been scheduled on April 4.

The Stadium engineering staf went to work with electricians as soon as the six day bike track was demolished to fashion novel effects for the carnival in which Miss Henie will be supported by Jack Dunn, British star, runner-up in the men's division at the Olympic games.

New costumes were ordered yesterday. A different color design will be frozen into the ice sheet than has ever been used before at Stadium carnivals, and the entire building will be decorated.

Miss Henie and Dunn began their professional tour in New York Sunday night. Two more appearances in New York and one each in Philadelphia and Boston will precede their Chicago appearances.

LIBRARY BUDGET BALANCED AFTER 5 YEAR ECONOMY

$210,000 Available for Purchase of Books.

After a five year period in which it bought no books the Chicago public library has now balanced its budget and saved $210,800 for the purchase of new volumes, Joseph B. Fleming, president of the library board, disclosed last night as he transmitted the board's 1935 fiscal report to Mayor Kelly. Orders have been placed for 100,000 books, and 89,870 volumes have been received.

The balanced budget and surplus have been achieved despite the fact that the library board has restored to its 40 employés one-half of the pay cuts imposed on them in 1932, and it has paid all its debts.

Cites Tax Rate Boost.

"The public library is in especially good condition," Mr. Fleming said. "The budget is balanced, we have paid our debts, and, for the first time in five years, we are able to buy a quantity of books. This has been made possible through economies and through the increase of the library tax rate from six-tenths to three-quarters of a mill. Mayor Kelly supported this tax increase measure in the Illinois general assembly and urged the economy steps which will now enable us to conduct the library activities as they should be conducted."

The increased state tax rate is adding $168,000 to the library fund for the purchase of new books, the report pointed out. In addition the board has salvaged $10,602 from its regular fund appropriated by the city, $16,379 from miscellaneous trust funds, $3,000 from rental collection funds, and $12,000 of the total is from state funds allocated for the purchase of books.

One Order in Five Years.

During the five year period prior to Jan. 1, 1936, the library placed only one order for books. This was for 30,000 new volumes costing $28,768. Shortly before that order was released Chief Librarian Carl B. Roden said there were 429,000 fewer volumes on the shelves than in 1931. He estimated the current operating deficiency at 600,000 volumes.

"The state enactment increasing the library tax resources has changed a deplorable condition which existed for five years," Mr. Roden said in the report released yesterday. "The library is again in position to go ahead with its work. It is a small but effective beginning toward real progress."

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

New notes:

Bette Davis, recently proclaimed the movies' outstanding actress of 1935, will make her first appearance in the CBS Radio theater in George Broadhurst's, "Bought and Paid For," next Monday evening. She has rarely been heard on the air—once or twice on "Hollywood Hotel"—and she works as well at the microphone as she does before the camera.

Paul Whiteman's Washington auditions winner, Helen Ault, a contralto, gave a smooth and finished performance on the Whiteman Varieties Sunday evening. It ought to win her a regular niche on some network program. The new Whiteman series is vastly superior to the old in which Paul's diverse talents were completely submerged by clowns, comedians, vaudeville acts and what not.

Grace Moore has never appeared to better advantage on the air than on Sunday evening with the Symphony orchestra under the direction of Erno Rapee. All season she has been singing from the west coast and transmission is always poor from there as compared with the east.

Kay Kyser and most of his bandsmen got in yesterday from Pittsburgh and are getting ready to open at W-G-N and the Trianon Saturday. Kyser recovered his car which was stolen and stripped during the flood and drove it out.

Alida Sturman and Philip Crane, WBBM's twin winners, will begin their own regular programs this week. Crane will be heard at 11:15 tonight, and on Thursdays and Saturdays. Miss Sturman will have her turn on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Lucy Monroe, singing star of "The American Album of Familiar Music," believes [according to her press agent] that she is the only performer on the air named Lucy. Miss Monroe believes incorrectly. She ought to meet that talented Chicago juvenile, Lucy Gillman, a veteran at 8, who plays a lead in the CBS Junior Nurse corps and also performs regularly in "Today's Children," "Myrt and Marge," and "Welcome Valley."

Lenny Ross may leave Show Boat for a few weeks this spring to go to California to appear in a new musical comedy being produced by Henry Duffy. The plan is to bring the show to Broadway if it clicks. . . . Olga Albani concluded her "Life Is a Song" series here Sunday evening and took a plane yesterday afternoon for Miami. Thence she will go to Porto Rico to visit her parents. . . . Marion Jordan, Molly of the "Fibber McGee" show, became suddenly ill yesterday and the show went on without her last night. . . . Joe Sanders, who has been touring the south with his orchestra, will return to W-G-N and the Blackhawk on April 11, the night before Easter.

Selected from 5,000 who made suggestions, Tom Lee Brown, realty operator of 10044 South Leavitt street, will fly to New York today to present on Thursday evening's Town Meeting of the Air his answer to the question "How Can We Solve the Crime Problem?"

Daniel McDonald, 86, Dies; Former Justice of Peace

Daniel McDonald, 86 years old, former justice of the peace in Cicero, died yesterday, apparently of a heart attack in his home at 1526 South 51st court, Cicero. Mr. McDonald came here forty years ago from Canada. From 1906 to 1913 he was superintendent of the old Grant Works postoffice at 31st street and Laramie avenue, a territory now served by the Cicero postoffice. He served three terms as a justice of the peace from 1915 to 1927.

Mrs. Mabelle Senne, Wife of Undertaker, Dies at 56

Mrs. Mabelle Senne, 56 years old, wife of Paul W. Senne, undertaker at 201 Lake street, Maywood, for the last twenty-nine years, died yesterday in the Westlake hospital, Melrose Park, following an operation. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Harold and John, and a daughter, Mrs. Jeanette Strawbridge. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Senne chapel, and burial will be in Oakridge cemetery.

Miss Millie Thomson Dies; Voice Teacher Here 30 Yrs.

Miss Mary Peck Thomson, 66 years old, a vocal instructor with a studio in the Fine Arts building, died yesterday in her apartment at the Surf Plaza hotel, 2828 Pine Grove avenue, of a heart ailment. She had been a teacher of voice in Chicago since 1906. She was a native of Crawfordsville, Ind., where burial will be held tomorrow. Funeral services will be held today at the Fourth Presbyterian church.

Hold Services Tomorrow for James F. Lavelle, 70

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at St. Lucy's church, Mayfield avenue and Lake street, Austin, for James F. Lavelle, 70, 442 North Austin boulevard, Oak Park, a native of Chicago who died early yesterday in his home of a heart ailment. Mr. Lavelle was a well known heating contractor. His widow, Annie, three daughters, and a son survive him.

AMBROSE JUDY TO BE BURIED ON SCHOOL CAMPUS

Potomac, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—Ambrose B. Judy, 99 years old, wealthy farmer, philosopher, and civil war veteran, who died here yesterday, will be buried Wednesday on the campus of the Girls' Home and Industrial School he established near Potomac 26 years ago.

Judy came to Illinois by prairie schooner in 1850. Following the civil war he settled down to farming and became prosperous. His philanthropic interests centered on a desire to build a girls' school in 1904 when he and his wife adopted a daughter through the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society.

Four years later Judy gave 400 acres of choice farming land near here to the society and constructed a fine memorial school building and dormitory in memory of his mother, Mary A. Judy, a former school teacher. Income from the property was used to maintain the school.

The school, now known as the Mary Judy Boarding School for Girls, is operated by the society as a training center for older girls. Courses in domestic arts and sciences are offered girls who have had few advantages.

When Mrs. Judy died in 1897, Judy built a vault in a far corner of the campus of the school they both loved. He will be buried beside her on Wednesday, following services in the Potomac Methodist church.

Boy Playing Auto Mechanic Will Lose Four Fingers

Arthur Dickens, 5 years old, was playing repairman yesterday under an old partly dismantled automobile in the yard of his home at 3353 North Cicero avenue. His brother, Richard, 7 years old, sitting in the driver's seat, pushed a gear pedal just as Arthur put his hand on the gears. Physicians at the county hospital said they would have to amputate four of the boy's fingers.

PULLMAN SHOWS LOSS; EXPENSES AND TAXES RISE

Large Sum Spent on Air Conditioning.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Heavy expenditures for air conditioning, increased operating costs, reduced revenues from manufacturing, and a large tax bill were the principal factors causing Pullman, Inc., to report a loss of $273,727 in 1935, according to the annual statement sent to stockholders yesterday by David A. Crawford, president. The company in 1934 had earnings of $2,957,669, equal to 76 cents a share.

D. A. CRAWFORD.

The sleeping car division of the company had a loss of $1,646,980 last year despite an increase of $2,234,443 in gross revenues, compared with earnings of $597,355 in 1934. This decline was due, Crawford said, to an increase in ordinary maintenance expenditures, to expenditures on air conditioning, and to complete restoration of wages of railroad employés.

Manufacturing Profit Lower.

The manufacturing division had earnings of $228,717, compared with $1,292,591 in 1934, when government loans stimulated car orders.

In the investment division there was a $386,527 contraction in earnings, due in part to the decline in interest rates but principally to the absence of interest earnings on securities that were sold or collected at maturity during the year and the proceeds used to finance additions to equipment and property.

Crawford's report emphasized the changing conditions in the railroad business due to fare revisions, new streamlined passenger trains, and lighter weight freight equipment.

"An important element in the 1935 improvement in gross revenue," he said, in speaking of the sleeping car business, "was the heightened rate of increase in trafic volume in the western and southern regions.

Lower Fares Stimulate Travel.

"A reduced fare program adopted late in 1933 provided for entire elimination of the surcharge on Pullman tickets and for substantial lowering in the basic rail passenger rates. This contrasted with a much lower rate of increase in the volume of Pullman trafic in those regions where the Pullman surcharge has been continued in effect and where there has been no general reduction in the over-all cost of rail travel."

Crawford said winter travel this year has been heaviest since the depression, with the result that Pullman gross revenues in January and February were about 14 per cent above the 1935 level.

Discussing the manufacturing business, Crawford said that while equipment bookings in 1935 were smaller than in the preceding year, the commercial car builders entered 1936 with the brightest prospects in several years for early resumption of large scale equipment purchases. He said orders for 19,000 new freight cars since Dec. 1 were hastened by the increase in car loadings and the scarcity of high grade cars in the last half of 1935.

Taxes Are Big Burden.

Crawford said that while retrenchment in controlable expense items has been carried to the limit, tax bills have become an increasingly burdensome part of the cost of doing business. For 1925 Pullman, Inc., paid a total of $2,122,500 in taxes. This consumed the entire net income before taxes and was equivalent to 56 cents a share.

Current assets of the company on Dec. 31, 1935, stood at $60,410,928, compared with $69,474,997 at the end of 1934, while current liabilities were $11,196,797, compared with $10,512,517. During 1935 the company expended $13,282,284 on improvements, including $11,337,978 on air conditioning, and retired cars and other property valued at $10,813,683.

New York Governor Signs Bill for Tax on Business

Albany, N. Y., March 23.—[Special.]—With the senate and assembly still deadlocked over the budget bills, Gov. Herbert Lehman today signed the bill continuing for another year the emergency tax of 4 per cent on unincorporated business of more than $5,000 a year. The governor has signed five of the six major tax measures and only the continuance of the gasoline tax remains to be approved.

Cincinnati Gas-Electric Reports Rise in Earnings

Cincinnati, O., March 23.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Gas and Electric company reported today net income for 1935 of $4,082,017 after all charges, equal to $10.20 a share of preferred stock outstanding. This compared with $3,281,945, or $8.20 a share, in the previous year.

Fuel Oil Demand Placed 6 Per Cent Above Year Ago

Domestic fuel oil demand for April is placed at 38,600,000 barrels in a forecast by the bureau of mines. This would approximate a daily average of 1,289,000 barrels, a 6 per cent gain over the comparable figure of a year ago, which was above the "normal" seasonal consumption.

Continental Oil Profits Best Since '29

Operations of the Continental Oil company last year resulted in the best showing since 1929, Dan Moran, president, informed stockholders yesterday in his annual report. Net income totaled $8,813,561, after all taxes and charges, equivalent to $1.88 a share on 4,682,664 shares outstanding. This compares with $4,865,358, or $1.03 a share, in 1934.

Last year's profit included nonrecurring income of $1,564,608 resulting from the sale of two oil tankers, certain gas rights, stock of the Kansas-Osage Gas and Kay County Gas companies, and all assets of the Ponca City Gas Distributing company. This profit equaled 33 cents a share.

Gross Income Up 5.75 Per Cent.

Gross operating income for 1935 totaled $69,501,248, an increase of $3,779,899, or 5.75 per cent, over the preceding year. Costs aggregated $55,098,253, a gain of $236,127, or 0.43 per cent.

Cash and marketable securities amounted to $11,458,067 on Dec. 31, 1935, compared with $6,240,859 at the close of 1934. Current assets aggregated $38,259,065 and current liabilities were $7,104,422, leaving net working capital of $31,154,643. A year earlier current assets totaled $31,366,726, current liabilities, $6,076,387, and net working capital, $25,390,339.

Moran assailed the steadily increasing burden of taxation imposed upon the petroleum industry.

"For years," he said, "the industry has engaged in a futile effort to awaken in the public a consciousness of he excessive and discriminatory taxes which apply to petroleum and its products. For the most part these taxes are paid by the consumer and so it is he who should be chiefly concerned about them.

Taxes Exceed Basic Price.

"According to the American Petroleum Institute, an average of $1.14 in taxes applies to a barrel of crude oil valued at $1. The average car owner who purchases 660 gallons of gasoline annually pays a tax on that fuel of $31.74.

"State and federal gasoline taxes alone represent an average sales tax of approximately 40 per cent of the retail price.

"The oil industry and its customers both suffer. The customer pays most of the tax; the oil industry sells less of its product and, in addition, is plagued by vicious price cutting of the racketeer, who is attracted by and fattens on the lucrative business of tax evasion."

Crude oil produced by the company during 1935 amounted to 14,377,084 net barrels, compared with 13,421,459 during 1934. During the year 277 wells were completed on properties in which Continental Oil had a working interest, of which 223 were productive.

MELVILLE SHOE BOOSTS DIVIDEND TO $3.50 YEARLY

The Melville Shoe corporation yesterday established its common stock on a $3.50 annual basis, against $3 previously, when directors declared a quarterly disbursement of 87½ cents a share. In the preceding quarter 75 cents a share was paid.

Adams-Millis corporation voted a dividend of 25 cents on common. The company previously paid 50 cents quarterly. Standard Silver, Lead Mining company declared a dividend of one cent a share on common stock. A similar amount was paid Dec. 20, prior to which the last previous payment was five cents a share in October, 1917.

A plan to clear up $36 of dividend accumulations on the 8 per cent cumulative preferred stock of Consolidated Retail Stores, Inc., will be voted on at a special meeting of stockholders called for April 13.

Under the arrangement preferred holders would receive 1 1-3 shares of new 6 cumulative no par preferred, $4 in cash, and a warant entitling the holder to purchase two shares of common at $6 to June 1, 1937; at $8 to June 1, 1939, and at $10 to June 1, 1941.

In the first two months of this year the company had net operating income of $9,985,475, against $1,221,267 in the corresponding period of 1935.

The Canadian National Railways system yesterday reported net operating revenue for 1935 of $14,258,253, compared with $12,966,423 in 1934.

Inman, Chicago district manager for the housing division of the Public Works administration, announced yesterday that 1,000 men are now wrecking buildings on the site of the proposed Jane Addams houses. World Trade Makes Gains Over Year Ago

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

GENEVA, March 23.—World trade in January was about 6 per cent higher than in 1935, the league of nations' reported today. It reported the volume of trade in the last quarter of 1935 reached 84 per cent of its 1929 level, the highest figure recorded since the end of 1931.

The gold value of world trade rose considerably in the last quarter of 1935, being 7 per cent higher than the corresponding quarter of 1934. This was partly due to the increase in gold prices.

Summarizing world price movements last year, the bulletin says the prices of imported basic commodities in terms of gold generally had shown a rising tendency in the second half of 1935. Prices of foodstuffs, oil, and copper rose considerably.

U. S. Leads in Building.

The report said the United States topped the nations of the world in building construction during the second half of 1935. Building permits issued during that time in the United States were 95 per cent greater than in the corresponding period of 1934.

Judging from the statistics of building permits, the bulletin estimates the immediate prospects of building are better than they were a year ago in the majority of countries. It notes a decline, however, in Sweden, France, the Netherlands, and Switzerland.

Industrial Output Expands.

The indices of industrial activity in the last quarter of 1935 show an increase over the corresponding quarter of the preceding year in all countries for which these figures are available.

Industrial production in 1935 as a whole exceeded even 1929 in twelve countries, including Russia, Japan, Sweden, and the United Kingdom. It fell short of 1929 by more than 30 per cent in France and the Netherlands, between 20 and 30 per cent in the United States and Canada, and around 10 per cent in Italy and Germany.

IOWA LOSES SUIT TO COLLECT TAX ON ANNUITIES

Des Moines, Ia., March 23.—[Special.]—The state of Iowa cannot legally collect the 2½ per cent insurance tax on annunity premiums, District Judge Russell Jordan ruled here today. The decision came in a test injunction suit filed by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company.

It prevents the state from collecting approximately a quarter million dollars' revenue from this source. Attorney General Edward L. O'Connor indicated today that the state will carry the case to the Supreme court.

Judge Jordan, in his written opinion, set out that five courts in the United States have held that annuity premiums are not taxable as insurance, and said the tax was not made applicable to annuity premiums in Iowa until 1934.

Delay Hearing on Delisting Plea of Hiram Walker

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—The Securities and Exchange commission announced today that the hearing on the application of Hiram Walker-Gooderham & Worts, Ltd., to withdraw 460,818 shares of preference stock and 660,000 shares of common from listing on the Chicago Board of Trade, scheduled for tomorrow, had been postponed until April 15. The commission set April 4 for a hearing on an application by the Keystone Steel and Wire company to withdraw from listing on the Chicago Stock Exchange, 202,284 shares of common stock which is also listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

BURGESS TO MANAGE RESERVE BOARD OPEN MARKET OPERATIONS

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—W. Randolph Burgess, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, will manage the open market operations for the reserve board, it was learned here today. The appointment is expected to be announced within the next few days by the local reserve bank, which has been designated as the agent for the conducting of open market operations for the system.

W. R. BURGESS.

Burgess is regarded as well qualified to carry on the committee's work, having been secretary of the open market policy group before the personnel was revised. Furthermore, the selection of Burgess to manage the open market operations will tie in with his work in assisting the treasury department in its various borrowing and refinancing programs.

The open market committee held several conferences in Washington last week under its reconstituted status. George H. Harrison, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, has been named chairman of the group.

CREDITORS URGE ACCEPTANCE OF BID FOR GRIGSBY

Creditor committees yesterday recommended that a bid of $350,000 made by a Cincinnati group for the machinery and equipment of the bankrupt Grigsby-Grunow company at a sale before Referee Wallace Streiter be accepted. The committee, however, made the proviso that the bid be put in writing. The sale as a result of this proviso was put over until tomorrow morning.

Frank M. McKey, trustee, advised against acceptance of the bid, saying he believed that $400,000 could be obtained for the property. J. O. Carr is head of the bondholders committee and J. M. Parsons heads the unsecured creditors committee.

The bid made by the Cincinnati group did not include the real estate and accounts receivable of Grigsby Grunow. No other bid was made.

STEEL OUTPUT ESTIMATE CUT TO 53% CAPACITY

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Steel production during the current week will be at about 53 per cent of capacity, compared with 60 per cent last week and 52.9 per cent a month ago, according to the estimate made today by American Iron and Steel institute. Last year production was at about 46.1 per cent of capacity. Floods in Pittsburgh steel district and other sections of the Ohio valley are responsible for the reduced estimate.

The estimate this week covers only 87 per cent of steel making capacity, reflecting the failure of certain mills to report. Forecasts by the institute ordinarily cover 98 per cent of the industry.

Lira Declines Against Dollar; Franc Rises

Italian lire declined yesterday following Premier Mussolini's issuance of a decree nationalizing large private industries. As a result the dollar rose to a new 1936 high against the lira, which closed at 7.97 cents, off 2 points for the day.

The lira has been subject to official control, as have other leading European currencies, but yesterday's drop carried beyond such support. The French franc was weak early yesterday both in New York and London, but official support later produced a rally and the close was slightly higher at 6.61¾ cents, up ⅛ cent.

Dollar Value Lower.

This reduced the value of the dollar against francs to 100.22 cents from 100.24 cents Saturday. Other dealings in the exchange market were fairly quiet. The pound sterling was unchanged at $4.96, while Swiss francs lost 3 points and German marks 4 points. Belgas and guilders gained 1 point.

The easy tone in the franc recently is attributed to the mounting uneasiness in Europe over the French financial position. Reports from abroad indicate increased hoarding of gold and currency in France.

Also, the recent action of the chamber of deputies in increasing the treasury's debt limit by 6,625,000,000 francs to provide for possible needs in armaments has apparently aroused misgivings in financial circles there.

May Need Official Support.

The French money market is in such a state that financial authorities claim the Bank of France itself will have to subscribe to a large part of the 6,000,000,000 franc issue of treasury bills authorized last week.

The dollar continued to gain against the franc in Paris yesterday, where the franc closed at 6.611 cents against the dollar, compared with the Saturday overnight rate of 6.61875 cents.

A cable received in New York yesterday from Madrid, Spain, indicated that Spanish authorities are tightening up exchange restrictions. After April 17 all remittances of Spanish bank notes received without a certificate signed by Spanish custom house authorities will no longer be authorized by the exchange control committee to be credited in foreign accounts with Spanish banks.

BILL FOR HOME LOANS APPROVED BY HOUSE GROUP

Washington, D. C., March 23.—(AP)—The house banking committee today approved a bill to extend from April 1 to Dec. 31, 1936, the authority of the Federal Housing administration to insure loans for home modernization. It was amended to give FHA permission to gurantee loans by private institutions for construction of new homes costing up to $2,000.

The amendment was offered by Representative Dirksen [Rep., Ill.], who told reporters he believed it would be particularly valuable in permitting reconstruction in flood areas and in giving poor families an opportunity to erect low-cost dwellings.

The committee also approved a bill, passed by the senate, to continue the electric farm and home authority until next Feb. 1.

STOCKS DISPLAY STRONGER TONE; TRADING QUIET

Buoyancy in Farm Machine Shares.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—Stocks firmed perceptibly today as traders regarded outlook brighter on the home flood and foreign political fronts. Trading was quiet, but stocks improved their position in late dealings, following irregular price movements in the forenoon.

Farm implement shares and construction issues featured activity with gains in these divisions ranging from 1 to 3 points. All other classes of equities scored more moderate advances on a turnover amounting to 1,708,550 shares. Sixty-four issues touched new highs for the year.

Premier Mussolini's nationalization for all important corporations made an interesting topic for comment but failed to have any effect on the market. Developments in the Rhineland crisis were given little attention.

Steel Shares Unaffected.

Although estimates said a fall from 60 to 53 per cent will take place this week in the operating rate of the steel industry, steel shares and the industrial market in general did not seem to be downcast by the news. United States Steel, which suffered considerable damage to its plants in the inundated area, was one of the leaders in the session, moving up over a point. It is believed the damage will be more than made up for by good orders for bridge, railroad, and building construction. Bethlehem, Crucible, and Youngstown also registered gains.

In the building share list the stocks to advance over a point included Alpha Portland Cement, Fairbanks Morse, Penn Dixie Cement, General Asphalt, International Cement, Celotex, Certain-teed Products, Lehigh Cement, and A. M. Byers.

Case Is Pace Setter.

Case was the pace setter in the farm implement division, climbing to a new high of 144½ and then tapering off to close up $6.25. International Harvester, Deere, Caterpillar Tractor and Oliver Farm registered gains of 1 and 2 points.

There were a few soft spots, the most conspicuous being Adam-Millis, down over six points; National Lead, off 8¾, and Greene Copper, down 5.

Rail shares were hesitant although several gained fractions. Motor stocks rose slightly. A seldom mentioned group—the taxicab issues—showed buoyancy. Checker Cab was the star, moving up six points. Chicago Yellow Cab gained 3¼ points.

Utilities were firm. Radio shares were active with the preferred B rising over a point. American Telephone recouped a point of its recent losses. Chemicals were strong, while the oils were inclined to be irregular.

Associated Dry Goods Earns 5 Cents Per Common Share

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Net income of the Associated Dry Goods corporation for the fiscal year ended Jan. 31, 1936, was $1,234,770 after depreciation, taxes, interest, provision for federal income taxes and other changes, according to the report issued today. After allowing for dividend requirements on the first and second preferred stocks, the income was equivalent to 5 cents each on 599,400 shares of $1 par common stock. Net sales for the year were $49,221,029, an increase of 3.27 per cent over sales of $47,660,757 in the previous year.

Am. Radiator Doubles Profit in Last Year

Reporting a definite upturn in residential building in 1935, Clarence M. Woolley, president of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary company, told stockholders in the annual report issued yesterday that the construction industry faces a promising outlook.

The building that took place last year, he said, reflected a general demand for better housing, with an estimated 90 per cent of the residences erected using some form of central heating.

Profit Double Previous Year.

The company earned a profit of $2,799,000 in 1935, equal after preferred dividends to 24 cents a share on common stock. Net profit was $1,455,000, or 11 cents per share on common in the preceding year.

The trend in mortgage foreclosures, Woolley told stockholders, declined in 1935 and mortgage bond prices advanced. The money loaned on real estate by insurance companies was three times the total in 1934.

"One of the most encouraging factors in the residential building situation," he said, "is the expansion in volume of long term amortized mortgages.

Terms Trend Constructive.

"This type of financing should reduce the number of foreclosures, eliminate the expense of periodic mortgage renewals, and should tend toward a wholesome conservatism on the part of the prospective home builder. A continued growth in this method of home financing is greatly to be desired."

Woolley said business of foreign affiliated concerns held up well during the depression in the construction industry in this country. Other countries, he asserted, have appreciated more fully than the United States the steadying influence of wisely planned building programs.

"In our country," he said, "we have yet to realize the weight of these factors."

The company ended 1935 with total current assets of $63,501,000, including cash of $18,066,000, and current liabilities of $8,397,000.

CANADIAN HOUSE ADVANCES BILL FOR U. S. TREATY

OTTAWA, Ont., March 23.—(AP)—The house of commons today passed the bill to ratify the trade treaty with the United States through second reading. A last minute attack on the treaty was made by Conservative Leader R. B. Bennett.

Canada, said the Conservative leader, made a bad bargain and paid too high a price for concessions won from Washington. American benefits under the treaty were out of all proportion to benefits won by Canada, he said. He protested against anything that would make Canada less self-sufficient and anything that would close factory doors in Canada and divert orders to foreign manufacturers.

Reorganization Plan Filed for Midland Loop Property

A reorganization plan under 77B of the bankruptcy act has been filed in the United States District court in Chicago for the 168 Adams Building corporation, according to Luigi Criscuolo of 40 Wall street, New York, chairman of the protective committee for the Midland building property. The plan provides that a new corporation be organized and take title to the property. It also contemplates the court will retain jurisdiction of the new corporation to control collection and payment of taxes. A hearing on the plan will be held in the federal court on April 20.

PACIFIC GAS CO. NINETY MILLION LOAN OFFERED

Biggest Individual Issue Under SEC.

Public offering of the largest individual bond issue undertaken under the securities act of 1933 will be made today. A syndicate headed by Blythe & Co., will market $90,000,000 of Pacific Gas and Electric 3¾ per cent refunding mortgage bonds at 102½ and accrued interest.

The offering follows closely on the sale yesterday of another large bond issue—$99,422,400 general mortgage 4 per cent convertible bonds of the Great Northern railway. Railroad bond offerings are approved by the interstate commerce commission.

Other investment news included a statement that Norway expects to offer $32,000,000 of 4¼ per cent refunding bonds, due in 1965, early in April, through a banking syndicate headed by Brown, Harriman & Co., Inc. and an announcement that the $9,292,000 offering of Louisville & Nashville railroad 4 per cent refunding bonds made yesterday by Morgan Stanley & Co. moved well.

Explain Purpose of Deal.

The Pacific Gas and Electric issue consists of $90,000,000 of first and refunding mortgage bonds, series H, 3½ per cent, due Dec. 1, 1961. Proceeds, together with funds in the company's treasury, will be used for the following purposes:

To redeem on June 1, 1936, first and refunding mortgage gold bonds, series E, 4½ per cent, due June 1, 1957, at 105 and accrued interest. The amount required for this is $37,510,687.

To redeem on June 1, 1936 the first and refunding mortgage gold bonds, series F, 4½ per cent, due June 1, 1960, at 105 and accrued interest. The total amount required is $53,206,725.

To redeem on June 1, 1936, the refunding and consolidated mortgage 5 per cent sinking fund 40 year gold bonds, due Dec. 1, 1948 of the Northern California Power Company, Cons., at 110. The total amount required for this is $4,155,750.

Included with Blythe & Co. in the offering are Brown, Harriman & Co., Edward B. Smith & Co., Inc., First Boston corporation, Lazard Freres & Co., Dean Witter & Co., Bonbright & Co., H. M. Byllesby & Co., and E. H. Rollins and Sons.

Redeem Higher Rate Issue.

Proceeds from the sale of the Great Northern bonds, together with funds in the company's treasury, are being used to retire $100,766,000 general mortgage 7 per cent gold bonds, which mature July 1. The new issue is in two series, G and H. and matures July 1, 1946.

The saving to the Great Northern on interest charges from the refunding operation will be $3,000,000 annually. In addition the road will effect a saving since there is no underwriting charge by bankers.

The Western Union Telegraph company is reported to be planning the retirement of $15,000,000 of 6½ per cent bonds due Aug. 1, 1936, partly out of treasury funds and partly by a short term bank loan.

An issue of $310,000 Cook county nonhigh school district No. 216 4 per cent bonds is being offered today by H. C. Speer & Sons company. The bonds are due optionally $25,000 each year 1940 to 1950 and $35,000 in 1951. Prices range from 105.44 for 1940 maturities to 103.54 for 1951 maturities, and the yield is from 2.75 per cent to 3.70 per cent.

EXCHANGE ASKS COMPANIES GIVE FULLER REPORTS

Urges Change in Making Quarterly Statements.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—To prevent overemphasis by the public in appraising probable market values based on information from quarterly reports, the New York Stock exchange has suggested to all corporations with listed securities that henceforth earnings statements, issued every three months, cover the preceding twelve months rather than a single quarter.

This suggestion was contained in a letter addressed today to the corporations by the committee on stock list, which said that "the committee would be glad to have from you an expression as to your willingness to make the change suggested." While there is no intimation in the letter that the exchange will force the suggested change upon the corporations, the language employed is viewed as strong enough to intimate that the committee considers such action as necessary.

Urge Plan on Applicants.

On the occasion of future applications for listing the committee will not refuse to accept quarterly reports of earnings if the corporation prefers to render them, but will urge upon the companies that reports of earnings for a full year "rendered quarterly are more informative and helpful to the great mass of investors."

The growing tendency to relate price levels of securities to earnings has caused an overemphasis to be placed on the information obtained from quarterly reports, with an apparent inclination to disregard the average earnings of several years past, the committee pointed out in its letter.

The corporations were told that even the earnings of the most recent fiscal year have been disregarded, and the inclination has been to base an appraisal of probable market values upon annual earnings "estimated by multiplying the result by whatever the particular investor may think to be the proper price—earnings ratio to apply in a particular case.

Tends for Overemphasis.

"In periods of increasing corporate earnings this tends to overemphasize the improvement and may cause prices of securities to rise to improperly high levels; in periods of declining corporate earnings it tends to overemphasize the decline and may thus cause the prices of securities to drop to figures which are unwarrantedly low."

The committee is said to believe that the objections to the publication of straight quarterly earnings statements are obviated or lessened by the publication at quarterly intervals of earnings for the preceeding twelve months.

New Treasury Sells Bills at Rate of 0.118 Per Cent

Subscriptions totaling $147,495,000 were received on the 50 million dollar issue of 273 day treasury bills offered March 20, Secretary Morgenthau announced last night. The average price on the bids accepted was 99.911, representing an average rate of interest of 0.118 per cent annually on a bank discount basis.

LARD FUTURES REACH NEW HIGH ON CURRENT UPTURN

Continued short covering, based on higher prices for cash lard, and a further advance in prices at Liverpool lifted lard futures yesterday to a new high on the present upturn. While there was selling attributed to packing interests and also profit taking, the close was at net gains of 2½ to 7½ cents. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed nominally 2½ cents higher.

According to provision brokers, the arrivals of hogs at present are too small to permit any accumulation of consequence in lard stocks, and there is a fair domestic trade said to be passing in the cash lard.

Cash lard closed at $11.05 with loose and leaf $10.62 and clear bellies $14.97 per 100 pounds. Deliveries of 150,000 pounds of lard were made on March contracts. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds:

MEMBER BANKS BOOST FEDERAL BOND HOLDINGS

Reflect Government Issue of New Securities.

A sharp increase in bank holdings of government securities was shown in the report issued yesterday on the condition of reserve member banks in 101 of the principal cities of the country. The increase for the week ended March 18, during which the treasury issued its new securities, amounted to 269 million dollars. Total investments of the reporting banks in government securities now amount to 8 billion 857 million dollars, an increase of nearly a billion dollars as compared with a year ago.

Banks outside of New York and Chicago accounted for most of the increase in "governments" shown in the statement. The statements of Chicago and New York banks, issued earlier, disclosed a combined increase for the week of only 7 millions. The difference, or 262 millions, represented bonds absorbed by banks in other cities.

Tax Payments Reduce Deposits.

The statement for the 101 cities disclosed the same deposit trend shown in the earlier reports of the banks in the two largest cities. There was a reduction of 268 millions in demand deposits, reflecting withdrawals for payment of the first quarterly instalment of the 1935 income tax, due March 15. At the same time the total of government deposits rose a corresponding amount, showing a gain of 272 millions over a week earlier.

The reporting banks also increased their holdings of securities, other than government, by 43 millions. Such holdings now stand at 3 billion 265 millions, an increase of 243 millions compared with a year ago.

Commercial loans in the 101 cities rose 25 millions last week. Of the gain the Chicago and New York banks accounted for only 3 millions.

RAYON CONCERNS STUDYING PLANS TO CONSOLIDATE

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Negotiations looking to a merger of the Tubize Chatillon corporation and the Industrial Rayon corporation have been renewed, it was learned yesterday. Consolidation plans were under discussion about a year ago but nothing came of those conversations. They were resumed about a month ago.

Merger of the corporations would result in creation of the third largest rayon manufacturer in the United States. Combined capacity is estimated at 50,000,000 pounds of rayon yarn products a year. The Viscose company is the largest manufacturer with a capacity of 125,000,000 pounds, while the Du Pont Rayon company is second with about 65,000,000 pounds.

SELLING FORCES GRAIN PRICES TO NEW LOWS

Deferred Futures Hurt by Rain Forecast.

Forecasts for rain or snow over parts of the winter wheat belt and further speculative liquidation of grain contracts carried the market into new low ground on the current downturn yesterday. September wheat and corn and May and September oats sold at new lows for the season, while July wheat came within ¼ cent per bushel of seasonal minimum.

Wheat and corn closed at lows for the day with wheat off ¾ to 1¼ cents and corn ¾ cents per bushel lower. Oats rallied fractionally to close practically unchanged and rye dipped 1½ cents.

May wheat showed some resistance to pressure and was quoted at 97 cents at the close. The July and September deliveries felt the full effect of the selling.

Abandonment Unknown.

H. C. Donovan, Thomson & McKinnon crop expert, said yesterday following a trip covering western Kansas, that it is too early to tell what the abandonment of winter wheat acreage will be. Much will depend on moisture supplies, he said.

The bureau of agricultural economics after allowing for a perspective reduction in the winter wheat acreage of 15 to 20 per cent from the area seeded last fall estimates there will be 61,000,000 acres of all wheat for harvest this season, compared with 49,826,000 acres in 1935 and a 5 year average of 59,885,000 acres.

Liverpool wheat was strong early yesterday but closed fractionally lower. Spring wheat markets generally showed a heavy undertone. Shipments of durum wheat from western Canada into the United States aggregated 333,000 bushels in February and March shipments are expected to double this quantity.

Closing Prices Compared.

	Monday.	Saturday.	Week ago.
Wheat	$ .97	$ .97⅝	$ .99
Corn	.58¼	.59	.60⅝
Oats	.25⅝	.25⅝	.26⅛
Rye	.54	.55⅝	.56⅝

No improvement was shown in the shipping demand for corn and oats. The country was reported to have sold only 6,000 bushels of corn for deferred shipment to the local market. Unfavorable weather conditions prevailed in parts of Nebraska and Iowa for spring field work over the week-end, but the possibility of delayed oats seeding had no effect on the market.

DALLAS COMPANY BUYS ST. LOUIS INSURANCE FIRM

New York, March 23.—(AP)—Equity corporation, an investment company headed by David M. Milton, son-in-law of John D. Rockefeller Jr., announced today the sale of its interest in General American Life Insurance company to Southwestern Investors corporation of Dallas, Tex.

The purchase price, the announcement said, was $60 a share, "which on the part of the Equity corporation represented the gross sale price before provision for its cost, interest on the investment, and estimated taxes on the amount of the proceeds."

With consummation of the deal, it was added, Southwestern Life interests own approximately 90 per cent of the 50,000 outstanding shares of General American Life Insurance capital stock. It was also stated that Equity corporation was instrumental in the formation of the insurance company for the purpose of facilitating the rehabilitation of the former Missouri State Life Insurance company, whose business and assets, subject to a lien, were purchased by General American in September, 1933.

Palmer Asks Insurance Code to Help Illinois Companies

Enforcement of Illinois insurance laws in such a way that the prestige of the state in the insurance world will be built up to a point where Illinois companies can get their proper share of business developed in this state was demanded last night by Ernest Palmer, state superintendent of insurance. He spoke before the Chicago Life Insurance Lawyers club at the Union League club.

ERNEST PALMER.

Palmer said it was unreasonable that of $278,000,000 collected in insurance premiums in this state last year, the forty-three Illinois companies received only $12,500,000.

Urges Larger Staf.

As a step in building Illinois prestige, Palmer said, the department of insurance should have its staf doubled and it should have men, paid from $5,000 to $10,000 a year, who would be able to match wits with the ablest of insurance company officials.

"I do not believe in imposing more regulations than are necessary," Palmer said, "nor do I believe in building up unnecessary boards. But insurance is a huge business in this state and we should have a department with men capable of handling the many problems that arise.

"Last year 1,127 insurance organizations collected $419,471,000 in premiums of all kinds in this state. There were about 25,000 persons in the state licensed to sell insurance. Although the insurance departments collect more than $6,000,000 in taxes and fees annually, it spends only about $500,000."

Defends Insurance Code.

Palmer defended the insurance code prepared by his department which failed to pass by a slender margin in the state legislature. He said, however, that about one-third of the provisions included in the code have been put in the statutes.

"Insurance companies have failed in the past, not because of their conduct of their insurance business, but because of unwise or crooked handling of investments belonging to policyholders," he said in stressing the need for continued regulation.

Palmer said that with the exception of a very few weak spots, the insurance business in this state has been cleaned up.

"There is now no great danger of any important insurance company in this state going broke," he said.

Crucible Steel Charges Acts of Labor Board Are Illegal

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—The constitutional right of the national labor relations board to investigate the affairs of the Crucible Steel company was challenged today when the company answered a complaint charging violation of the national labor relations act.

In a complaint filed by Mrs. Elinor M. Herrick, regional director of the board, it was charged the company dismissed two employés in December, 1935, for union activity and that it refused to bargain collectively with the Strip Steel and Wire Workers' union. The specific defendant is the Spaulding and Jennings works of the Crucible Steel company in Jersey City.

R. E. Desvernine, counsel for the company, appeared at a hearing just long enough to inform the board that the company would regard any attempt by the board to exercise jurisdiction over its employés as an invasion of its guarantees under the fifth amendment of the constitution. The charge with reference to collective bargaining was withdrawn at the close of the hearing.

The company withdrew from the hearing as soon as it had entered its challenge of the board's jurisdiction. In identical answers to the two complaints, signed by F. B. Hupnagel, president of the company, the contention was advanced that it did not engage in interstate commerce in conducting its manufacturing business at the Jersey City plant.

OFFER NEW PLAN FOR CANADIAN NEWSPRINT FIRM

QUEBEC, Que., March 23.—[Special.]—A new plan by which a Canadian syndicate, backed by shareholders of Price Brothers & Co. and sponsored by Canadian banks, would take over the assets of the Newsprint company and relieve it from bankruptcy is scheduled to be set before the official trustee and bondholders of the company tomorrow or the next day, it is learned here today.

This new plan would mean that there is no chance of the British syndicate headed by Bowater Brothers and Lord Beaverbrook buying the Canadian company. It would also mean that Pacona Limited, the syndicate comprising Lehman Brothers, New York bankers, and the Aluminum corporation would also be left out of the reorganization plans.

GERMANY'S SHIP LINES PROPOSE CAPITAL SLASH

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, March 23.—The tremendous financial losses suffered by German shipping in recent years were revealed today with announcement of the long awaited financial reorganization plan for both the Hamburg-American and the North German Lloyd companies. This plan provides for a new slash in both companies' capital stock to one-fifth of its present nominal value and to about 7 per cent of its nominal value in 1932.

According to the information issued today, this financial reorganization is as follows:

The North German Lloyd will reduce its capital stock from 54,500,000 to 11,530,000 marks, which compares with 165,000,000 marks in 1932. Simultaneously it will issue new stock of a nominal value of 34,360,000 marks. The new stock will be accepted by creditors at par to pay back debts which the last report issued for 1933 listed at 84,270,000 marks.

The Hamburg-American line will reduce its capital stock from 54,570,000 to 12,010,000 marks, which compares with 161,400,000 marks in 1933, and will issue new stock with a value of 34,360,000 marks to pay bank debts which, according to its report for 1933, amounted to 11,370,000 marks.

The gas properties include about 640 miles of transmission lines (including a pipe line from natural gas fields about 200 miles south of San Francisco to various points in the distribution system), about 6,800 miles of distribution lines and 15 artificial gas plants, most of which are used as stand-by plants. * The Company has agreed with a subsidiary to pay the interest on $12,000,000 bonds of which $11,000,000 are included in this table under Bonds of subsidiary companies, and $1,000,000 are held in the treasury of the Company or pledged under an underlying mortgage and not included in this table.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The estimated net proceeds to the Company from the sale of the Series H Bonds will be $90,033,677.50 (exclusive of accrued interest, but after deducting estimated expenses in connection with such sale). Such net proceeds will be applied to the redemption on June 1, 1936, of $34,975,000 First and Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds, Series E, 4½%, due June 1, 1957, at 105% and interest, $49,610,000 First and Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds, Series F, 4½%, due June 1, 1960, at 105% and interest, and $3,694,000 Northern California Power Company, Consolidated, Refunding and Consolidating Mortgage Five Per Cent. Sinking Fund Forty-Year Gold Bonds, due December 1, 1948, at 110% and interest, (which latter are included in Underlying Bonds in the table of Capitalization). The additional amount required for such redemptions (principal, premium and interest) is estimated to be $4,839,485 and will be obtained from treasury funds.

CONSOLIDATED EARNINGS: From the Financial Statements filed with the Registration Statement it appears that for the years 1933, 1934, and 1935 consolidated gross income, including certain gas revenues in dispute, after deduction of all operating expenses and provision for depreciation but before Federal Income tax, was respectively 2.21, 2.34, and 2.61 times the aggregate of all interest charges, amortization of bond discount and expense, and dividends on preferred stocks of subsidiaries held by the public and that, excluding the computed amounts of such gas revenues in dispute, such consolidated gross income was respectively 2.16, 2.22, and 2.46 times such charges, amortization and dividends.

SERIES H BONDS: The Series H Bonds, which are authorized but unissued, will be issued under the First and Refunding Mortgage of the Company and Mt. Shasta Power Corporation. The latter is in process of dissolution and has transferred its properties to the Company. The Mortgage is, in the opinion of counsel for the Company, a first lien on the properties so transferred (net depreciated value on books of Company about $34,000,000) and a junior lien on substantially all other properties of the Company and on the capital stocks of certain of its subsidiaries, subject to the liens so far as they attach, of mortgages securing various issues of underlying bonds of which $48,712,000 were outstanding in the hands of the public on December 31, 1935.

$198,882,000 First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds of other series were outstanding on December 31, 1935. The Mortgage permits the issuance of additional First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds of Series H or other series for various purposes, provided that the aggregate amount outstanding and reserved shall not exceed $500,000,000 unless and until the authorized bonded indebtedness of the Company is increased in accordance with law. All series of First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds are equally secured by the lien of the Mortgage.

The Mortgage permits, without notice to the Bondholders, the release, under certain conditions, of properties covered thereby, including the capital stocks of subsidiaries pledged thereunder, if the properties of such subsidiaries are conveyed to the Company and subjected to the lien of the Mortgage.

The Mortgage provides for semi-annual sinking fund payments in substance amounting to ½% of the bonded indebtedness of the Company (as defined in the Mortgage) less certain credits, chiefly payments made for sinking funds of underlying mortgages. The total sinking fund payment in 1933 was $199,983, in 1934 no payment was required or made, and in 1935 such payment was $735,525. Sinking fund moneys are applied to the purchase or redemption of First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds of such series as may be directed by the Company. The Mortgage also provides that under certain circumstances the Company shall make certain payments to a General Reserve Fund, which may be applied to various purposes, including the purchase of First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds. No payments have ever been made into the General Reserve Fund.

OTHER INFORMATION: Other information concerning the Company set forth in the Registration Statement and Offering Prospectus includes, among other things, statements concerning Boulder Dam, the Central Valley Project, competition of public agencies including certain pending or threatened condemnation proceedings, the Hetch-Hetchy power project and the plan for the purchase by San Francisco of part of the distribution system in that City, earthquakes, foreign currency bonds, the Federal Public Utility Act, and the proposed dissolution of certain subsidiaries.

UNDERWRITING: Subject to approval of counsel and to certain other terms and conditions, the Underwriters named in the Offering Prospectus have severally agreed to purchase the Series H Bonds from the Company, for delivery and payment on or about March 31, 1936, at 100½% or a total of $90,450,000, plus accrued interest. Such Bonds are to be offered to the public at 102½%, or a total of $92,250,000, plus accrued interest. The underwriting discounts are 2% or a total of $1,800,000.

Offering Price: 102½% and accrued interest

Further information, in particular financial statements, is contained in the Registration Statement on file with the Commission, and in the Offering Prospectus which must be furnished to each purchaser and is obtainable only from such of the undersigned as are registered dealers in securities in this State.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 23.—Gains of a point or so by a number of industrial and railroad issues were the feature today of trading in the bond market. Trading generally was slow.

The bonds of cement companies were singled out for special attention today and responded to a brisk demand which carried International Cement 4s up 7 points and Penn-Dixie Cement 6s up 2½ points. The speculative appeal of those issues is attributed to the expectation of increased business in repairing damage caused by the recent floods.

Other Industrials Higher.

Other conspicuously strong spots in the industrial list included Allis Chalmers 4s, American Type Founders 6s, Auburn Auto 4¾s, Colorado Industrial 5s, and Universal Pipe and Radiator, all of which scored gains ranging from 1⅝ to 4 points. Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron 5s and Interlaken Iron 5s were also well taken at advances of 4 and 2½ points, respectively.

Rail liens were quiet and mixed, with a further recovery of fractions to 1⅝ points in the issues of Baltimore and Ohio railroad featuring that group. Publicity issues were in good demand at higher levels.

Federal Issues Quiet.

Trading in United States government loans dropped below $1,000,000 today, with prices showing only slight changes. At the end of the day the group showed gains of 1 to 5-32 and declines of 1 to 3-32 point.

Italian dollar obligations worked moderately higher on a fair turnover, gains ranging from fractions to 1½ points. Other foreign issues were quiet and steady.

The trading pace was slightly below the average for last week, sales amounting to $10,275,000, compared wtih $15,121,900 last Friday.

Arkansas Power and Light.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me information on Arkansas Power and Light 5s, due 1956?—P. A. A.

Answer: Arkansas Power and Light company is an operating subsidiary of Electric Power and Light corporation. It supplies electricity to 236 Arkansas communities, including Little Rock and Pine Bluff, and some gas, water, ice, and transportation service.

Gross revenues in 1935 were less than in 1934, but a substantial reduction in operating costs enabled the company to increase the margin by which fixed charges were earned. In 1934 gross increased over 1933, but most of the increase was absorbed by higher operating costs and taxes.

Gross revenues for the 12 months to Nov. 30, 1935, were $7,239,000 and fixed charges were covered 1.53 times. The 1934 calendar year gross was $7,407,000, against $6,990,000 in 1933 and $7,601,000 in 1932. Fixed charges in 1934 were earned 1.41 times, against 1.37 times in 1933, 1.91 times in 1932, and 2.46 times in 1931.

On Dec. 31, 1934, current assets were $2,687,000 and current liabilities $2,522,000.

The $35,000,000 of first and refunding 5s, due 1956, are secured by a first mortgage on all assets of the company, subject to $1,017,500 prior liens. The bonds are callable at 105 to Sept. 1, 1936, the call price then decreasing to maturity. They are a business man's risk.

Buckeye Pipe Line.

Investors' Guide: Please give me information about Buckeye Pipe Line.—D. J.

Answer: Buckeye Pipe Line company operates an extensive network of pipe lines across the state of Ohio, running north into Trenton, Mich. It receives oil from Kansas, Oklahoma, and Indiana oil fields.

Pipe line deliveries during 1935 fell off a fraction. They totaled 32,032,519 barrels, against 32,627,111 barrels in 1934. Operating revenues likewise fell off to $2,643,000 from $2,790,000 in 1934 and net income was $550,000, or $2.75 a share, against $604,000, or $3.02 a share, for 1934. In 1933 net income was $559,000, or $2.79 a share, against $738,000 for 1932.

Current assets of $1,021,000 were just about twice current liabilities of $516,000 on Dec. 31, 1935. There is no funded debt. Capitalization consists of 20,000 shares of $50 par stock on which dividends of 75 cents a quarter are being paid.

STREETERVILLE PROPERTY SOLD TO REALTY TRUST

New Group Purchases Old Bendix Holding.

BY AL CHASE.

One of Streeterville's best known properties—the northeast corner of Delaware place and Seneca street—was purchased yesterday by a newly formed syndicate known as the Real Estate trust, from the Kaspar State bank. Hogan & Farwell, Inc., represented both parties.

According to the revenue stamps on the deed filed for record at the county recorder's office, the new owners paid $88,000 all cash for the property. The land was purchased by Vincent Bendix from Samuel Cole in 1929 for $320,000. It was subsequently acquired by the Kaspar State bank.

Property Improved.

The property, which is diagonally across from the Casino club and opposite the College club, fronts 150 feet on Delaware place and 108 feet on Seneca street. It contains a total of 16,200 square feet. It is improved with a three story apartment building designed by Chatten & Hammond, architects, and constructed by Hugh McLennan & Co. The building contains six 8-room suites and three of 7 rooms, each with three baths.

Hogan & Farwell announced yesterday that as renting and managing agents for the property they have started a modernization program of the entire building. Walter Frazier, of Frazier & Raftery, architects, is in charge of the rejuvenation plans. Among other changes will be a new, modern lobby.

Buy Industrial Building.

The American Oak Leather company, which has occupied under lease the seven story building at 350 West Ontario street since 1923, yesterday purchased the property from Lucas I. Butts and the Estate of Rosa Bauer Butts. According to revenue stamps on the deed the company paid $106,500, of which $42,500 was cash and $64,000 a mortgage assumed by the buyer.

According to an official of the company, the purchase will be followed by an extensive modernization program of the entire plant at a later date. The property is 75x100, and is 100 feet west of Orleans street.

Shields & Co., investment brokers, now in the Bankers building, has leased larger quarters on the second floor of the Field building, at the Adams-La Salle corner, and will occupy these air conditioned offices on July 1.

ILLINOIS WOMAN ASGS COURT RULE ON DEBT PAYMENT

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—A writ of certiorari filed in behalf of an Oak Park, Ill., woman property owner today asked the Supreme court to determine the requisite for relief under the debt extension section of the federal bankruptcy act. It was said the case would affect numerous similar actions pending in Illinois courts that involve many million dollars' worth of property.

Attorneys for the petitioner, Mrs. Lyda Glenn Van Doren, owner of a 22 apartment building at 419 South boulevard, Oak Park, asked the review on the ground that section 74 of the bankruptcy act virtually had been nullified by the Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago. It was claimed that a ruling by the high court was necessary because lower courts conflicted in decisions in similar cases.

Mrs. Van Doren offered a debt extension plan which was approved by a majority of her creditors and was confirmed by Judge John P. Barnes in the federal district court at Chicago. The confirmation ruling was reversed by the Appeals court, however, upon appeal by the Oak Park Trust and Savings bank, which held a first mortgage on the property.

Attorneys for Mrs. Van Doren said the appellate decision held, in effect, that she had not, but should have, guaranteed back taxes and sundry claims from a source other than the income of the building involved. The lawyers asserted she had no other source of income and that if she had the extension debt plan would have been unnecessary.

COTTON RESISTS DECLINE ABROAD; PRICES IRREGULAR

Trade in cotton yesterday was limited slightly, although the market showed stubborn resistance to a decline in Liverpool. Trade buying offset pool selling of March cotton in New York, but there was little interest taken in the new crop months, and operators continued to stand on the sidelines awaiting further developments at Washington. Closing trades in Chicago were unchanged to 3 points lower and in other markets they were 2 points higher to 4 points lower. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent.]

Spot cotton closed unchanged with New Orleans at 11.55 cents, Houston and New York 11.45 cents, and Galveston 11.40 cents per pound. Prices in cents per pound:

MARCH BUTTER ADVANCES; EGG FUTURES GAIN ¼ CENT

The possibility of increased shipments of butter to the east and the failure of receipts to show any gain as compared with a week ago caused shorts to cover yesterday and lifted March contracts ½ cent to 30¼ cents per pound. Sales of futures aggregated 70 cars. Spot prices were unchanged to ¼ cent per pound lower.

Egg futures advanced ¼ cent to 21⅞ cents per dozen for October contracts on scattered buying. According to the department of agriculture, the number of laying hens and pullets in farm flocks belonging to crop reporters on March 1 indicated production was somewhat below last year and the five year average. Sales of futures were 13 cars. Prices follow:

BETTER DEMAND, LIGHT RECEIPTS LIFT HOG PRICES

Lamb Trend Irregular; Cattle Advance.

Lighter receipts and broader eastern demand yesterday lifted hogs 10 to 15 cents above the close of last week and to the highest levels in more than a month. Selected 185 pound new crop hogs reached $11, the top for the day and 15 cents above the highest sale of last week. The average price for the session moved up 10 cents to $10.50.

A better outlet for pork in Chicago contributed to the competition for lightweights. Top light loins here sold as high as $22 per hundred pounds, the highest since Feb. 19.

Reports that flood waters were receding in the northeast encouraged heavier buying by shippers although outlet to the east was below normal.

Receipts Decline Sharply.

Receipts at practically all leading packing centers declined, ten markets reporting a total of 62,000 hogs, a decline of 11,000 from last week. The Chicago run totaled 16,000 head, the smallest for a Monday in three weeks.

Most selected 140 to 250 pound hogs brought $10.60 to $10.90, stock under 200 pounds outselling other weights. Best grade 275 to 300 pound butchers were traded at $10.25 to $10.40, one lot of prime 273 pounders reaching $10.55, while $10 to $10.25 was paid for the best 325 to 350 pound butchers. Sows weighing 300 to 500 pounds ranged from $9.50 to $9.75, as demand for lard hogs was again brisk.

Fifty-five carloads of slaughter lambs were offered for sale yesterday. Light and handyweights brought steady to strong prices, while heavy stock showed a slightly weaker tendency.

Price Best in Month.

City butchers and shippers paid as high as $10.50 for prime 90 pound Nebraska stock, equaling the highest sale here since Feb. 13. Packers bought 85 to 102 pound stock largely at $9.85 to $10.25. Farmers took out a few 79 pound shearing lambs at $9.50.

Cattle gained 15 to 25 cents with practically all classes sharing in the rise. A load of heavy steers brought $11.75, the day's highest price, and most steers sold at $7.75 to $10.75.

Advances in wholesale beef prices partly offset the effect of higher live costs. Hefers led the rise in butcher stock, most sales showing a gain of 25 cents. Bulls advanced 10 to 25 cents. Calves sold 25 cents higher.

FRUIT, VEGETABLE SHIPPERS WORK FOR STABILITY

A program to bring about greater stability and economy in fresh fruit and vegetable marketing was considered by the executive committee of the American Fruit and Vegetable Shippers' association, meeting in the Palmer house yesterday.

Two investigations were decided upon, one to determine the effect of independent motor truck movement upon distribution and prices, and the other to seek methods of reducing terminal marketing costs, said Edward S. Briggs, manager of the association.

MEAT IMPORTS SET NEW PEAK FOR JANUARY

Increase Despite Drop in U. S. Prices.

January imports of live stock and meat products soared to new highs for the month despite a decline in American prices for live stock and meat following imposition of lower tarif rates which went into effect Jan. 1. The import duty reduction on foreign cattle and calves was sufficient to offset lower prices in this country, so that foreign farmers continued to sell here in volume.

A total of 751,277 pounds of beef was imported during January, compared with 287,978 pounds last year. Pork imports soared to 2,250,389 pounds, or almost double the December total, compared with 264,539 pounds a year ago.

Canned Meats Increase.

Canned meat imports amounted to 7,663,159 pounds, compared with 4,155,263 pounds in 1935. Beef and mutton tallow imports declined to 8,828,063 pounds in January, against 14,687,000 pounds a year ago, the highest on record for January in recent years.

Live cattle imports rose to 21,772 head, compared with 6,103 a year ago. Live hogs imported aggregated 647,270 pounds. No hogs were imported in January last year.

Comparative Figures.

Imports of live hogs, meats, and meat products in thousands of pounds, and cattle, sheep, and horses in thousands of head, follow:

STUDEBAKER
SALES COMPANY OF CHICAGO
Offers a Special Selling of
"Winter-Cured" Cars

Cars that are kept outside during the cold winter months cannot give you good performance now. The motors and parts deteriorate and rust. All cars offered by the Studebaker Sales Company of Chicago have been kept in steam heated showrooms during the winter. During the slack winter season all Studebaker's mechanics were kept busy reconditioning, rechecking and renewing these autos —so now they're all ready to go and give you new car satisfaction today. They are truly "Winter-cured" cars.

THE BIGGEST SALE
In Studebaker's history is now in full swing. Two big floors full of late model cars, Fords, Chevs., Plymouths, Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles, Buicks, Studebakers, etc. The boss says—"We will give every one an opportunity to get in on this exceptional sale at the same time. I've set aside the next 30 days to move out the entire stock at one time. First come, first served."

PRICES LOW AS $65 EACH for a fine running, good looking car that will give you heaps of satisfaction. 5 days' driv. trial. Liberal trades, terms.

A Low Cost

Financing
Plan

Why make a good deal on a car new or used only to be penalized by high financing charges?

We have broken down the barriers of tradition and have ushered in a new era of sensible rates for cars bought on time payments. These new rates apply on used car sales, new car sales or a loan on your present car.

No mystery charges, no extra fees. You simply make a reasonable down payment when you buy, and we finance the balance. Here are typical examples of the low cost under our plan:

$100	$12.08	$112.08	$ 9.34
200	19.00	219.00	18.25
300	23.04	323.04	26.92
400	29.00	429.00	35.75
500	35.08	535.08	44.59

Only Fire and Theft Insurance Required.
Buy It Through Your Own Broker and Include the Premium in the Loan.
